MEXICO WARNED OIL FUSS PERILS U. S. FRIENDSHIP

Welles Demands an Early Settlement.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles warned Mexico, in a formal statement today, that the controversy over the confiscated American oil properties is threatening the friendly relations between the two countries.

Sumner Welles.

Welles issued his statement after conferring separately with Donald R. Richberg, counsel for the oil operators, and Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican ambassador. Negotiations between Mexico and the oil companies were suspended last Friday when Najera announced that the "intransigeant" [uncompromising] attitude of the American owners relieved the Mexican government of further responsibility.

Holds Mexico Responsible.

"Discontinuance of the present discussions can of course in no sense relieve the Mexican government of its obligations to make prompt, adequate and effective compensation for the petroleum properties which have been taken, if the expropriation is to be regarded as valid," Welles said.

"It is of course evident that a solution of this controversy must be found in accordance with the basic principles of international law, as this government invariably has insisted at every step of the present negotiations.

"A continuance of the dispute not only will dislocate still further beneficial commercial relations between Mexico and the United States, with great economic losses to both countries, but more important still, it will constitute a material barrier to the maintenance of a friendly understanding between Mexico and the United States."

Oil Companies Rebuked.

Welles disclosed for the first time that the state department was the author of a proposed plan of settlement which the oil companies rejected. For this he rebuked the oil companies, reminding them that they were expected to "give the most attentive consideration to all constructive proposals" advanced to effect a fair settlement.

Informally, he said, the state department proposed that the boards of directors be composed of nine persons, three to be appointed by Mexico, three to be appointed by the oil companies, and three to be selected from a panel of nine neutrals drawn up in mutual agreement by Mexico and the United States.

While Welles was warning that the oil confiscation dispute might disrupt the friendly relations between the two countries, inquiries at the treasury department disclosed that the United States still is buying all the silver that Mexico offers for sale.

Policy of Caution.

The administration has proceeded with extreme caution in the Mexican oil controversy since the properties were confiscated by the Cardenas régime in March, 1938.

Conflicting considerations have contributed to the administration's embarrassment. Above all, the administration has been reluctant to permit any dispute over commercial interests to jeopardize its "good neighbor" policy toward Latin America.

On the other hand, the administration has not wanted to encourage widespread seizures of American properties by other Latin American countries lest it produce a domestic reaction against the "good neighbor" policy. There is the further consideration that Great Britain has dealt firmly with Mexico since the oil properties of her nationals were confiscated. Great Britain took the drastic step of severing diplomatic relations with Mexico, but has made no progress toward obtaining a settlement.

Mexico has been bartering the confiscated oil for German goods, and this has resulted in charges that the "good neighbor" policy is playing into the hands of Dictator Hitler.

THANKSGIVING IS MOVED UP WEEK BY ROOSEVELT

Explains Merchants Wanted Change.

CAMPOBELLO ISLAND, N. B., Aug. 14 [Special].—President Roosevelt announced at his mother's summer home here today that he will proclaim Thanksgiving day on the next to the last Thursday instead of the last Thursday of November this year. This will bring the holiday on Nov. 23 instead of Nov. 30. There are five Thursdays in November this year.

The President said his decision to move the holiday ahead a week was because of complaints he had heard in the last six years from stores and working people.

The stores, he explained, complained because of the short time for merchandising between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and the workers complained of the long time between Labor day and Thanksgiving day.

Tuesday Suggestion Discarded.

In 1935 President Roosevelt laughed off a suggestion by a commission he had appointed to save the fishing industry that Thanksgiving day be proclaimed on Tuesdays. The commission recommended the change, members told the President, because turkey left over from Thursday Thanksgivings interfered with the sale of fish on Fridays.

Thanksgiving day is not a statutory holiday. It is created annually by the proclamation of the President and of the governors of the states.

First official observance of Thanksgiving in the United States was in response to a proclamation by George Washington in 1789. He set the day for Thursday, Nov. 26, in response to a joint resolution adopted by congress. He proclaimed the next Thanksgiving in 1795.

Custom Since Civil War.

By custom the last Thursday in November has been proclaimed the holiday for the last seventy-five years. During this period the holiday has fallen on the fifth Thursday—the thirtieth day of the month—only nine times.

If President Roosevelt carries out his announced plan, he not only will void most of the 1939 calendars printed a year in advance, but he will upset holiday plans throughout the nation, made far in advance.

GRID SCHEDULES UPSET

One of the worst confusions which will result from President Roosevelt's decision to move Thanksgiving day up to Nov. 23 will be in football schedules and protests were rising from schools in Chicago and throughout the country last night. Many schools outside the Big Ten conference schedule their most important games on the holiday. Big Ten regulations close the season the Saturday before Thanksgiving.

If the Thanksgiving games are moved up to Nov. 23, the teams will be forced to play two games in three days if scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 25, and three games in seven days if also scheduled for Nov. 18. Big school football schedules are arranged by contract from one to five years in advance, on the assumption that Thanksgiving day will be the last Thursday in November.

"The decision will not make any difference in our schedule," said Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Big Ten, last night. "Of course we'll be violating our rule requiring us to end our season the Saturday before Thanksgiving, but that rule is based on Thanksgiving being the last Thursday in November. We will close our season two days after Thanksgiving."

Some of Games Affected.

Games in the middle west scheduled for a Nov. 30 Thanksgiving include Missouri at Kansas; Washington U. at St. Louis U.; Western Reserve at Case; Miami [O.] at Cincinnati U.; Ohio Wesleyan at Dayton, and Washburn at Wichita.

St. Louis U. is scheduled to meet South Dakota on Nov. 24. If the traditional intra-city game with Washington U. is moved up to Nov. 23, the Billikens will have to play two games in two days.

E. J. Wilson, athletic director of Miami, O., U., was the only football man found last night who welcomed the proposed change—and with good reason.

Wilson explained that Miami has been playing in Cincinnati for years, but the Cincinnati team looks too

Man Who Stole Louvre Picture Jailed; Praised

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 14.—Praise and enthusiasm for the way he restored the famous Watteau portrait "L'Indifferent," which he had stolen from the Louvre because he wanted to bring back "its original glory," tonight rang in the ears of a slim young Russian artist.

Serge Bogouslavsky, the 25 year old artist who walked off with the 8 by 10 inch painting two months ago, brought it to police today restored to its original hues and in a new frame. He was arrested and charged with theft, but the experts who examined the returned picture were unanimous in declaring that it was not only the original but an "actually improved" portrait.

Disgusted with Retouchers.

Bogouslavsky, who told police and art experts he was "disgusted with the way museum officials touched up great masterpieces," performed a delicate job in removing the top coating of varnish and a diabolo which a previous restorer had painted in to explain the position of the hands of the seventeenth century cavalier who posed for the painting.

It was not until the experts had gone over the painting minutely that they discovered it had a new frame. Asked why the original had been taken off, Bogouslavsky replied: "It was in bad taste. I burned it."

The youthful artist, whose home is a bare garret studio, told police he had originally planned to return the $200,000 painting to the Louvre along with a manuscript he had prepared protesting the way "old masters are mistreated" and then commit suicide.

Explains Act.

"I am a great admirer of eighteenth century painters, particularly Watteau," he told police. "For more than a year I plotted to steal 'L'Indifferent' in order to effect the restorations effected on his picture several years ago. I considered that certain parts have been retouched in a very unfortunate manner, notably the face, the left leg, and the coat.

"Accordingly, during my last fifteen visits to the Louvre I gave a twist each time to the wire holding the picture to the wall. On the day chosen, that is June 11, I had no trouble breaking it loose.

"Since then, until today, I kept the picture in my room and there I carried out certain respectful restorations which I considered indispensable. I have brought out certain details which have hitherto not been noticed."

Yuma, Ariz., Aug. 14 (AP).—Janet Gaynor, auburn haired film star, and Gilbert Adrian, studio fashion designer, were married today by Justice of the Peace Ed M. Winn. The couple arrived from Los Angeles by automobile. Witnesses at the ceremony, performed in a hotel, were Clifford Mogal, Miss Gaynor's chauffeur, and Larry Barbier, assistant publicity director at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios where Adrian heads the costume department.

The bride gave her age as 30, five years younger than Adrian. The couple left at once by train for Mexico City and a one month honeymoon. Miss Gaynor's first marriage to Lydell Peck, Oakland, Cal., ended in a 1934 divorce. Adrian has not been married before.

"Maybe yes, maybe no," the bride replied when asked if she would continue her screen career.

New York Judge Fined $100 on Canadian Trafic Charge

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GRAVEHURST, Ont., Aug. 14.—Judge Alonzo G. Hinkley of Buffalo, N. Y., who is 62 years old and the second oldest judge on the bench of the New York Supreme court, pleaded guilty here today to a charge of dangerous driving and was sentenced to pay $100 and costs or do ten days hard labor. The judge's car figured in an accident in which three persons suffered minor injuries. He said he was pleading guilty merely as a matter of expediency.

Trades Nine Hives of Bees for Cow; Stung To-Boot

Mullens, W. Va., Aug. 14 (AP).—Bill Tunmire traded his nine hives of bees for a cow—and got stung plenty. The lid was knocked off the hives while Tunmire was delivering them in a wagon. The bees buzzed out and settled on the horses. The horses ran away and the wagon plunged down a 75 foot embankment. Tunmire said he was stung at least 75 times.

Miss Kennedy to Wed Titled Briton, Report

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Kathleen Kennedy, 18 year old daughter and sometimes hostess for American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, tonight was reported secretly engaged to marry the marquess of Hartington, 21 years old and heir to the vast estates and comfortable fortune of the duke of Devonshire.

None of the Kennedys would discuss the report and the duchess of Devonshire flatly denied it. Mayfair gossips insisted, however, that there is an understanding between the young couple and that an interesting announcement may be expected at the marquess' coming of age party tomorrow.

Aunt Was Adele Astaire.

The dukes of Devonshire before the war were rated among the wealthiest families of the British nobility. Their landholdings alone exceeded 180,000 acres. In 1926, however, Chatsworth house and other estates were turned over to a corporation to escape tax burdens.

Hartington's uncle Charles is the husband of Adele Astaire, sister and former dancing partner of Fred Astaire, one-time Omaha brewer's son and American star of stage and screen.

The adventurous Kathleen has been rushed by most of the eligible bachelors of the British nobility since her multi-millionaire father became ambassador to the court of St. James. When she went to England she was supposed to have a romantic interest in Pete Grace Jr., son of the chairman of the board of the Grace Lines and announcement of her engagement to him was expected almost any day.

Recently Toured Spain.

But that was before she was presented at King George's court and began to go about with the 24 year old earl of Macduff, son of Princess Arthur of Connaught and great grandson of Queen Victoria.

Then she began going places with the marquess of Hartington and the marquess of Granby, tall, dark, and handsome son of the duke of Rutland.

More recently Kathleen and her brother, Joe Kennedy Jr., have been on a tour of Spain. When her mother is not in England, Kathleen serves as her father's hostess at the American embassy in London, thus filling, despite her youth, one of the most important social positions among the diplomatic corps in the British capital.

G-Men Probe Attack on Two Ship Officers

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14 [Special].—Federal bureau of investigation agents today opened an investigation into an assault on two American President line's ship officers, which steamship company spokesmen said indicated a conspiracy by unionized seamen to victimize American lines through harassment of officers.

The attack took place aboard the American President liner President Hayes. Thomas Kelleher and William Crouch, members of the sailors union of the Pacific, beat Chief Engineer James Fay and Second Assistant Chief Engineer Claude Gardner. The two seamen are awaiting trial at Balboa, Panama Canal Zone.

Visitors Barred During Quiz.

No visitors were allowed aboard the ship at Los Angeles harbor for five hours this morning, when Commander N. E. Merrill, senior nautical expert of the United States bureau of marine inspection and navigation, accompanied by federal agents, questioned crew members and officers about the incident. Merrill is acting under orders from Washington.

A charge that the case was more than a mere outbreak of ill will among crew members was made by Reginald S. Laughlin, general counsel for the steamship company. He said he will seek to determine whether the assault is a part of a conspiracy by union groups against the American President and other lines under the American flag.

Inquire Into Sailors' Boasts.

Laughlin said he would investigate charges by other officers of the President Hayes that Kelleher and Crouch announced during the cruise from New York to the Canal Zone that they had been "put here to clean up the ship." He said he would inquire into reports that several crew members had refused—when asked—to go to the belabored engineers' aid during the fracas.

Commander Merrill said he would decide, after telephoning Washington, whether to hold a marine tribunal.

WOMAN CALLED WITCH OUSTED BY VOTE OF CLUB

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 14 (AP).—A tale of witchcraft and a dramatic community meeting at which an accused woman was expelled from a racial society stirred Omaha's Italian colony today.

The auxiliary voted 58 to 28 to expel the woman after hearing Alfio Laferia, president of the Societta Risveglia Italo Americano, assert that another woman believed her flesh was melting away because she had been bewitched.

"Laugh if you will, but 70 per cent of our people who come from the old country believe in malaria [witchcraft]," Laferia declared. "We of the younger generation know it's foolishness."

At the hearing, attended by 150 women, the accused woman screamed denials.

Stork and Burglar Rob Policeman of His Sleep

Houston, Tex., Aug. 14 (AP).—Clyde Robertson, rookie policeman, was late for work today. He had been robbed of his sleep, he said, explaining: He rushed his wife to a hospital at 2 a. m., a burglar stole $42 from beneath his pillow at 3 a. m., a stork stole in and left a baby girl with his wife at 6:45 a. m. The chief excused him.

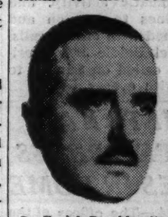
GERMANY, ITALY SEEK A 30 DAY TRUCE IN CRISIS

Want League Agent to Mediate Row.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Germany's claim to the Free City of Danzig rapidly is approaching a showdown, according to reports which spread through Europe today.



Dr. Karl J. Burckhardt

Reports of peace moves in the dispute which has threatened to plunge Europe into war emanated from Berlin and Rome, the axis partners. They were:

FIRST—Italy and Germany are ready to meet with Great Britain and France to discuss settlement of the Danzig crisis in an attempt to find a solution that will satisfy German honor.

SECOND—Advices from Berlin that Adolf Hitler and Dr. Karl J. Burckhardt, league of nations high commissioner in Danzig, had conferred over the week-end on a proposal to negotiate the quarrel.

Another "Munich" Seen.

Although the governments of Britain, France, Germany, Italy, and Poland maintained silence, diplomats in London quickly interpreted the reports as a German and Italian scheme to lure Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Britain and Premier Edouard Daladier of France into a new "Munich policy."

They recalled that Britain, France, Germany, and Italy met at Munich last Sept. 30 and decided to dismember Czecho-Slovakia to appease Hitler.

The report that Germany and Italy would like to meet Britain and France around another conference table came from Rome, although it was lacking in confirmation.

A 3 Point Scheme.

The scheme was said to cover three points:

1.—A thirty-day truce in which no power would make any move while the parley was being organized by the foreign ministers of Berlin, Rome, London, and Paris.

2.—Britain, which has guaranteed Poland's security, would forward recommendations of the conference to the Polish government. Britain also would ask Warsaw if it would accept and abide by the solution.

3.—If Poland accepted the solution, the truce would be extended so that other political problems in Europe could be considered. It was said that this proposal would include Italy's territorial claims on France.

A report from Paris said Pope Pius XII. has been, or will be, approached by the German and Italian governments to call the four power conference.

In Berlin there were reports that Burckhardt, the league commissioner, might serve as possible mediator in Germany's quarrel with Poland.

May Sound Out London.

Burckhardt, a Swiss educator, returned to Danzig after his conference with Hitler at Berchtesgaden, Bavaria. He said his discussions in Germany were concerned only with the Polish-Danzig customs dispute.

Following his departure from Germany, it was reported that the league commissioner was planning to go to London to discuss plans for a peaceful settlement with Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary.

British officials declined to discuss the reported peace moves. They admitted, however, that Burckhardt had informed them of Hitler's invitation to visit him in Bavaria.

There were indications that the Nazis hoped Burckhardt in his conversations with German, British, and Polish statesmen would bring about a favorable solution from the German point of view.

Believe Plan Approved.

This solution would include Germany's absorption of Danzig without war and Poland's cession of a strip of land through the Polish corridor linking East Prussia with Germany proper.

Some Germans said they believed Hitler, Foreign Minister Colonel Josef Beck of Poland, and Albert Forster, Danzig Nazi leader, already had approved such a plan as a basis for discussion.

It was known that Burckhardt, following his conference with Hitler

Await Burckhardt's Return.

"The Fuehrer's next step will depend upon what Burckhardt brings back with him in the next few days from his talks with Halifax," Nazi party circles were quoted as saying.

Berlin political sources intimated that Hitler does not want to go to war and gladly would accept a solution "satisfying German honor."

The Nazis suggested Beck was ready to compromise because he realizes Poland's dangerous situation. They also argued that England probably would support a peaceful settlement because she is not ready to fight.

Diplomatic quarters in Berlin said Burckhardt enjoys the confidence of both the German and Polish governments. They said he is excellently qualified to act as mediator.

Envoys Call on Beck.

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 14 (AP).—Reports of new efforts to find a peaceful solution of the grave quarrel between Germany and Poland over Danzig gained strength here tonight with the announcement that Foreign Minister Josef Beck had conferred with Howard Kennard, British ambassador, Leon Noel, French ambassador, and Filippo Contesi, papal nuncio to Poland.

Various rumors of peace moves persisted despite an official denial through the Polish telegraph agency that Poland is in any way involved in proposals or counterproposals toward a compromise or peace plan.

Called "Propaganda Move."

Responsible Polish quarters described as a "propaganda move by Hitler" the visit to Adolf Hitler by Karl J. Burckhardt, league of nations high commissioner in Danzig.

These same circles were tightlipped regarding the theory that Burckhardt, having talked with Hitler, now might provide a point of contact between Poland and Germany.

Nevertheless, there were evidences of intense diplomatic activity, and long distance lines to London and Paris were jammed with official calls.

ITALY LIFTS BAN ON UNITED PRESS OFFICES IN ROME

ROME, Aug. 14.—The offices of the United Press news agency were allowed to reopen here today after having been closed by police authorities for four days. However, permission was not given up to a late hour for the correspondents to send news, although they had been allowed to receive news for their Italian clients.

William Phillips, American ambassador, and several high United Press officials who came to Rome are still negotiating with the authorities. The Italian officials are expected to allow full news service to start either tonight or tomorrow.

H. R. Ekins, chief of the Rome bureau of the United Press, has been expelled from Italy. Although no official reason was given for the closing of the offices, it was understood publication of stories concerning Premier Mussolini's health led to the punishment.

RUSSIANS 'YIELD'; BRITISH-FRENCH WAR MISSION FED

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 14.—Conversations among British, French, and soviet military and naval experts continued today. Two meetings consumed the entire day. The sessions were separated only by lunch.

The soviet officers are providing these meals in Spiiridonovka house, where the talks are taking place. When William Strang, special British envoy, was here conferring with Premier and Foreign Commissar Vyascheslev Molotov, not even a cup of tea, which Russians often sip at their desks, was offered.

No information as to the nature of the conversations is being given out. There have been no further diplomatic negotiations regarding a three-power mutual assistance pact since Strang's departure.

197 Polish Soldiers Flee Into Germany, Nazis Report

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—A total of 197 Polish soldiers deserted and fled into Germany in the last four weeks, a semi-official news agency bulletin said today. The report said 143 of them were Poles and the remainder members of minorities in Poland. The bulletin asserted some Polish regiments have been transferred from border posts to the interior because of general "unreliability."

All's Even! Poland Takes 2 Prisoners; So Does Danzig

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 14.—Danzig and Poland took two prisoners each today. Polish guards arrested two Germans at the frontier station of Tczew on charges of making insulting remarks about Poland. Danzigers seized two Polish customs inspectors in a motor boat on the Vistula river and accused them of smuggling anti-Hitler pamphlets into Danzig territory.

HITLER TO KEEP ARMY ON JOB AS HE SEEKS PARLEY

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—Two million German soldiers figuratively are standing with fingers on the triggers of their rifles, but Adolf Hitler has told his generals this does not necessarily mean war. He has said he wants his army to be ready to "demonstrate its power" whenever he deems it necessary and to remain that way for the next three months.

Measures to make a three months' mobilization possible will entail great economic sacrifices, diplomatic circles said. However, Nazis asserted that if, through negotiations, other powers agree to the plans Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy are working out, the mobilization will have been worth while.

The war of nerves between the authoritarian powers and Great Britain and France apparently has reached its decisive stage.

Envoys Report to Hitler.

Hitler's ambassadors to Paris and London are in Germany to report to him. Prof. Karl J. Burckhardt, league of nations high commissioner of Danzig, conferred with the Fuehrer over the week-end. Count Stephan Csaky, Hungarian foreign minister, was kept in the background while Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, visited Hitler at the latter's Bavarian mountain home near Berchtesgaden to discuss the German-Italian course of action.

It was disclosed that Count Csaky was staying in nearby Tegernsee as a guest of Minister of Interior Wilhelm Frick and was driven to the Fuehrer's retreat when none of the Italian mission was there.

The Nazi ambassador to Japan is expected to return to Germany in the near future—all of which persons close to official sources admit indicates "a new high in negotiations."

Proposals Not Disclosed.

It has not been disclosed what proposals Hitler, Ciano, and Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, agreed to submit to Mussolini. German newspapers, taking their cue from the officials who outline the situation to them daily, said the question of the Polish corridor will be solved together with the reincorporation of Danzig in the reich.

"It is the task of the axis powers to advance European development in such a way as to effect a complete revision of the situation created in 1919," said the newspaper Lokalanzeiger.

This sentence was interpreted by some to mean that Germany also will demand the return of Upper Silesia, which she was forced to cede to Poland in 1920.

Some Berlin circles expressed a belief that Germany will insist on the reëstablishment of the pre-war frontiers, which not only would include the corridor but also the former province of West Prussia with a population of about 3,000,000.

Conversation Admitted.

German official circles today admitted that Burckhardt saw Hitler. It is understood the league commissioner will negotiate with Polish officials on Wednesday after conferring with Danzig authorities.

"A respite is evident and whether it will lead to negotiations remains to be seen," French representatives in Berlin declared.

Inasmuch as the Nazis are keeping their budget secret, the cost of mobilization is known only to high officials.

Property Owner's Arrest Ordered in Relief Fraud

Police Magistrate Edward D. Markham of Maywood yesterday ordered the arrest of Mrs. Emma Betian, 137 North 16th street, Melrose Park. On Aug. 7 Mrs. Betian was fined $100 for accepting $109 in cash relief although she owned property. Magistrate Markham said he would vacate the fine if she made restitution at the rate of $20 a week. He said she had failed to do so.

Shoots to Scare Prowlers, Fatally Wounds Boy, 15

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 14 [Special].—Carl Turnpaugh Jr., 15 years old, was found mortally wounded in the lawn at the Paul Bailey home here early today after Bailey had fired shots in the darkness upon hearing prowlers about his home. The boy died in a hospital, a bullet from a small revolver having pierced his forehead. Bailey is not held.

Cuban Earthquake Rocks Towns; Buildings Fall

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

HAVANA, Aug. 15 [Tuesday].—Two earth tremors of short duration occurred early today on the north coast of Santa Clara province. One man was reported injured at Remedios and several buildings collapsed. The inhabitants fled to the street in great alarm. Many other towns felt the shock.

GIANT DOUGLAS DC-4 PLANE IS SOLD TO JAPAN

Santa Monica, Cal., Aug. 14. (AP)—Sale of a 42 passenger DC4, currently the world's largest commercial land plane, to the Japan Air Transport line was disclosed today by the Douglas Aircraft company.

Thus the firm entered the international race to book foreign business for giant, multi-engined planes. Douglas officials said Germany and Italy already have demonstrated four and three-engined airplanes to the Japanese.

A spokesman for Douglas said army, navy and state department officials favored selling such a ship to foreign purchasers to build up America's productive capacity. The spokesman said it was assured sale of the plane would not injure national defense.

Douglas officials disclosed the Japanese line had made a substantial down payment on its $725,000 contract for the original 65,000 pound DC-4 and certain drawings for its reassembly aboard.

MONGOLS BEATEN IN WEEK'S FIGHT, JAPANESE CLAIM

TOKIO, Aug. 14 (AP).—A Japanese army communique issued today in Hsinking, Manchukuo, said soviet Mongol forces were repulsed in a series of brisk clashes last week on the border between Japanese dominated Manchukuo and Russian protected Outer Mongolia.

The communique, published by Domei, the Japanese news agency, said the sporadic fighting started on Monday when 500 enemy troops attacked Japanese positions near the junction of the Khalka and Kholsten rivers, about 300 miles east of Lake Bor. This attack and another the next day by a force of 1,000 Mongolians was reported repulsed, the attackers leaving 280 dead on the field.

Japanese anti-aircraft guns downed five of thirty planes which raided Japanese lines on Thursday near Halunarshan, 65 miles east of the river junction, the communique said.

Aid to Mayor Is Appointed Major in Reserve Corps

Victor Kleber, director of public relations for Mayor Kelly, was notified yesterday of his promotion to the rank of major in the quartermaster reserve corps of the United States army. Kleber, a war veteran, was first commissioned in 1922 and was assigned to reserve duty with the publicity section of the joint army and navy selective service committee.

CLAIM DICTATOR LEADS BOLIVIA ON PATH TO FASCISM

Drastic Decrees Indicate Move for New State.

BY ANTHONY PATRIC.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PUERTO SUAREZ, Bolivia, Aug. 14.—Bolivia appears to be headed toward a complete totalitarian dictatorship under President German Busch, the youngest "strong man" this tin producing state has ever had, in the opinion of reliable persons here.

The resignation of Alberto Ostria Gutierrez of the old political school as foreign minister, recent drastic decrees nationalizing almost every branch of industry and commerce, the expansion of the president's Bolivianist policy, and demands for "vital space" all point to adoption of Fascist tactics, it is said.

President Busch has stated that he is the "leader" and will deal drastically with persons attempting to oppose the Bolivianist program in his efforts to create a new state. It is predicted that as a result of this policy the government, if permitted, will follow a course adopted from Fascism and Nazism.

Miners Discontented.

Behind these moves also is seen the powerful arm of Dionisio Foianini, minister of mines, who is of Italian descent. He is playing a leading rôle in the nationalization of the mining industry and much discontentment has resulted. Miners see their efforts going to waste under the drastic decrees which regulate the extraction of ore and control its export.

Miners and exporters have been compelled by the president's decrees to turn over to the national treasury all export drafts and receive in return Bolivian paper money at rates set by the government. The results already have been disappointing for both sides, since Bolivia, which theoretically produces almost everything, has come to rely on tin as its chief export commodity.

Unemployment Grows.

Unemployment, which has been unknown since the colonial era, now threatens to develop into a real menace to the conservative structure of the country. The outlook does not indicate any rapid improvement in the situation, nor does the political field have a bright side.

Bolivia's demand for more "vital space," thus copying Europe's totalitarian states, puts the desire for a seaport in the forefront. President Busch is expected to demand that Bolivia get its desired space at the expense of Chile.

The president repeatedly has denied that his government has entered a two year rearmament scheme, based on a barter agreement with Germany, but it is indicated that military equipment already is being received and being paid for with tin and oil.

Relations with Paraguay, while officially reported as cordial, appear to be anything but smooth. Bolivia is reported to have about 10,000 men on the Chaco border and an air force under the direction of German flyers.

15 POLICE GUARD GREEK CHURCH IN ROW OVER PASTOR

Fifteen policemen were on duty as several thousand parishioners of the Greek Orthodox church at 5557 Harrison street gathered last night. Police had been required Sunday night when the congregation created a commotion after the pastor, the Rev. Gabriel Mathopoulos, announced he was to be transferred.

Police were informed last night that another demonstration was planned at Assumption services, over which Bishop Kallistos presided. There was no trouble, however. Afterward the bishop told reporters that another meeting will be held tomorrow night, at which "many things" will be discussed, presumably the transfer of the pastor.

A church official said a vote will be taken then, and if 55 per cent of the members vote to keep the Rev. Mr. Mathopoulos he will be retained.

BRITAIN OUSTS 5 OF ILLEGAL IRISH ARMY; 3 WOMEN

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP).—Orders for the deportation of five additional members of the Irish Republican army, three of them women, were signed today by Sir Samuel Hoare, British home secretary.

Police said investigation indicated that a shed destroyed by an explosion yesterday at Coventry had been used as an I. R. A. explosives cache. Seventy-nine I. R. A. expulsion orders have been issued to date.

One Held in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Aug. 14 (AP).—Five suspected members of the outlawed Irish Republican army were arrested today under Ireland's new public safety laws, but four were released later. Authorities detained Myles Heffernan, who on Sunday addressed a meeting here at which several Irishmen deported from England spoke.

STEP UP DRIVE OF ANTI-BRITISH FORCES IN CHINA

Consulate, Britons' Homes Stoned in Chefoo.

BULLETIN.

TIENTSIN, China, Aug. 15 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Mrs. F. M. Richard, 60 years old, an American, today was reported to have been slapped and detained by Japanese sentries at barriers to the blockaded British concession. She attempted to bring vegetables into the concession for her canning business.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14.—Delegates of anti-British organizations in North China began a three day meeting in Tientsin today with demonstrations near the British and French concessions which the Japanese have blockaded since June 14.

At the same time dispatches reported there was an outbreak yesterday at Chefoo, Shantung province port, where demonstrators attacked the British consulate and stoned offices and houses of Britons. A number of windows were broken. Later, Japanese promised British residents their property would be respected.

Aim to Extend Movement.

The anti-British meeting at Tientsin adopted resolutions to coördinate and strengthen anti-British organizations and spread the movement throughout China. The delegates also decided to "oppress British interests and Britons" and act against Chinese who are pro-British.

After the meeting, delegates and demonstrators paraded carrying banners bearing anti-British slogans.

At the same time several London residents petitioned the British court in Tientsin for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent British authorities handing over four alleged Chinese terrorists to the Japanese. The British government last Friday had agreed to deliver the Chinese to the Japanese for trial as a part of an agreement for settlement of the Tientsin dispute.

Take Over British Mines.

The American consulate here received additional messages giving assurances of the safety of Americans at Kaifeng, Honan province.

It was reported from Kaifeng that Honan province authorities had taken over management of the Tsiaotso coal mines from the Anglo-Chinese Finance and Trade corporation.

The American destroyer John D. Edwards was en route from Shanghai to Foochow today carrying medical supplies and food for missionaries at that Japanese blockaded port and for inland stations.

SLOVAKS DEMAND RETURN OF LAND TAKEN BY POLAND

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, Aug. 14 (AP).—Territorial claims by Slovakia against Poland were advanced today by Propaganda Chief Sano Mach. Authoritative circles reported the claims had the support of Germany.

"We want our land back from Poland," Mach told a cheering throng at a harvest festival in Szombathely.

The government claims that Polish forces illegally occupied eighty-six square miles of Slovakia, having a population of 9,940, after last September's crisis.

[Poland obtained 419 square miles from Czecho-Slovakia after the Munich settlement. With the final breakup of Czecho-Slovakia last March 14, Slovakia became a state under German protection and thus was put in a position to agitate independently for territory.]

All Troops Reach Plattsburg Area for Combat Maneuvers

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

With the First Field Army Near Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Railroads and highways continued today to pour thousands of troops from the New England states, New York and New Jersey into this First army maneuver area. The 113th infantry, New Jersey National Guard, arrived by rail at 4:30 a. m. and the men were treated to a hot outdoor breakfast served by a hotel before marching into camp.

In most cases arriving units find tents erected and food prepared by an advanced detail awaiting them. Owing to careful preliminary planning and timing outfits arrive at dicerent intervals, which eliminates congestion on the highways. Little trouble and few accidents have been reported.

March Through Storm.

The 51st field artillery brigade from New Hampshire reported a severe storm shortly before reaching camp last night. Many trees and one silo were blown across the road. No one was hurt.

The 43d division from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Connecticut gave an efficient quartermaster demonstration of handling supplies, drawing from the central depot rations for one day for 7,000 men, distributing them through the night. Food is shipped to the main depot by the government and requisitioned daily by the various organizations. General satisfaction is expressed by the troops with their food.

The 169th infantry, Connecticut National Guard, will celebrate its 200th anniversary on Oct. 11. Streamers indicating its participation in all wars including many Indian campaigns decorate the regimental colors.

Begin Maneuver Tomorrow.

The entire First army will not be ready for the maneuvers until Wednesday. However, organizations which arrived early are taking advantage of the wait by working on nonscheduled problems. Regular army light tanks of the 66th infantry from Fort Devens were out today with the New York National Guard. An autogyro from Wright field has been in the air most of the day, flying from one headquarters to another.

Forty observation planes from the New England National Guard are at Fort Ethan Allen.

The 101st cavalry from Brooklyn and New York is conducting a horse show this week. It will join the army problem next week.

Musicians Must Work.

Maj. Gen. M. B. Payne, commander of the 1st corps, today announced bandsman will be trained in stretcher bearing and message carrying instead of resting while troops are fighting.

Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum arrived this morning and had a press conference tonight. He emphasized the importance of training and said individual expertness is only supplemental to the more difficult problem of mass organization and efficiency.

TREASURE BURIED WITH SAXON KING AWARDED FINDER

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The gold and silver treasure buried 1,300 years ago with the body af a Saxon king in his Viking ship, which was hauled up out of the river Deben in Suffolk and then covered by a mound of 1,000 tons of earth, was today declared the property of the woman on whose estate the discovery was made. A coroner's jury at Sutton Hoo, near the site of the find, made the award. The king was believed to have been Raedwald, first of the East Anglian rulers to become high king of England.

The jury decided the treasure was publicly buried and had been dedicated for the king's use in future life, and was not meant to be recovered. As such, the objects were "treasure" and the property of the finder, Mrs. Edith M. Petty.

The silver, including six extremely shapely bowls is all of provincial Byzantine or late Roman make. The gold work, much of it inlaid and set with garnets, is Saxon.

Count's Suit for Annuity from Rogers Estate Settled

CANNES, France, Aug. 14 (AP).—Count Ludwig Salm disclosed today that an arrangement had been reached with the estate of the late oil millionaire, Henry H. Rogers, to settle out of court his suit for a $30,000 annual allowance from his 14 year old son, Peter. Peter's mother is the former Millicent Rogers, now Mrs. Ronald Balcolm. She is the daughter of the Standard Oil partner who left a $26,000,000 estate.

MRS. McCORMICK, WIFE OF TRIBUNE PUBLISHER, DIES

Succumbs to Pneumonia in Hospital.

Mrs. Amy Irwin McCormick, the wife of Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, died yesterday afternoon in Passavant hospital. She had been in impaired health for some months. The immediate cause of death was pneumonia. She was born in 1880.

Mrs. McCormick was both an artist and a patron of Chicago art. She painted many excellent portraits, among them that of her father, the late Gen. B. J. D. Irwin, who was known as The Fighting Doctor, and who was the first American to be awarded the congressional medal of honor. This painting hangs in the surgeon general's library at Washington. Mrs. McCormick's paintings of horses and dogs were said by critics to rank with her portrait work. She held frequent art exhibits.

Active in Outdoor Life.

A lover of the outdoors, Mrs. McCormick was an enthusiastic horsewoman. For many years she was active in the Du Page Hunt. She was also interested in cattle breeding, having her own herd of purebred Guernseys on the McCormick farm, Cantigny, near Wheaton.

Among the numerous charitable works in which she was active was the distribution of lilacs to the sick and shut-ins of Chicago each spring. THE TRIBUNE'S Lilac day was established at her suggestion. In 1926 she organized the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild, which is co-sponsor of the Share-Your-Lilacs movement.

She was one of the few wives who accompanied their husbands to France and engaged in war work for the duration of the war.

Father Renowned Medical Officer.

Col. and Mrs. McCormick were married in St. George's chapel, London, on March 10, 1915. They made their home in the summer at their Wheaton farm, and in the winter at their town residence, 1519 Astor street.

Mrs. McCormick's father, who died in 1917, was a famous Indian fighter. He also won renown as a medical officer in the Union army during the civil war. He placed in service at the battle of Shiloh the first field tent hospital ever used in a war. The United States government later placed a tablet on the site of this field hospital, calling the hospital "The Greatest Boon in War."

Mrs. McCormick was one of three children. Mrs. Arthur A. Small of 32 East Division street is a sister. The late Maj. Gen. George Le Roy Irwin, a divisional commander of the Panama Canal department who died in 1931, was a brother. His two sons and a daughter also survive Mrs. McCormick. The sons are Col. Le Roy Irwin, stationed at Fort Bragg in North Carolina, and John D'Arcy Irwin. The daughter is Mrs. Josephine Irwin Wright.

Funeral Services Tomorrow.

The funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow, Wednesday, at Cantigny farm. The Rev. John Evans, religious editor of THE TRIBUNE, will be in charge of the services. He will be assisted by the Rev. Frank Hobart Millett, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, Wheaton.

Honorary pallbearers will be:

Max Annenberg	Dr. Henry D. Lloyd
Orville Babcock	W. E. Macfarlane
E. S. Beck	John T. McCutcheon
James O'D. Bennett	J. Loy Maloney
Tiffany Blake	Leo M. Nicholson

The active pallbearers, all employés on Cantigny farm, will be Eddie Edwards, Frank Zeier, Pete Jensen, Jack Kunde, Gene Corbin, Carl Henderson, John Wallner, and Emil Hawkinson.

Party Climbs Four Peaks Previously Unconquered

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 14 (AP).—A mountain climbing expedition, including two Americans, reported today the conquest of four previously unscaled peaks in Canada's west coastal range. Capt. Rex Gibson of nearby Winterburn, Alta.; Henry Hall of Boston; Dr. Sterling Hendricks of Washington, D. C., and Hans Fuhrer, a Swiss guide, composed the party. The peaks are Mount Tiedemann, 13,000 feet; Mount Geddes, 11,200; Mount Hickson, 10,800, and Mount Whiteside, 10,000.

3D AIR LINE JOINS DRIVE FOR LINK TO CANADA SEA BASE

Northwest's Chief Tells Plans.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Another commercial air line flying from Chicago airport announced last evening its interest in operating international air routes to connect this city with Canadian terminals of the trans-Atlantic airways. The latest announcement came from Northwest Airlines. Officials of American Airlines and United Air Lines announced previously they would seek such rights.

Interest of the operators has been aroused by the drafters of a new international civil aviation treaty at Ottawa, Ont., last Friday. A committee of American and Canadian experts drew up an agreement that will permit large scale expansion of such flying. The agreement is expected to be ratified soon by both governments.

Line's Chief Tells Plans.

Northwest Airlines' announcement came from Croil Hunter, president. In a telegram to THE TRIBUNE from Brainerd, Minn., Hunter said:

"Northwest has filed intention to apply for permanent certificate for route Chicago to Toronto, Canada, and on to Northbeach airport, New York City. No other stops are contemplated on this route at present.

"We expect to make application immediately because this route is a natural continuation of Northwest's present airway, and it will provide much needed service for trafic moving from eastern Canadian industrial centers to the prairie provinces and the Pacific northwest which has been served by Northwest for many years.

"Northwest is one of the oldest Canadian contractors and has been carrying western Canadian business on its route into Winnipeg, Man., and to Seattle, Wash., at which two points it makes direct connection with Trans-Canada Airlines."

Service Possible at Once.

A survey yesterday indicated that service to Toronto and on to Shediac and Moncton airports in New Brunswick could begin immediately. Trans-Canada Airlines and the Canadian ministry of transport have created airways facilities, lights, and radio range beacons over this route.

Trans-Canada Airlines is not yet flying to Moncton—the land base at Shediac. But T.-C. A officials contemplate that such service is to begin in the near future. With Trans-Canada flying from the trans-Atlantic air bases to Toronto, Northwest's proposed service would give Chicago the link desired.

A direct service between Chicago and the Canadian bases for the trans-oceanic airway is desired because such a route is 450 miles shorter than from Chicago to New York and thence northeastward to these same bases. The Chicago-Shediac airway follows a great circle course, while flying via New York means following a longer dog-leg route.

Pope Delays Publication of His First Encyclical

NONRELIEF POOR TO BE GIVEN PART OF FOOD SURPLUS

Illinois Gets 15 Million Pounds for Needy.

For the first time in Illinois food of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation will be given to persons who are not on relief it was learned yesterday. Fifteen million pounds of foodstuffs, purchased by the FSCC in attempts to stabilize markets, are on hand in this state.

Those newly eligible for a share of the commodities are so-called borderline families who might be receiving relief if sufficient funds were available. Persons on relief will continue to get the federal surplus foods in addition to their relief checks.

Explains New Policy.

"Surplus commodities are not taking the place of relief, which would violate a federal policy," said Peter W. Cahill, distribution official for the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. "They are to be given to persons who would be getting both relief and FSCC foods if funds permitted, but who now get nothing."

An FSCC inventory here Aug. 1 showed the following commodities on hand: Butter, 465,490 pounds; eggs, 181,392 dozens; wheat cereal, 2,394,385 pounds; corn meal, 4,159,917 pounds; wheat flour, 4,713,141 pounds; graham flour, 767,505 pounds; dried beans, 1,778,680 pounds; oranges, 446,042 pounds, plus small quantities of grapefruit juice, raisins, onions, plums, and peaches.

Certification of reliefers for jobs under the Work Projects administration and the National Youth administration, a process halted last February, was resumed yesterday. Although WPA funds have been decreased, the congressional order that workers on the rolls more than eighteen months be dropped is resulting in thousands of vacancies in the state.

12,000 Workers Dropped.

More than 12,000 workers have been discharged under this rule, two-thirds of them in Cook county, WPA headquarters announced yesterday. About 54,000 dismissals will be the total.

The certification is being done by the IERC in connection with its first state-wide reëxamination of relief rolls. All reliefers must file new applications for aid. Primarily, officials said, the study is to find chiselers who no longer require help. A secondary aim is to ascertain what persons are eligible for unemployment compensation, under which payments began July 1.

A 10 per cent reduction in Chicago relief rolls is expected to result from the survey which was ordered several weeks ago by the IERC.

Iowan Is Chosen General Counsel of Aero Authority

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14 (AP).—Harlee Branch, acting chairman of the Civil Aeronautics authority, today announced that Welch Pogue of Grant, Ia., has been chosen general counsel of the authority to succeed Charles Stuart Guthrie of Aledo, Ill. Guthrie resigned recently to become special assistant to the secretary of commerce. Pogue has been assistant general counsel of the CAA. He will be succeeded in that position by George Neal of Akron, O.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Do you prefer milk in glass bottles or in paper containers?

Where Answered.

The Answers.

Mrs. Helen Glede, 10 North 3d avenue, housewife—I prefer milk in the new wax containers. It seems to me that they are much more sanitary than old fashioned bottles. Certainly they are easier to handle. Then, too, they are easily disposed of. But there is one fault—in the new containers, however—you can't see the cream line.

Paul Pollart, 1107 Randolph street, laborer—Milk in the paper containers is no good. It gets sour very quickly and sometimes the wax coating melts and gets into the milk. I know, because I've tried it several times. Milk in bottles is much better and more sanitary than milk in the new paper containers.

Mrs. Marie Williams, 812 North 7th avenue, housewife—I think milk in paper containers is just as good as that in bottles, and it is cheaper. You don't have to wash and return the paper containers, they fit in my ice box better, and the milk keeps just as well in them. Paper containers are better in every way, I find.

Ransome Beatty, 1405 South 4th avenue, clerk—The paper containers seem to me to be a good idea. The necessity of washing bottles and carting them back to the store is eliminated, and I suppose that the paper container, which is used only once and then thrown away, is much more sanitary. It seems to be a more modern method of selling milk.

Mrs. Beatrice Garner, 113 North 14th avenue, housewife—I don't like the paper containers. After the milk stands a while it seems to taste of paper and wax. However, I will admit that the new containers are much more convenient to handle and to store in the refrigerator. In addition, they do not have to be washed and returned. They should be more sanitary.

The disclosure that less than one-third of the state sales tax revenue is used for relief was followed yesterday by demands from Republican leaders for a showdown on the whole question of the tax and the uses to which it is put.

Richard J. Lyons.

These leaders renewed charges of waste and extravagance in the state administration, and asserted that the sales tax could be reduced and, with proper administration, still meet relief needs.

Sales tax receipts for the fiscal year ended June 30 were $81,472,000. Of this amount, records reveal, only $25,041,000 went into the relief fund.

Lyons Charges Fraud.

Richard J. Lyons, former member of the general assembly and now a candidate for the G. O. P. nomination for governor, said a showdown on the question should be forced at the special session of the legislature which Gov. Horner has announced he will call this year.

"Taking money originally intended for the poor and using it for political pay rollers is a fraud upon the public," Lyons said.

"Three-fourths of the people still believe all of the sales tax is used for relief. The tax could be cut from 3 cents to 2 cents right now, and the poor could be fed adequately, if relief were turned back to local officials."

Calls Tax Abolition a Trick.

Abolition of the state property tax by the Horner administration was merely a political trick, Lyons said. The state not only levies a sales tax in its stead, Lyons said, but makes local governments impose a property tax of 30 cents on each $100 valuation to get their share of state relief funds. The former state property tax levy was 30 cents in 1928, 39 cents in 1929, 1930 and 1931, and 50 cents in 1932.

Speaker of the House Hugh W. Cross, a candidate for the G. O. P. nomination for lieutenant governor, declared he would oppose any move for new taxes for relief. Such an effort is expected to be made in the special session.

"No more taxes are needed," Cross said. "Rather, a reduction is possible if the swollen receipts from the sales tax are not squandered upon armies of state pay rollers. Economy in state government is the real need in Illinois.

"Where the state got $21,000,000 from the property tax it now gets $56,000,000 from the sales tax. This difference is not explained by sums required for old age assistance and schools."

Schnackenberg Offers Plan.

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, a G. O. P. leader in the house, advanced twin plans for cutting the sales tax. Skyrocketing sales tax collections prove that efforts of taxpayers to meet demands of the state administration are like pouring water in a sieve, he said.

"It is clear that state departments and institutions have increased expenses to a point indicating extravagance and waste," he said. "If economy were put into effect it would enable the state to reduce the sales tax.

"Reports also indicate gross waste in the administration of relief. The relief officials have told of thirty downstate relief units which showed an average of 40 per cent of chiselers on the rolls.

"If this average is borne out, it means that 40 per cent of $5,600,000 of the monthly relief expenditures in the state, or $2,240,000 a month, is being wasted.

"Removing chiselers from the rolls would produce two good results—make it possible to give adequate relief to deserving persons without a special session of the legislature, and make a second cut in the sales tax."

Brooks Protests High Tax.

C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor in 1936, said a number of small purchases by housewives result in a sales tax of 5 cents or even 6 cents on their food dollars.

"The people as a whole have borne this burden in the belief that it was necessary for relief," Brooks said, "and not for the purpose of boosting the ever increasing number of political pay rollers. But the people are conscious as never before of the increased burden of taxation.

"Sales tax collections since 1934 have increased 300 per cent while the amount going into the relief fund from this revenue has steadily decreased since 1936. During this period of unemployment and constant politically created emergencies every family in Illinois has had to curb their expenditures to meet their income. The government of Illinois must be placed on the same basis."

Quake Shakes Badajoz Region in Western Spain

BADAJOZ, Spain, Aug. 14 (AP).—An earthquake lasting three seconds shook a number of villages in Badajoz province, western Spain, today. The temblor was strongest at Barcarrota where people fled to the streets. Damage was slight.

WPA PROJECT SOUGHT FOR ANTI-MOSQUITO WORK IN 3 COUNTIES

The tricounty mosquito abatement committee filed an application yesterday for a Work Projects administration project to survey mosquito breeding areas in Lake, Cook, and Du Page counties. The counties have voted funds for their share in the cost of the project.

"Before we can eradicate these breeding places of the pest we must find them," said J. Lyell Clarke, engineer for the committee. "These are shallow pools, not deep enough for fish, which are the source of 90 per cent of the mosquitoes in this territory."

It is proposed either to flood the breeding places and let fish eat the mosquito eggs or drain the swamps. The proposed survey, which would require three months, calls for the employment of 100 men in six crews. The cost would be $38,000.

HUNT A FANATIC AS VANDAL WHO WRECKED TRAIN

Deaths of 23 Are Laid to Maniacal Grudge.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 14 [Special.]—The toll of deaths in the wreck of the streamlined train City of San Francisco mounted to twenty-three tonight as rescue crews found additional bodies in the débris piled in a rocky canyon by Saturday's disaster.

Federal, local, and railroad authorities meantime pressed a wide hunt for a mass murderer accused of deliberately derailing the $2,000,000 train. Half a dozen men were arrested in a roundup of suspicious characters along railway rights of way.

Three additional bodies were found in the wreckage today and one of the seriously injured victims died in the hospital at Elko, Nev. More than 100 others of the 149 who were on the train still were suffering from wounds or shock.

More Bodies Recovered.

Among the latest bodies recovered from the wreckage were those of Mrs. Henry Pepper Vaux and her daughter Susan, 21 years old, of Rosemont, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb. They are members of a socially prominent family and Miss Vaux was a debutante of 1933. Mr. Vaux is a broker. Another body recovered was that of Harry Specht, Oakland, Cal., a cook on the train. Sam Wall of Alameda, Cal., second cook, died in the Elko hospital.

An erroneous report had listed Albert Johnson, 28 years old, 647 East 75th street, Chicago, among the dead. He was injured, but an attendant at the Elko hospital tonight said his wounds were not serious.

Three bodies taken from the wreckage earlier had remained unidentified until this morning. They were Betty Maujoks, 4749 Dorchester avenue, Chicago; N. C. Werst, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Leon Moore, colored waiter, Berkeley, Cal.

Other Chicago Victims.

Other Chicago victims were Miss Myrtle Kobosky, 54 East Scott street; Miss Katherine E. Kurz, 5129 Harper avenue; Miss Eleanor D. Martin, 817 Lake street, Oak Park; Charles W. Lewis Jr., 439 Webster street, steward, and George Lloyd, colored, porter.

Police theorized, in the absence of contrary evidence, that the person who tampered with the rails was motivated by a grudge against the railroad. They began a general roundup with special attention being paid to hobos suspected of harboring such animosity.

A man who identified himself as Bob La Duceur, 28, of Lewistown, Mont., was seized at Sparks, Nev. He was said to be "sore at the railroads" because of an accident two years ago in which his foot was mutilated. Officers later announced they had established that he was not in the vicinity of the wreck scene Saturday night.

Hunt for Earless Man.

Five other men were taken from an eastbound freight train at Ogden, Utah, for questioning. Throughout the west police watched railway yards for the "earless" man reported to have been acting suspiciously at Fernley, Nevada, and to have inquired there yesterday morning if "anything had happened yet."

An investigation meantime went forward at the scene of the wreck in an isolated rocky canyon 272 miles east of Reno. Railroad officials said they had determined that a rail had been deliberately moved four inches and respiked to hold it while the train was being derailed.

The track was tampered with, they said, during a four hour interval between trains and was handled so carefully it did not disturb a block signal electric cable on the rails which would have warned the train's engineer.

A coroner's jury yesterday concurred with railway officials that a rail, deliberately "misplaced by a person or persons unknown," caused the wreck. One railroad official termed it "murderous sabotage."

Death Trap on Curve.

Thirteen of the seventeen cars on the train, bound from Chicago to San Francisco, were derailed. Six crashed into the canyon of a small river, wrecking a bridge over the stream. The death trap had been set on a curve near the bridge approach.

A heroine of the wreck was Thelma Ristveldt of Chicago, attractive stewardess and nurse. Although injured by a head blow, she gave aid until she collapsed into unconsciousness. High praise also was given to Dr. E. A. Betts of the Pennsylvania State college, who saved the lives of victims with his aptitude with tourniquets, and to Dr. M. C. Brigham of Boston.

The Southern Pacific's Overland Limited left for San Francisco today with a special car of persons injured in the wreck. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schlesinger, 421 Melrose st., Chicago, Ill.; Harry Anaddone, Elmhurst, Ill., and Mrs. Emma Melbourne, Downers Grove, Ill.

GREEN FEARS LONG WRANGLE ON ACTOR PEACE

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP).—Negotiations for settlement of the strife among stage, screen, and vaudeville unions continued tonight.

"There is a strong possibility of these negotiations continuing into next week," said William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, at the end of a session before the A. F. of L. executive council.

The quarrel is between the Associated Actors and Artists of America, parent body of a group of eleven unions including the Screen Actors guild and Actors Equity association, and the American Federation of Actors, a union of night club and vaudeville actors headed by Sophie Tucker.

The AAAA recently suspended the AFA, charging the leaders with mismanagement, and the AFA was immediately given a charter by the Stagehands' International union, causing a jurisdictional dispute.

1 Killed as Planes Piloted by Two Students Collide

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 14 (AP).—While officials watched 1,500 feet below, two planes piloted by students collided today over the Ohio river. Merne Bowers, 23, die and tool concern worker, fell to his death in the stream while Robert Kraft of Wheeling pulled his ship out of a spin and landed near Belpre, O., hurting his shoulder. E. A. Goff Jr. of Pittsburgh, civil aeronautics inspector, and Clarence McElroy, chief pilot at the airport, watched the collision.

Conspiracy to Harbor Lepke Charged.

New York, Aug. 14 [Special].—Four men and a woman and two clothing concerns with which they are associated were indicted today for conspiring to harbor Louis Buchalter, fugitive racketeer of the garment industry, who is commonly known as Lepke. The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury that began its investigations a week ago.

The defendants are charged with having paid $250 a week to Lepke during the time he has been a fugitive and with having made the same regular payments to his associate, Jacob Shapiro, before Shapiro surrendered over a year ago. Shapiro, known as Gurrah, is said to have given himself up because he feared death at the hands of Lepke.

Payments a Crime.

It is the first time that indictments in this country have been based on an interpretation of the harboring statute, which makes the paying of money to a fugitive a crime.

The maximum penalty on the conspiracy charge, which is based on alleged false bookkeeping designed to hide the money's destination, is two years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

The government seeks by its drive to stop the flow of money to Lepke, who is alleged to be conducting from his hiding places a campaign of death against persons who know too much about him.

The indictments followed disclosure that Joseph Amoruso, 37 years old, said by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey to be Lepke's first lieutenant, has been arrested. He was seized yesterday at New Paltz, N. Y., where he had been living as a fruit grower. He was arraigned here today on a state indictment charging conspiracy and was held on $10,000 bond. Amoruso is commonly known as Joe Strawberry because of a mark on his right cheek.

Manufacturers Accused.

Named in the federal indictment are Gurrah's brother, Carl Shapiro, manager of Raleigh Manufacturers, Inc., of Baltimore, makers of men's clothing, and treasurer of Raleigh Manufacturers, Inc., 149 Fifth avenue, New York, sellers of the clothing; Nathan Borish, president of both corporations, and Samuel Smith, Gurrah's brother-in-law and treasurer of the Baltimore corporation. Others named are Philip Kasakove, member of the accounting firm of Lust, Kasakove & Co., 175 Fifth avenue, and Florence Dwyer, secretary of the two clothing concerns. The five individuals pleaded not guilty and were held on bonds totaling $36,500.

A government official today said that James J. Hines, Tammany leader and convicted fixer for the Dutch Schultz gang, and his lawyer, Joseph Shalleck, probably will be called soon before the federal jury investigating persons suspected of harboring fugitives.

FEDERAL PROSECUTOR IN LOUISIANA INQUIRY GETS DEATH THREATS

New Orleans, La., Aug. 14 (AP).—The life of Assistant United States Attorney General O. John Rogge was threatened in two anonymous letters, one containing two revolver cartridges, sent him today soon after a federal grand jury returned additional indictments in its investigation of corruption in state affairs.

O. John Rogge.

Rogge, who did not connect the letters with today's indictments, turned them over to the federal bureau of investigation, and postponed indefinitly a trip to Washington to confer with Attorney General Frank Murphy.

"I want to know who threatens the department of justice," the prosecutor said.

One letter—containing the cartridges—said a price of $18,000 had been placed on Rogge's life, and gave him until Wednesday to leave on pain of death. The other, signed the "bullet gang" warned him "to lay off that Shushan jury tampering case."

Sues Gambling ShipOwner; Guest Says He Was Robbed

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14 (AP).—William A. Harris sued Tony Cornero, operator of the gambling ship Rex, and others for $50,700 in federal court today. Harris charged he was slugged by a crew member and robbed of $700 while he was a "guest" aboard the ship June 5. The Rex and other gambling ships in this area now are closed, pending a court ruling on whether they were operating legally.

SPECIAL 3-FOLD PROBE BEGUN OF MOVIE INDUSTRY

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14 (AP).—Charles H. Carr, an assistant United States attorney general, today said he had begun a three-fold investigation of the motion picture industry. He explained he had been assigned to inquire into reports of labor racketeering, alleged violations of the anti-trust act and income tax laws.

Carr disclosed his purpose when he appeared unexpectedly at the United States District court to file letters signed by Attorney General Frank Murphy authorizing him to conduct the investigation.

The names of several motion picture executives, who, Carr said, would be subjects of his income tax investigation, appear in the letters from Murphy. They include Joseph M. Schenck, Darryl F. Zanuck, and William Goetz [son-in-law of Louis B. Mayer], all executives of Twentieth Century-Fox studio.

Salvation Army to Elect Miss Booth's Successor

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP).—The Salvation Army high council will meet here tomorrow to elect a successor to 73 year old Gen. Evangeline Booth. The election was expected to take several days. Commissioner Samuel Hurren, principal of the international training college here, has been regarded as one of the favored candidates. A. M. Damon, New York, American eastern territorial commander, also has been mentioned.

SEIZE MAIL FRAUD SUSPECTS.

Two men wanted in New York on mail fraud charges were arrested by postoffice inspectors here yesterday. They are Milton P. Lefkaditis, 50 years old, of 558 Wrightwood avenue and Ben Weinberg, 42, of 839 Diversey parkway. Both waived examination.

WE'LL BE STRICT, SAY 4 WOMEN ON NEW GRAND JURY

Want No Sob Stuff; Favor Capital Punishment.

BY MARCIA WINN.

The three words, "of either sex," in the amended Illinois jurors' act yesterday permitted the names of 229 women to be drawn for jury service in Cook county.

Of these, four were drawn for the grand jury panel of 23. They will serve during the month of September. Two others were drawn on the supplemental grand jury list of 20, and 223 were on the list of 400 drawn from the Criminal court jury service. Each of the 223 will serve for two weeks, some of them reporting for duty Sept. 5 and some on Sept. 18. The drawing was done from an official hopper of 3,000 names, half of them women, all of whom have qualified since the new law went into effect on July 1.

They will be the first women to serve on juries in Chicago under the new law. Most of them are housewives.

Five Grand Jurors Delighted.

Of the six women called for grand jury service, five heard the news with delight. The sixth called through her closed door that she would call the police if her informants didn't depart, and quickly.

The five who talked of their new position all are in favor of capital punishment. All said the sex of the defendant made no difference to them, with the exception of one, who added, "Well, women are a lot meaner; they ought to get longer sentences." Neither eloquence nor emotion, they said, could sway them.

By a strange coincidence Mrs. Rose Carek of 1813 South Harding avenue, who was the first woman to qualify as a juror under the new act, was drawn for the grand jury. She is 50, an ardent worker in the Parent-Teacher association and feels she will be a good juror because "women read character quicker than men, and have intuition."

Husband Thinks It's Fine.

Mrs. Carek is the mother of a son and two daughters, all grown. Her husband, Frank, owns an automobile repair shop. He thinks it fine that women are emancipated at last.

Mrs. Bertha Banner of 2620 Agatite avenue, also is 50 and a housewife. She considers jury service a privilege and is a firm believer in strict punishment. "I think we should live up to the laws," she said. Her husband, Edward, is a construction engineer with the city. She has two sons, a daughter, and a grandson.

Mrs. May J. Drake of 3029 Sheffield avenue, 48, and a widow, knows she wouldn't be lenient to a defendant of her own sex. Women, she says emphatically, are too mean.

The fourth woman for the regular grand jury panel is Mrs. Marie Elizabeth Ahearn of 3958 Drexel boulevard. It was she who threatened to call the police.

Calls It an Adventure.

Miss Mary E. Quail, 6616 Glenwood avenue, one of the two women selected for supplemental grand jury service, thinks it will be quite an adventure. She once worked eight years as a legal stenographer, but never has been inside a courtroom.

Miss Quail is 45, a real estate saleswoman. She certainly does not think a jury should be lenient with a woman who, say, shot her husband because he went out with another woman.

Mrs. Florence Pennick of 4336 North Western avenue, 52, and a housewife, was elated. "I think it's wonderful," she said.

Her husband, Walter, a bartender, is a little sad. He's been in Chicago thirty years and he's never been called for jury service.

ACTION ON 'FIX' CASE DEMANDED BY CRIME BOARD

Calls on State, Court, Bar Group to Sift Charge.

The Chicago crime commission, in a bulletin issued yesterday, called upon the chief justice of the Municipal court, the state's attorney, and the Chicago Bar association to take whatever action is deemed proper in the charge that a case was "fixed" before Judge Eugene L. McGarry in Felony court.

Frank Klakowicz.

"Judge McGarry," the bulletin said, "has been accused by the state's attorney. If there is provable evidence of judicial misconduct on his part, steps should be taken to remove him, not only from the Felony court, but from the bench altogether, by impeachment.

Urge Investigation of Charge.

"Mere accusations bring the courts into disrespect and leave, if nothing else, at least a suspicion in the minds of the people with regard to the integrity of the judges. Accusations should not be made if they cannot be proved. The remedy lies in the hands of the chief justice, the state's attorney, and the bar association."

The accusation by State's Attorney Courtney grew out of the case of Frank Klakowicz, charged with the theft of radios valued at $1,900 from a store where he was formerly employed.

Klakowicz was arraigned before Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley in Criminal court yesterday on an indictment charging burglary of tools from the same store. He wept as his attorney, Thaddeus Toudor, entered a plea of not guilty for him. The trial will be tomorrow before Judge Joseph Sabath. Attorney Toudor indicated he would waive a jury.

Granted Probation by Judge.

When tried originally before Judge McGarry for the radio theft, Klakowicz was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell. It was charged that later Judge McGarry ordered the sentence vacated without the knowledge of the state's attorney's office. He granted probation to Klakowicz last Thursday.

Assistant State's Attorney Joseph O'Connor then obtained the indictment against Klakowicz for burglary. Judge McGarry went to Emmett Moynihan, acting first assistant state's attorney, to complain of O'Connor's action. According to Moynihan, Judge McGarry said he had granted leniency at the request of Ald. Joseph Rostenkowski [32d].

The alderman denied asking the judge to "fix" the case. Then Judge McGarry denied he mentioned Ald. Rostenkowski's name to any one.

Judge McGarry wore an immaculate white linen suit in Felony court yesterday. He and Assistant State's Attorney O'Connor were studiously polite to each other.

McGarry Discusses Case.

When he stepped from the bench Judge McGarry discussed developments with reporters. When asked if he planned to seek a transfer to some other branch of the Municipal court, he said he saw no reason to ask a transfer but added he would go wherever he is sent.

"I can't understand all this hullabaloo about the case," Judge McGarry stated. "Klakowicz had robbed his employer. His wife pleaded with me to do something for him.

"I'll always run my court as I see fit and not as some one orders me to run it. I came to the Felony court to speed up its cases. I have been extra careful about gun cases and moron defendants.

"I have become known as 'One Year McGarry' because of my severity in gun and moron cases."

2 GET 6 MONTH JAIL TERMS IN ALIMONY CASES

Judge Robert C. O'Connell of Superior court yesterday ordered six month jail sentences for two men accused by their estranged wives of refusing to pay alimony and support money for their children. The men are Howard Gray, 28 years old, of 321 South East avenue, Oak Park, and Clifford Hawver, 30, of Harvard, McHenry county.

Mrs. Rose Gray, 27, of 2816 Cermak road, complained to Judge O'Connell her husband drives a new automobile, but says he is unable to pay her $85 he owes on the $15 a week he has been ordered to pay for the support of Mrs. Gray and their two children.

Hawver was arrested early yesterday on a writ of attachment secured by his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Hawver, 29, of 4405 North Clark street. They have been separated since December, 1934. Hawver was sent to jail when he admitted an arrearage of $237 on the $15 a week he was ordered to pay to support his wife and their 4 year old daughter.

BILL JOHNSON CALLED BEFORE SKIDMORE JURY

Begin Probe Into Income of Syndicate Chief.

The federal grand jury last night was deep in its investigation into the income of William R. [Billy] Skidmore, reputed collector of the Chicago gambling syndicate.

That investigation, which began yesterday, is intended to reveal where Skidmore got the money which the government says passed through his hands, and what he did with it. The government expects to show that he collected the money from gambling houses for protecting them from law enforcement officers, and that he distributed part of it to those officers.

William Johnson Appears.

Most important of the day's witnesses was William Johnson, who is reputed to own some of the city's largest gambling houses. Because the inquiry is being conducted with the greatest secrecy, officials would not divulge whether he talked willingly, talked unwillingly, or refused to talk.

It was reported at the United States courthouse that George [Doc] Williams, former undercover man for the government, the police, and the state's attorney's office and now said to be associated with Skidmore, would be another witness. He waited in the corridor outside the grand jury room, but said he had not been subpenaed.

Plan to Call Police Captains.

William J. Campbell, United States district attorney, said thirty-five subpenas already have been issued. Some of those to be called, it was understood, are police captains whom the government plans to question about gambling in their districts. Public officials and politicians, large and small, are also reported to be on the government's witness list.

The district attorney said gambling as such is a problem for the city and county governments. The federal government's only interest in it, he said, is in collecting income tax.

The government is scrutinizing Skidmore's income for the years 1933 to 1937, inclusive. The government already has a civil action pending to collect $220,007 in taxes, fraud penalties, and interest on Skidmore's income for that period.

WOMAN'S ARREST ORDERED IN $3,000 EXTORTION PLOT

A warant for the arrest of Mrs. Mae Lantz of 612 Washington park, Waukegan, on a charge of attempted extortion was issued yesterday by Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt of Waukegan. It charges that Mrs. Lantz, who is 38 years old, threatened Dr. L. E. Bovik, a Waukegan physician, in an attempt to get $3,000 from him.

Mrs. Lantz was arrested for disorderly conduct on July 6 after she allegedly had annoyed Dr. Bovik in his office at 275 Harding avenue, Waukegan. A hearing on the charge scheduled for yesterday before Justice Hoyt, was continued until Aug. 24.

Attorneys representing Dr. Bovik filed a suit for $150,000 in the Lake county Circuit court Saturday against Mrs. Lantz, charging her with conspiracy.

RAPIST'S VICTIM NOTES MILEAGE; HE IS CAPTURED

Because a rapist's victim remembered the mileage on the speedometer of his automobile, he was in jail last night after confessing his crime. The young girl victim was released near her Jefferson Park home early yesterday after a night of horror. She told the police the speedometer of her attacker's car showed 300 miles.

Capt. John Walsh put Sergt. Justin McCarthy and his squad on the case. They began tabulating new car sales on the north side. Before nightfall they had established a suspect, Kenneth Eugene Kelly, 23 years old, 907 George street, a married tool and die maker.

When Kelly came home last night he was arrested and taken to the station, where his victim identified him.

GADGET SUPER-EXTRAORDINARY

By CALEB

AMONG visitors to the Columbian Exposition of 1893, later destined—like Henry Ford and A. Montgomery Ward—to alter the future business habits of a whole nation, were two total strangers over whom hovered a mutually momentous destiny.

One was a talented and successful lawyer of thirty-eight, from Meadville, Pa., named Col. Lewis Walker; the other a versatile inventor, Whitcomb L. Judson, who had an idea of vast possibilities. Lawyer and inventor met — and instantly the former saw what the latter's idea would mean to mankind, despite obvious crudities.

Doubtless, Col. Walker little dreamed of the twenty years of disappointment and economic adversity confronting his vision. All first attempts to improve the device, and sell it, ingloriously failed. Attempts to build mass production machinery failed. Companies were organized, named, and failed. Plants were successively opened and closed in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey. Then, exactly two decades after his venture was launched, Col. Walker was elected president of a new organization, The Hookless Fastener Company; a building the size of a barn was rented in Meadville, Pa.; and twenty employes started work. For the next twelve years, the president and his two sons were the sole "sales force."

But success was demonstrably in sight. By 1917, Talon fasteners first appeared on sailors' money belts. A second debut was made on aviators' suits; then on gloves; then on tobacco pouches. Yet in 1920, twenty-seven years after his encounter with the New Idea, sales were only $26,000, employes numbered but 42, and the Colonel was 65 years old! Notwithstanding, sales trebled a year later . . . by 1937, the company name changed to Talon, Inc.; personnel had mounted to 4,000; and annual payrolls totaled $4,000,000. As for Meadville, the town, its population had increased 70 per cent; it had weathered the depression practically unscathed; and its young visitor to the Columbian Exposition of forty-four years earlier was a larger employer than all its other business firms combined!

Such, in brief, is the saga of Talon: the gadget super-extraordinary appearing on some twenty different lines of Field merchandise—with no less than 1,798 styles, lengths and colors available to home users, in our first-floor notions section.

MARRIAGES RUN AFOUL OF NEW LAB TEST LAW

Examiners Required to Be on Approved List.

A score of couples were denied marriage licenses yesterday at the county clerk's office because their venereal disease tests had been made by laboratories not approved by the state health department.

Under a law passed by the last general assembly pre-nuptial diagnostic laboratories are subject to inspection by the state department and must receive official approval before their reports can be recognized by county clerks issuing marriage licenses.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn said yesterday he thought it was a bad law.

Thinks It's a Shame.

"The state health department should either approve a laboratory or put it out of business so it cannot operate," he said. "It's a shame because in many cases these couples are having their wedding plans upset while new tests are being made."

Flynn said he sent notices of the law to all hospitals last week. The notices, to be posted on bulletin boards for the attention of physicians, included lists of approved Chicago laboratories.

Dr. Herbert E. McDaniels, coördinating bacteriologist for the state health department, said all physicians in the state were supplied with copies of the new law and lists of approved laboratories.

"All diagnostic laboratories were informed of the law and, if unapproved, they should not have completed the tests," he declared.

Survey of Labs Made.

Dr. McDaniels said the approval system was developed by the state health department after a survey conducted last spring showed the ability to detect syphilis varied from 92 to 31 per cent in different laboratories.

The state department of health is not closing unapproved laboratories because it would rather bring them up to standard, Dr. McDaniels said. He added that there are too few laboratories in the state.

A list of approved laboratories sent out by the state department on Aug. 5 showed sixty-eight in Chicago. Flynn estimated that 300 laboratories in Cook county have been conducting pre-nuptial examinations.

Divorced in Nevada

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. WM. H. MITCHELL.

Mrs. Ginevra King Mitchell was granted a divorce in a secret hearing at Carson City, Nev., yesterday from William H. Mitchell, Chicago investment banker, of 901 East Rosemary road, Lake Forest. Mrs. Mitchell charged mental cruelty.

They were married in Chicago Sept. 4, 1918, and have three children, William H. Mitchell Jr., 20 years old, Charles L. Mitchell, 18, and Ginevra Mitchell, 13. An agreement, read into the court records and sealed with the testimony, provides for custody and support of the children and effects a property settlement.

Mrs. Mitchell, active in Chicago society, also was a leader some years ago in the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. In January, 1932, four members of the old "42" gang were convicted of robbing the Mitchell Lake Forest home of $150,000 in a spectacular holdup the preceding November, and were sentenced to a year to life in prison.

SEN. VANDENBERG SAYS SIX MONTHS COULD END SLUMP

Asks Administration Free Enterprise.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP).—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] today declared that the United States, under an administration sympathetic to the return of free enterprise, would pull itself out of the economic depression in six months.

Under such an administration, he declared, the United States would become an 80 billion dollar country in terms of annual income.

Tells Way to Prosperity.

He said:

"It can't be done with patent medicines. It can't be done with rabbits out of hats. It can't be done with trick arithmetic. It can't be done by any Wizard of Oz who tries to build a solvent prosperity around an insolvent treasury. It can't be done by new adventures in red ink.

"But it can be done under the voluntary, fraternal coöperation of forward looking Americans who, once more, are released to the pursuits of private initiative and private investment and private enterprise under a solvent, sympathetic government which proposes to give the American system of free enterprise a final chance."

Optimist on Future.

The United States, he continued, is headed for "either national bankruptcy or national repudiation or the equally suicidal sin of profligate inflation" unless the present administration discontinues "spending $15,000 a minute while we take in only $8,000 a minute."

"But make no mistake about my fundamental attitude," he concluded. "I am an incorrigible optimist for our America. I do not believe we are inevitably committed to 12,000,000 unemployed, I do not believe the day of economic sanity is done."

ROOSEVELT MUM, SMILES AT KELLY THIRD TERM TALK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAMPOBELLO ISLAND, New Brunswick, Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt expressed interest today in the declaration of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago that he should be drafted as a candidate for a third term.

Interrupting his deep sea fishing vacation for a brief stop at his mother's summer home here, the President received reporters at a press conference. When he asserted he had received no political news since he boarded the cruiser Tuscaloosa in New York last Saturday, he was shown a newspaper carrying Mayor Kelly's statement to the national convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Mr. Roosevelt read the clipping with care. Then he smiled. Then he said he had no comment to make, but was thankful for being shown the story. He laughingly parried numerous attempts to obtain a statement concerning his third term ambitions.

Mrs. McLaughlin's Private Secretary Seeks a Divorce

Mrs. Gladys Irene Young, private secretary to Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, former dancing star, filed suit in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan for a divorce from Graeme Edward Young, 42 years old, now a resident of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Young, who is 37 years old, and lives at 1142 Chestnut street, Deerfield, charged that her husband refused to support her and deserted her on March 3, 1938.

'MISS BRITAIN'S' BOW IN LONDON CHARMS HEARERS

Sings Folk Song Chosen for Chicago Festival.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Miss Marjorie Farrage, who will sing as Miss Britain in The Tribune's Chicagoland Music Festival at Soldiers' field next Saturday night was a big success in her London debut tonight.

Told that the 21 year old blonde who was selected by the London Daily Sketch to sing in Chicago was in the audience of the Prince of Wales Variety theater, Douglas Byng, star comedian, invited her to appear on the stage and sing one of the numbers she has selected for her Chicago appearance. Miss Farrage accepted the invitation and, standing in the spotlight before a fashionable west end audience, sang "Cherry Ripe," an old English song.

Sings for Recording.

Her rendition of this song was cheered and Byng told the audience that "no amateur has ever walked on this stage and made such a hit."

Earlier today Miss Farrage heard herself as others hear her. She visited a recording studio and had an audition in which she sang "Cherry Ripe" once more. She was accompanied by Mme. Lily Payling, Australian concert singer, who was one of the judges who selected her for title of Miss Britain and who has been assisting her to keep her voice in condition during the strenuous week in London before she leaves for Chicago.

Mme. Payling was impressed by Miss Farrage's coolness and absence of "mike fright" as she made the recording. Walter Legg, recording manager of the firm, said Miss Britain had a "very full and excellent recording voice."

Boards Clipper Tomorrow.

After Miss Farrage returns to England she is to make recordings of the songs sung in the Chicagoland Festival. She listened critically as the test record of her voice was played back to her.

Although Miss Farrage's voice is in tip top shape, she spent an hour today practicing under the watchful eye of Mme. Payling. She will practice once more tomorrow and that will be the last before she leaves for Southampton to board the Yankee Clipper on Wednesday. Aboard the big Pan-American flying boat she hopes to relax for the first time since coming to London a week ago from her home town, Darlington, in County Durham, in the north of England.

Tomorrow night Miss Britain is to meet Tyrone Power, American movies star, at 9 o'clock in the Gaumont theater. In the afternoon she will be the guest of honor at a party in Mme. Payling's studio to which a number of music celebrities have been invited.

JOAN FONTAINE.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14 [Special].—The engagement of Joan Fontaine and Brian Aherne, film stars, will be announced this week, it is reported here. Aherne, 37 year old British actor, visited Miss Fontaine's mother, Mrs. George Fontaine, at her northern California home at Saratoga yesterday and is said to have secured her approval.

Miss Fontaine entered pictures after her sister, Olivia de Havilland, had become a star. Declining to capitalize upon her sister's fame, Miss Fontaine took her step-father's surname.

Irene McLaughlin Returns to Stage in Coward Play

Millburn, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP).—Irene Castle, celebrated dancer of the prewar era, returned to the stage tonight as a dramatic actress in Noel Coward's "Shadow Play," part of his "Tonight at Eight-thirty." Four hundred summer theatergoers at the paper mill playhouse applauded heartily as she floated across the stage for the brief interlude in the play in which she dances. Rex O'Malley was received warmly as Miss Castle's leading man in the production staged by Alexander Kirkland.

QUAYLE PLACES LEWIS' HELP TO PARTY AT $500,000

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14 (AP).—Oliver Quale, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, today said he had ascertained that the United Mine Workers of America had put up about $500,000 for the 1936 Democratic campaign. Of the total, $256,250, including a $50,000 loan, went to the Democratic national committee.

In a statement last week, Quayle said he did not know what contributions had been made by John L. Lewis, the C. I. O. head, to local campaigns, but that "all the national committee ever got from him was $50,000, and that's been paid off." Lewis also is head of the United Mine Workers.

Today Quayle said his statement had been made on the basis of what the committee books showed at the time he became treasurer in April, 1937. A check of the records prior to his tenure, he added, showed that other U. M. W. A. outlays brought the total contributions to about $500,000.

HOW TO AVOID BALDNESS

Watch these danger zones

DEFINITE warning signals always precede baldness. When your scalp itches or is laden with dandruff, and when your hair falls abnormally in the "danger zones" (forehead and crown) you are being warned that baldness is approaching. You must act at once if you wish to avoid baldness.

Do what a quarter-million other men have done — consult Thomas. Thomas treatment is proved by almost two decades of success — is reliable, dignified, and inexpensive. It ends dandruff, stops abnormal hair loss, and promotes hair growth on the thin and bald spots. Call today for a complete scalp examination. No charge is made for the examination nor for consultation and if you do not come within the scope of Thomas treatment you will be promptly told.

When you eat in a nervous hurry, your stomach often feels sickish, sour and upset. Take soothing, calming Pepto-Bismol right away—and help quiet the upset.

Don't make the mistake of adding to an upset condition with over-doses of drastic, irritating physics and purges. It is far better to help quiet the upset and soothe the irritated intestinal walls.

Take soothing Pepto-Bismol! Not an antacid. Pepto-Bismol aids in retarding intestinal fermentation, gas formation and simple diarrhea . . . helps the stomach distressed by over-indulgence, nervous indigestion, change of diet, or improperly selected or prepared food.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

A charming, happy woman whose serene blue eyes have looked at seventy-seven years of life came home to Chicago yesterday, home to enjoy what she regards as one of the greatest events of her lifetime.

She is Carrie Jacobs Bond, one of America's best loved composers. She is the author of "A Perfect Day," "I Love You Truly," and many other songs whose heart appeal compare only to the songs of Stephens Collins Foster. She is in Chicago, the scene of her early struggles, to be the guest of honor at the tenth Chicagoland Music Festival next Saturday night in Soldiers' field.

Awaits Her "Greatest Thrill."

Seated yesterday in her suite at the Stevens, she said a little tremulously:

"It will be the greatest thrill of my life to see 100,000 people listening to "A Perfect Day." I hope it doesn't overcome me. You know, I'm not accustomed to thrills like that."

Mrs. Bond, as most every one knows, was born in Janesville, Wis., and was reared in the quiet security of a well-to-do home. Tragedy entered her life suddenly when her husband, Dr. Frank Lewis Bond, was killed accidentally at Iron River, Mich.

She came to Chicago just after the Columbian Exposition of 1893, hopeful of earning a living for her son and herself.

Seeks Market for Songs.

The only thing she had to sell was her music. Mrs. Bond was almost a prodigy so far as her music went. At the age of 9 she had mastered the Second Hungarian Rhapsody on the piano and soon after that she was composing little songs for the amusement of herself, her playmates, and her parents.

She continued this after her marriage, but never, until her husband's tragic death, did she think of selling these songs. In Chicago she lived in a south side room, lighted by gas, and there she continued to write music.

Finding little demand for her work, she began singing her songs in the homes of friends to popularize them. The Arché club, on the south side, gave her encouragement. Soon some of the little compositions were heard by George McConnell and by Jessie Bartlett David of the Bostonians. Mrs. David paid $250 for the privilege of publishing a little volume of Carrie Jacobs Bond music. It was entitled "Songs as Unpretentious as the Wild Rose." That book contained "I Love You Truly," and "Just A' Wearyin' for You."

And all the while Mrs. Bond was hopeful of opening her own little music shop—the Bond shop. When she did this she felt she had achieved her life's ambition.

Has Love for Chicagoans.

"How little I knew about achievement then," she remarked yesterday. "I have had the grandest, fullest life any one could have. I am happy.

"Chicago has meant everything to me. It was here that I had my bitterest struggles and it is here that I am to have my greatest triumph. I love Chicago and I love Chicagoans."

At the festival luncheon next Friday in the Stevens hotel Mrs. Bond will hear Edith Mason, the opera star, sing "When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day." On either side of her will sit George Ade, famous American humorist, and John T. McCutcheon, THE TRIBUNE'S celebrated cartoonist. About forty years ago Mr. McCutcheon's influence aided Mrs. Bond when her struggle for a livelihood was the bitterest.

At Soldiers' field the following night, Mrs. Bond will enter with John Carter, Metropolitan opera star, whose golden voice will be one of the features of the evening. As the climax of the evening a great set piece in fire will reproduce first a towering portrait of Mrs. Bond, then a porch scene and setting sun. And the musical accompaniment? "A Perfect Day"—of course!

ENGINEER WHO OPENED KICKAPOO BRANCH TO RUN LAST TRAIN TODAY

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Aug. 14 [Special].—The last train on the Kickapoo branch of the Milwaukee railroad will pull out of La Farge, Wis., tomorrow morning. At the throttle will be Marr Holman, 74 years old, who took the first train up the Kickapoo from Wauzeka to La Farge in 1892. He continued as engineer on the line until two years ago, when he was retired.

Route of Kickapoo Branch Is Shown.

The Kickapoo branch, 52 miles long, was for years a money maker and contributed much to the welfare of the 7,000 people in the Kickapoo river valley, but it has lost out, due to competition with motor trafic.

Permission to discontinue the line was granted the Milwaukee railroad by the interstate commerce commission on its showing of continued losses. Rails and bridges will be taken up and the right of way and property at the eight stations will be sold. Dismantling of the line already has started.

HAY FEVERITES FIND A HEAVEN 4,000 FEET IN SKY

Four thousand feet above Chicago, O. C. Durham, chief botanist of the Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago, and a party of hay fever victims yesterday found air free from pollen. They were piloted by Capt. A. K. Stiles in a United Air Lines Mainliner. Durham leaves today on a 10,000 mile flight to seek further data on the pollen content of the air at varying altitudes.

Near the ground yesterday Durham found a count of 27 granules to the cubic yard. From 1,000 to 2,000 feet up pollen free stratum extended over the city, but between 3,000 and 4,000 feet the count was 25 particles to the cubic yard. Beyond that altitude none was discovered.

44 WILL COMPETE IN INSTRUMENTAL CONTEST TONIGHT

Musicians to Seek Festival Honors.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Forty-four instrumentalists — cornetists, violinists, and accordionists—will play tonight in the Cook county preliminary instrumental contest of the Chicagoland Music Festival. The competition will begin at 7 o'clock in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel. Admission for the public will be 25 cents.

Christina Nicholas, In violin contest.

The winners in tonight's events will compete Saturday morning in the Chicagoland finals in the Medinah club. And those placing first in the finals will play Saturday night at the festival concert in Soldiers' field.

5 BEST CHORUSES IN COOK COUNTY CHOSEN IN FETE

Massed Singing of 500 Stirs Crowd.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

Pack 500 trained singers in an auditorium. Choose a leader. Give them a song to sing, and ask them to stand and sing it. Then listen.

Last night, fifteen choruses of men and women blended their rich voices to perfection at a Chicagoland Music festival contest in the Drake hotel. Of the fifteen five groups were adjudged the finest in Cook county in their respective classes. They will meet the best choruses of surrounding cities on Saturday, the afternoon of the festival, to compete for first place in Chicagoland. Their's was beautiful music.

Massed Singing Magnificent.

But it was the songs they sang together, without thought of prizes or acclamation, that were magnificent. When Nobel Cain, composer and choral director, leaped to the top of a grand piano to lead them in Handel's Hallelujah chorus the result was sheer vocal magic.

When the singers had finished, and while the room still rocked with their voices, the audience roared, shouted and could only be silenced by the stern warning of Mrs. Edmund Tyler, chairman of the contest, that the show must go on.

Three Polish choruses were prize winners. Miss Adeline Preyss led the Echo Women's Choral club, forty-eight girls in striking red and white costumes, to first place in Class B for the women's voices. Class B is limited to twenty to forty-nine voices.

Zdzislaw Skublikowski and his forty-five singers of the Sarmatia Male chorus won Class B in the men's division. Alexander Karczynski's Plon chorus won first place in Class B mixed choruses by singing a composition of his own and Cain's "God of the Open Air."

German Singers Outstanding.

The Schwaebischer Saengerbund Men's chorus, directed by H. A. Rehberg, was the only Class A group to enter the men's choruses. Class A is for groups from fifty to a hundred voices. The Saengerbund was unchallenged, but, the judges agreed, it probably would have been anyway. Their singing was superb.

Two honors were won by Miss Frankye E. Browne and her colored singers from the YMCA-NYA. Her group of thirty men took second prize in Class B for men, and her mixed chorus of more than sixty singers was awarded first place in the Class A, mixed voices.

Mrs. Grace Humphrey led twenty-five members of the Parker Women's chorus to second place in Class B for women. The South Park Young People's choir, a colored chorus directed by James T. Campbell, won second place in the Class B, mixed choruses.

FARMER WINS HORNER AIR TOUR TROPHY IN PLANE OWNED 2 WEEKS

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14 (AP).—R. A. Teutsch, Bloomington farmer-aviator, was announced today as winner of the Gov. Horner trophy and $100 first prize for best performance in the sportsman's class during the 900-mile air tour and efficiency flight contest which ended last Saturday.

Teutsch, who purchased his own plane only two weeks ago, came within eight seconds of landing at the arrival time set for him at the finish of the flight. He was accompanied by his wife on the tour.

F. F. Stripe of Waukegan won the $100 first prize in the commercial pilots' class and also took the $50 prize for coming the greatest distance from Springfield to compete.

GOOD OLD Rheingold BEER

Always the Same Satisfying Flavor

● The uniformity of finer flavor that has made Good Old Rheingold Beer a big favorite does not "just happen." We take no chances in brewing—never have in 80 years.

For example, the composition of the water must be exactly right. It must in no way interfere with the full development of flavor and quality that do not vary.

Every drop of water we use in brewing is specially filtered and boiled. It is then crystal clear and softened to the perfect degree for blending with other scientifically tested ingredients.

Next time, ask for Good Old Rheingold Beer and get greater enjoyment. Remember—no guessing is done in the making. Read more about good beer in our advertisements.

SHALL WE FIGHT IN CHINA?

What are they quarreling about in Asia? What else than the spoils of conquest, spheres of influence, and concessions obtained by force of arms? If the Japanese succeeded to the full of their military desires, their position in China would be that of Great Britain's in India and Burma and of France in Indo-China. They would have the power which Germany once had in Kiaochow, Russia in Manchuria, and which Great Britain retains in Hongkong.

Just before the United States went to war in Spain to free the Cubans and unexpectedly and ironically to make the Filipinos a subject people, Russia, Germany, Great Britain, and France were on the point of dividing China up four ways. The British were better satisfied with their status as it was and, preferring to stop the larger powers rather than to join them, persuaded the United States to propose the open door policy, which since has been our excuse for meddling in affairs in the far east. One reason for the retention of the Philippines, aside from the reason found in the nationalistic exaltation following the war, was that the islands would give us a jumping off place for influence in China.

Occidental imperialism in China is not a record of extraordinary altruism. The foreign devil has swaggered about in the treaty ports and concessions with a great deal of contempt for Chinese culture. He has acted the overlord and has merited a good deal of the dislike many of the Chinese had for him. Some good may have been done by the various missions to which many Americans have devoted their lives, but in the main force has been used in self-interest. The spheres of influence were obtained by guns. They have been protected by armed men. The Japanese armies now are larger than any the occidentals ever had to use and the Japanese design is on a much greater scale.

We must be forced to admit that if Russia and Germany had been successful in their invasions they would have drawn the British and the French into still larger areas of China and that the position of Japan in Asia would have been secondary. The Japanese would have taken orders from their powerful neighbors. They would have been unable to match a combined front of these white aggressors. Pride as well as security prompted the Japanese to ward off this danger. Events gave them the opportunity to take their enemies, such as they certainly would have proved to be, one by one.

The United States sympathized with the Japanese when they turned back the Russians. Americans believed the Japanese were right when they ordered the Germans out, and it was only when they made their twenty-one point demand on China that American support was withdrawn. The Japanese are, of course, disingenuous when they justify their campaign in China by saying that communism is the great Asiatic peril. That probably is true, but the whole Japanese scheme was fully outlined in the demands made in 1915, before a Red had been heard of. Reds or no Reds, the Japanese policy is to liquidate occidental imperialism in China and to take over the development of the country themselves.

This policy is pursued in violation of treaties and of what we think should be international morality. We think the Chinese should be allowed to develop their own destiny and that they should not be subjected to an alien and hated foreign régime. But the difference between the occidental imperialists and the Japanese is one of extent and not of kind. The nature of the aggression is the same, although the methods are different. If Mexico were as full of European invaders as China has been for a hundred years or more, Americans would think the situation intolerable.

Americans know they would not willingly go to war to keep American gunboats on Chinese rivers or to assert our right to keep American troops in Chinese ports. Americans would expect that their government would be able to protect American property and legitimate interests by diplomatic methods. We are not going to war with Mexico, although American property has been stolen there, not by acknowledged brigands but by the Mexican government. We find it possible to keep our troops out of Mexico.

For what purpose, then, are we intervening in China? Mr. Roosevelt has been the foremost advocate of a quarantine against Japan. He is more openly hostile than Mr. Chamberlain. He has said more emphatic things and taken more emphatic action than the British. He has given notice that the trade treaty will be abrogated. That prepares the way for the breaking off of commercial relations, which is a hostile act. We have supplied the Chinese with money. One item is $25,000,000 for the purpose of buying trucks to keep the Chinese supply lines moving through French Indo-China and British Burma. Our government helped the Chinese agents recruit the assistance of the Keeshin trafic experts. These and other acts, such as our fleet movements and our permitted use of the Singapore base, indicate to the Japanese that Washington and London have an understanding and that the British and French imperialism in Asia has the backing of the American government.

If it be the fact, as we think Americans will concede, that there are no American interests in China which would justify a war with Japan if it could be avoided, what, then, will be the cause if we find that we have committed ourselves to hostilities? Will it not be primarily to protect European imperialism in Asia? It is an absurdity for this country to withdraw from its own dominion in the far east, to get out of the Philippines and retract our frontiers, and at the same time invite the danger and the complications which we think we lessen by the retreat from the far Pacific. It would be as absurd for the United States to fight a war for British and French conquests in China as it would be to fight one to maintain what is left of the treaty of Versailles, which the United States repudiated and rejected.

THIRD TERMS OF VARIOUS KINDS.

The third term must project itself from an assumption of indispensability. The question then is, indispensable to what? Not to the country. The nation never yet has encountered that quality in a chief executive after his eight years and it has been through some very trying experiences, not only of economic depression and hardship but of violent political disagreement. It hasn't yet found itself at the end of two four-year terms looking about in vain for any other than the then occupant of the White House for its salvation.

The indispensability must be to only one thing. That is the New Deal, which, in turn, is Mr. Roosevelt. The third term is indispensable to Mr. Roosevelt. The New Deal is the most dispensable thing in the country. In this its seventh year it would seem that there could be no other national blessing so great as the folding up of this deal as a much regretted experience. If it could be buried in painful memories the country would come out of its bombproofs and go to work.

No third term in any important office is a desirable thing, regardless of the character and works of the man who has occupied the place. That applies not only to the presidency, regarding which the great American tradition has developed. It also applies to governors and mayors. The people of the country have been wisely set against a third term in the White House because they instinctively realize that the very seeking of this long tenure of office revealed in the person so ambitious a bent of mind in itself contrary to democratic processes. The dictator is a man who tries to persuade other people that he is indispensable and who, if he cannot do it peacefully, will use force.

A man who has had eight years as governor or two terms as mayor should have had his fill of public office and should be willing to retire. If he is not, the people should be more willing to see that he does. The limited tenure of office recognizes that government is not dependent on a few persons. If government were to be so regarded, it necessarily would become autocratic and not democratic. If these were merely jobs of hard work and no political power, the argument against long tenure might not be so valid. But places are political and they build up political machines in which office becomes a vested interest and permanence a requirement. This leads to a governing class and it eventually would make real democracy an impossibility.

CRIME AND POLITICS.

The Chicago Bar association is going to investigate charges recently made against Judge Eugene McGarry of the Municipal court. The judge has been accused by State's Attorney Courtney's office of turning a thief loose at the request of Ald. Rostenkowski. The judge says the alderman did not intervene. It is admitted by every one, including the prisoner, that he is a thief; that the felony count against him was waived; that it was understood he was to receive a sentence of a year in the Bridewell, and that Judge McGarry thereupon placed the man on probation.

Certainly there is great need for an impartial inquiry into this case to determine whether the alliance of crime and politics in this community is again operating in full force. The voters would like to know whether their elected officials are in cahoots with criminals, protecting them before and after arrest in return for political or financial support at election time. The people have a right to know whether judges hearing felony cases customarily take their decisions from political leaders. Obviously there can be no safety for life and property in Chicago if professional criminals know they can escape punishment. The community expects its police, its prosecutors, and its judges to protect it, not its enemies, and accordingly the community is grateful to State's Attorney Courtney's men for their determined stand.

Further evidence pointing to the existence of a crimino-political alliance may have been uncovered the other day in the escape of three young men from the administration building of the county jail. They were there for questioning and were supposedly being guarded by three policemen, one a member of Mr. Courtney's staff. They escaped by prying the heavy netting from a lavatory window. As in all such affairs, the public from long experience has reason to suspect a deliberate lack of vigilance. A vigorous investigation to fix responsibility and to punish those who made the escape possible is plainly needed.

Editorial of the Day

MAKING CHURCH HISTORY.

[Boston Herald.]

Quietly and diligently the commissions of the Presbyterian and Protestant Episcopal churches are going forward with their appointed duty of preparing a platform, or concordat, as a basis for the eventual unification of the two denominations. Last October they met together in the General Theological seminary, the Episcopal school in New York City, and last week they convened again, this time in the stronghold of conservative Calvinism, Princeton seminary, where much of Presbyterian history has been made.

With deliberation and caution they go along a step at a time. This is well, for they are probably surveying a road for their own unity which may become a highway for the general unification of Protestantism. It is no new thing, one gladly notes, for the severed branches of the main Protestant bodies to come together. But the Presbyterians and the Episcopalians to unite would be a new thing of the utmost importance, because the historic differences between these two churches are great and their traditions are different. They are essentially alike in that each has an orderly system of church government with an extensive body of ecclesiastical law. They are different in their views of the validity of the ordination of ministries and the observance of the sacraments.

The delicate task of the joint commission is to formulate a statement that shall command the assent of both churches and to find a method by which the ministers of each may serve in the pulpits of the other and administer the sacraments for both. Whatever the commission recommends must be reported back to the governing bodies of both churches. Happily there is excellent prospect of the successful accomplishment of this merger. The result will be the creation of a church second to none in America in influence.

NEWTON AND JASPER.

In the slang of the lower castes of show-business, "jasper" is synonymous with "rube," "hayseed," and "hick." Why? Because there are eight agricultural counties and fifteen small towns in the United States named Jasper.

In Broadway satire the name Newton, or "Newt" for short, is often given to a rural character. Why? Because there are five agricultural counties and seventeen small towns in the United States named Newton.

In five states Jasper and Newton counties are adjoining; in two other states a town of Newton is located in a Jasper county. How come?

The mysterious affinity of Newton for Jasper and vice versa was pointed out in this column on Aug. 11, and contributor "S. Nosakcid" [Dickason spelled backward] immediately plunged into a study of county histories to solve it. He came upon an interesting story of the American revolution.

It appears that among the soldiers of Francis Marion, "the swamp fox" of the south, there were two sergeants whose exploits as a Damon-and-Pythias team became legendary. Their names were Newton and Jasper. Unaided, they waylaid a detachment of British soldiers who were escorting to execution some prisoners who had been tried as deserters. They dispersed the guard, killing several, and rescued the condemned men. At the bombardment of Fort Moultrie in 1776 Jasper sprang upon the parapet and replaced the flag that had been shot away. All through the war Sergts. Newton and Jasper were the boldest members of Marion's partisan bands.

Biographies of Marion were published in 1821 and 1833, and their tales of heroism, especially of Newton and Jasper, spread into the backwoods, where new lands were being surveyed and new towns founded. So now you know why a carnival ticket taker is likely to speak of a farmhand as a "jasper" and address him as "Newt."

NEW TOWERS FOR RUINS.

You have gone—
But I shall build towers to beauty, tho' the pain
Of wasted love and thwarted hopes
Shall tear them down again.

You have gone—
Yet I shall raise flags to beauty, tho' a sea
Tear-stained and bitter-spumed shall wash
My drowned dreams back to me.

You have gone—
But I shall lift sacrifice to beauty; sorrow skilled,
I'll cut my way anew, make life
A stronger tool, and build.

Musings of a Sundial.

They are no more, those fluttering fledglings of the days when the shadow was shortening fast, and frightened mothers hovered over their first flights; for June is far, far away, and now only at sundown do they return from their umbrageous retreats along the river and the uplands, strong of wing and eager with the strength of the novitiate to try the southward flight.

And the shadow on the dial grows longer.

The mulleins stand full six feet tall, and far beyond the reaches of the town, singing scythes have struck with sweeps of death upon the clover fields where the hedgerows breast midsummer's dust.

And herons stalk in vain for frogs along the dry brook bed.

But the sweetest phenomena of the year has come again—there the calyx of the trumpet flower now hears the vibrant music of the hummers while, far below, the garden spiders, dressed in rich vestments of black and gold, spin their webs, and fragile asters look up with temerity upon the towering dahlias.

The dawns are moist with the amethystine beauty of the dew, each drop in itself a universe of awe.

SONNET OF FLAMBEAU WOODS.

This is a solitude that speaks: the pines
Are busy with their gossiping; deer flies
Are mumbling in the sun; the pewee whines,
And hermit loons voice loneliness in cries.
The scolding squirrel articulate in scorn,
The chipmunk's strident chirp, the borer's drone,
The pompous frog's bass viol, the locust's horn—
These speak to me and I am not alone.
Here is a solitude that lives; the forms
Of long departed tenants of this shore
Slip past me in the silence; in the storms
I hear their war drums speak an ancient lore.
With lifted eyes to these clear skies they knew,

Are You an Autograph Fiend?

The recent visits of royal personages to America stimulated the autograph market. Owners of royal autographs took advantage of the revived interest and sold their specimens at fairly good prices.

The greatest demand was for Swedish royalty. The Napoleonic material has greatly dropped, not only in this country but even in France.

One of the rarest presidential autographs is that of William Henry Harrison while in the White House. He was ill from the day he moved in until his death one month later.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

WHEN A CORONARY VESSEL IS BLOCKED.

Coronary occlusion, or thrombosis, is becoming a popular diagnosis for almost every sort of pain which manifests itself in the region of the heart. But every symptom of this sort does not forecast trouble. Distress felt in the pit of the stomach, in the chest, or ranging down the arm to the finger tips may not signify cardiac disease at all. Nevertheless we can understand that the pumping organ is a huge muscle performing a laborious task; therefore, it must receive nourishment and its fibers are supplied via an arterial system of its own. Two main thoroughfares—called coronary vessels—do this.

If we are to maintain health at par, all parts of our circulatory system must be free from obstruction. The vital liquid must pass along easily with no bowlders blocking the pathway. When a pipestem is plugged, smoke cannot flow through freely and we are obliged to clean it out. Unfortunately we cannot do this with our arteries. There is no router or other instrument that can be introduced to scrape away the scales that may form therein.

But whence come these constricting masses? The blood itself, or disease of one or more coats of the vessel wall may be responsible. Natural wear and tear brings changes to cells throughout the body. Accompanying this process may be some hardening. As our conduits become less elastic they may narrow in caliber and thus be unable to transport the normal quantity of fluid. If the deposits in the interior continue to thicken there may come a time when no more can pass. In such a situation we say the tube is occluded.

Even before the symptoms are catalogued and the diagnosis determined it is important to provide rest. This means allaying the pain with suitable narcotics and supplying oxygen to help ward off the collection of water in the lungs, thus easing the whole breathing apparatus of overload. What the physician hopes to do is to preserve life until new circulating channels can develop through the enlargement of small branches and the repair of the affected regions. In many instances, new twigs will penetrate to the shutoff segment. If any locality fails to acquire another source of nutriment a scar will form which will be permanent. Unfortunately, sometimes a plug arising within the pumping chamber itself will choke completely a main branch, in which event the outlook is anything but favorable.

For the most part, however, these "accidents" are recoverable. In fact, nearly 75 per cent of all first attacks under careful management will regain normal function. The length of years thereafter depends upon the patient himself and his ability to adjust his activities to the power of his "ticker." It has been injured, yes, but it can work efficiently for a long time. "Do not strain a damaged heart muscle" is the main rule that must be observed.

Many of these episodes occur on vacations when one is likely to become overly ambitious; when, instead of exercising circumspectly, the individual reverts to the activities of his youth. Toward the end of every summer season I learn of several cases among persons who should have known better. One patient has recently returned from northern Michigan after having suffered such a mishap. He had had a strenuous day at fishing—landing a sizable string. A hearty evening meal was followed by bridge. After retiring—about 11:30—there came a pain in the stomach area which increased in severity until he was writhing in agony. Fortunately a visiting doctor was at hand and along toward morning relief was secured through the generous use of opiates.

If he is just reasonably careful he will probably not have another seizure and the chances are that he will live out his normal expectancy. Fortunately his blood pressure is within normal limits although an elevated tension does not seem to add to the hazard. This lesson will teach him more than all the preachments of his friends and he will now take care of himself and thus be saved to his family and his business.

WAGE PAYMENT.

Chicago, Aug. 9 [Legal Friend of the People].—A young man has been employed for the last week at a hamburger stand. His salary was to have been $1 a day plus tips. He worked ten hours a day, going in three hours earlier each day. Due to the fact he was being broken in he received no tips. He worked six days, or rather nights, and is penniless. This morning he was told that he did not work hard enough and that his services were no longer required. They told him to come for his check next Thursday and that he would be docked $1.35 each for three shirts they had given him to wear and which they still retain. He does not have any need of the shirts and is in dire need of money. It looks to me like a scheme to sell shirts and get help free of charge. What action can be taken to compel them to pay him the money he agreed to work for? A. K.

The 1937 wage payment law [Illinois Revised Statutes, chap. 48, sec. 39g] requires payment in full [1] in a case of discharge, within five days; [2] in case of quitting, on next pay day unless employé gave five days' notice, in which case payment in full at time of quitting. Does not apply to commissions or to wages in excess of $100. In case of willful refusal to pay, wages continue for ten days and employer may be fined $25 to $200. The Department of Labor, 205 W. Wacker drive, Room 822, is handling wage collections for persons who are financially unable to prosecute them.

EVASION NOT RECOMMENDED.

Chicago, Aug. 10 [Legal Friend of the People].—Please give me the names of nearby states or counties of said states where a marriage license can be assured without a compulsory blood test. Would a marriage license secured outside of Illinois be invalid in Illinois?

The requirement of the health examination has the almost unanimous approval of informed persons. If one of the parties proposes evasion of this salutary requirement, even on plausible grounds of economy or secrecy, it is a basis for suspicion that such party would not pass the examination, and hence is a reason for the other party to talk with a doctor as to the seriousness of the risk.

We are reluctant to assist you in a proposed evasion of the Illinois requirement. If you feel that your facts are exceptional, please state them.

"PEARY" GOOD FOR WHAT AILS YOU.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—While you folks are starting your American history course with the readers' bureau in the public library, there is another book which you must slip in somewhere. It is "Peary," by Fitzhugh Green, and it can be obtained from the third floor of the library.

There is something about this mighty tale that brings back "Northwest Passage." Robert E. Peary was not unlike Maj. Robert Rogers. And that trip back over the Greenland ice cap when he saved out nine cartridges for the dogs brings back to our startled minds the heroic trek of Rogers and his starving men to the fort where no food was waiting, after all. Again and again in "Peary" your heart will come up in your throat and almost stand still as you face with those men the stark, staring things that they turned into ultimate victory.

Then there is Josephine Peary, who kept the home fires burning on the ice cap. You will love her and wonder how you ever found your tasks difficult or tiring. And besides keeping the home fires burning she gave birth to the Snow Baby, that child of wonder to the Eskimos.

You will follow the "Peary system" of advance as they laid their caches under the unsetting arctic moon and discover how this system finally brought him to the pole. You will see them drinking coffee which Greely had left fifteen years before at Conger—the same coffee tin from which Greely and his men had their last breakfast before they closed the door of that hut for their death along the ice.

Then, after all the years and failures, you see them at the pole. Peary, his faithful Henson [colored], four Eskimos [picked men of the tribe], five sledges, and thirty-eight dogs. Peary was 53. The men and the dogs stood there waiting while Peary erected the American flag in the ice and took the pole and entire region "for and in the name of the President of the United States of America."

Closing this book you will be very sure that the story of America is a mighty saga and that you must read every era of it.

For discouragement, despair, sorrow over a flat pocket-book, for what's-the-use-itis, for self-pity, and hope deferred, for sheer pride in such a man, read "Peary."

WIDOW LOSES A JOB.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—I have lately been let out of a job that I held for nine years to make way for a younger girl at less money. In that same institution I know nine women whose husbands are well able to support them, and there are undoubtedly more whom I did not know.

I dare say there are hundreds of married women in Chicago filling jobs which are needed by other women who are solely dependent on their own earnings.

CHANGES IN SPELLING.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The public has less aversion to changes in spelling of short words than of long ones. A new spelling of long words stops the reader and puzzles him momentarily. So short words like thoro and thru can get by, but longer ones like doctrin are always mentally resisted.

ANOTHER ANCIENT MYSTERY.

New York, Aug. 12.—You interest me, asking if Ehud, who thrust a dexterous dagger into the fat body of Eglon, wasn't the granddaddy of all the mystery begetters. I have just handled parergally the problem of a locked room in my own "Murder Recalls Van Kill." Besides I have a weakness for begats of all sorts, and to the best of my knowledge Ehud must share honors with the thief of King Rhampsinitus' treasure. The story [from Herodotus and others] goes like this:

To protect his uncounted wealth in gold, silver, and jewels the king had a palace treasury built at Medinet Habu. The architect left a stone loose, but so nicely fitting that it went unnoticed and could be removed by one man. Before his death the builder told the secret to his sons.

The king, baffled and furious when the level of the treasure vessels kept falling each night in a sealed room, set traps. The older son was caught. But the younger cut off his brother's head and carried it away to block identification. Rhampsinitus had the headless body hung up in a public place under military guard with orders to arrest the first person caught bewailing it. The thief's mother threatened to squeal on him if he didn't recover the body, which, as detective reports say, was done by getting the guard drunk.

When the usual combing and scouring by his flat feet got nowhere the king made his daughter turn policewoman and stool. He ordered her into disguise and the brothels. There she interviewed each customer, asking him what was the worst thing he ever did in his life. The young thief presently came and confessed to her. She tried to seize him. But he thrust out an arm of his brother's corpse, hidden under his mantle, for her to hold, and escaped in the darkness. Rhampsinitus, admiring the bold, clever criminal, offered free pardon and a huge reward if he would come forward—which was done. The thief married the king's daughter. They lived happily and so forth.

Rhampsinitus, of course, is Ramses III., who flourished about 1230 B. C. Herodotus set his story down some time around the middle of the fifth century B. C. But scholars can't agree when the Israelitish judges flourished, or when the book about them was written, and thus no exact comparisons can be made. However, the story of the Egyptian thief is one of the widest spread and must be one of the oldest in that part of the world. I have heard it as traditional from voracious, fly swatting dragomans at Shepheard's in Cairo. So there you are.

SHE LIKES THE TRIBUNE.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—I read in The Tribune an old timer's statement of why he likes The Tribune. And being sort of an old timer myself, as I have read The Tribune consecutively for forty-five years, will give my reasons.

First, because its editorials are fearless, logical, and consistent on all national and political questions. They are unsurpassed and are a source of information and education to its readers. If there were more papers of The Tribune's high standard published in the large cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific there would be no anxiety about the 1940 presidential election.

I enjoy reading Arthur Sears Henning's frank comments on political events in Washington. Also your able foreign correspondents, Sigrid Schultz and David Darrah.

Dr. Irving Cutter's timely articles are instructive to all; and "Voice of the People," reading the varied opinions on current topics.

And having been born and raised on a farm, I always read Day by Day on the Farm.

4 AUTOISTS SENT TO JAIL; 22 LOSE THEIR LICENSES

Father of 6 Gets 30 Days for Drunk Driving.

Four motorists were sentenced to the Bridewell in Safety court yesterday and ordered not to drive for a year. Judge Francis Borrelli impounded the licenses of twenty-two others pending disposition of their cases.

The heaviest sentence, thirty days, was imposed upon Bernard Weaver, the father of six children. Weaver is already under probation on a burglary charge, but he was brought into court on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He lives at 1653 Superior street.

Three Others Sentenced.

Other sentences: John Dietschman, 4613 South Fairfield avenue, driving while intoxicated, twenty days; Erol Vaughn, 3115 North Sawyer avenue, leaving the scene of an accident, five days; and John Ruchnak, 4859 South Damen avenue, reckless driving, ten days.

Mrs. Idell Christensen, who struck another car while being taught to drive by her husband, George, was fined $2 for having no driver's license. Mrs. Christensen, who is 22 years old, lives at 3142 Fulton boulevard.

Drivers Who Lost Licenses.

Drivers who lost their licenses until their cases are heard, and the charges they face:

Charles Richards, 3824 Washington boulevard, reckless driving.

Mrs. Ida Robbins, 1008 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, reckless driving.

Joseph Siracusa, 23, a barber seized by Park Policeman Frank Goldthwaite Sunday after ignoring several stoplights and driving his car into another will be arraigned in Safety court today on a charge of reckless driving. Police records show that Siracusa was sentenced to the Bridewell in 1937 for carrying concealed weapons.

Trafic Policeman Blamed by Jury for Fatal Crash

Policeman Edward J. Smith of the trafic detail, whose home is at 1643 Lunt avenue, was held yesterday by a Lake county coroner's jury to be responsible for the accident that resulted in the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Plamondon of Long Grove last July 22. Mrs. Plamondon, wife of A. D. Plamondon, former president of the Lincoln park board, was injured June 4 when Smith's car and the Plamondon auto collided.

TELL IT TO JUDGE! IS BATTLE CRY IN TRAFIC CAMPAIGN

Police to Ignore Sob Stories of Drivers.

BY HAL FOUST.

Motorists can save their sob stories to tell the judge, Police Commissioner Allman said yesterday. He ordered the 462 police detailed to trafic duty not to be influenced by appeals to sympathy from drivers halted for serious or minor offenses.

"In trafic law enforcement," said the commissioner, "a policeman has to use discretion. Any one is likely to make a mistake of inadvertence because of momentary confusion. A firm but courteous reprimand from a policeman is usually adequate discipline for such mistakes.

It's Judge's Worry, He Says.

"However, where the violation is deliberate, the policeman has no discretion. A ticket must be issued. If the offender has sixteen children, a sick wife, and is out of work, that's something for the judge to take into consideration in fixing the punishment. It's none of the policeman's business.

"A trained policeman can tell whether a violation is accidental or deliberate. Excessive speed isn't accidental. The fellow who slacks up, looks both ways, and then sails through a red light knows what he's doing. An experienced policeman is a pretty good spot judge."

Dissatisfied With Results.

In this connection, the commissioner said he was not satisfied with results obtained last week in a campaign of warning motorists not to drive so slowly as to impede trafic and not to turn without a preliminary hand signal.

"Unless there is evidence in the next few days that conditions are improving through these educational efforts," he said, "I'm going to order that tickets be issued to those who turn without signaling and to those who mope in the middle of a broad pavement and block the way for others who are in a hurry."

OFFERS REWARD FOR ARREST OF WEAVING DRIVER

A reward of $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the motorist who caused the death of Mrs. Frances S. Kerr Sunday on highway 12 near Michigan City was offered yesterday by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. The offending motorist failed to stop after the accident.

The machine of Mrs. Kerr, who was 54 years old and lived at 6336 Greenwood avenue, collided head-on with one driven by Paul Arnold, 2606 Elston avenue, after being forced into the opposite trafic lane by a weaving driver. The weaver did not stop.

TRUCK OPERATOR FATALLY HURT IN MAYWOOD CRASH

Motorist Is Charged with Reckless Driving.

Henry J. Behrens, 49 years old, of St. Charles, operator of a trucking business, was killed yesterday when his delivery truck collided with an auto at 25th avenue and Harrison street, Maywood. The driver of the other car, who was not injured, is Frank Scatena, 2917 North Damen avenue. He was charged with reckless driving.

Fred Dalton, 43 years old, 2234 Magnolia avenue, a bricklayer, was killed by a truck at Western and North avenues. The driver, Victor Schimanski, 17, of 1352 Bosworth avenue, was held for the inquest by the West North avenue police.

Woman Dies of Injuries.

Mrs. Alice Klimek, 24 years old, died in Henrotin hospital of injuries suffered Saturday when she was struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Levi of 2842 Sheridan road. She lived at 768 Milwaukee avenue. The accident occurred at Chicago avenue and La Salle street.

Ester Anderson, 26 years old, colored, of 388 East 58th street, died in Michael Reese hospital after his car had struck a parked automobile at Wabash avenue and 29th street.

Killed Near His News Stand.

Herman Lesmeister, 63 years old, 2900 38th street, was killed by an automobile near his news stand at Archer and Sacramento avenues. The driver was Aloysius Pucilowski, 5201 South Long avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 508 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since June 1. Of these, 395 were killed in Chicago, where 13,224 were injured in trafic accidents in the same period.

ACCUSED OF FIVE OFFENSES AFTER CRASH; GOES FREE

Although he was charged with five offenses growing out of an auto accident, George DeLuna, 24 years old, 1018 Polk street, was released yesterday by Judge Charles S. Dougherty under supervision of the auto court until Jan. 10, 1940. He pleaded that he is the support of his wife and two children and would lose his WPA job if he did not report for work today.

A week ago the car DeLuna was driving crashed into one driven by Karin E. Walsh, 50, of 1008 South Gunderson avenue, Oak Park, the head of a realty management concern. DeLuna attempted to flee and Walsh caught him, it was brought out in court. It also developed that De Luna was driving a car without its owner's knowledge and had no driver's license.

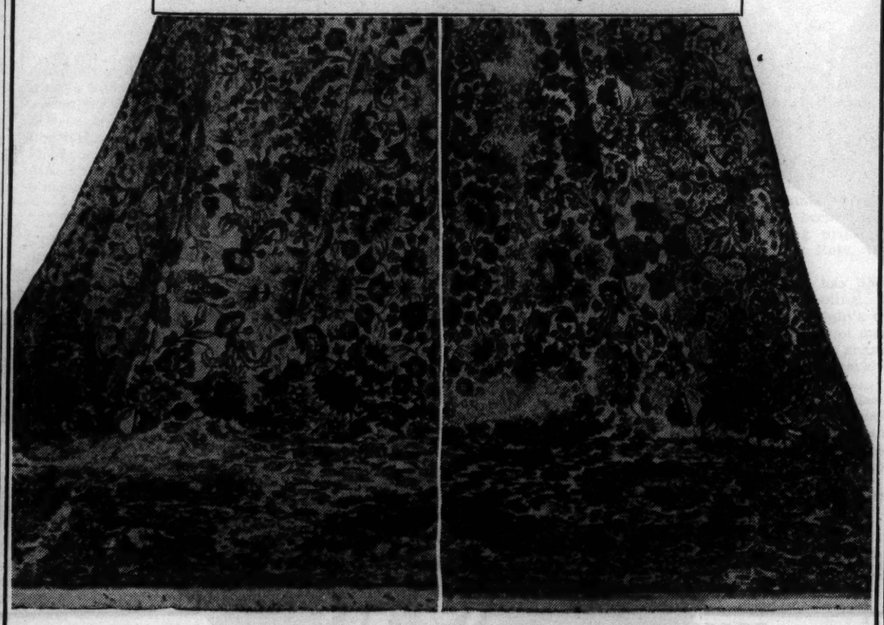
WHICH IS WHICH?
Costly Original? Authentic Reproduction?



HERE'S WHY SUCH GREAT REDUCTIONS ARE POSSIBLE:

• DISCONTINUED PATTERNS . . . released by the mill to make room for new fall stock.

• MILL TRIAL RUGS . . . so named because of slight variations in their designs. Only experts could detect them.

HERE'S WHY THESE RUGS HAVE BEEN CALLED "MOST SOUGHT-AFTER RUGS IN AMERICA"

1. This maker takes a true Oriental rug and reproduces it line for line, color for color. The finished rugs are faithful copies of the finest Oriental patterns.

2. Only the finest worsted wools are used. They are skein dyed with the best dyes obtainable.

3. Note that the fringe is part of the rug itself—it is not sewed on!

4. All the colors used in the originals are used . . . rugs are given a special wash, same as in the Orient . . . and, like an Oriental, they become more beautiful with wear.

WHEN DO 1000 CUSTOMERS EQUAL 2000 ?

OBVIOUSLY, when they buy twice as much of your product. You may find your double-volume customers in New York through the market studies conducted by The Times Research Department.

One recent study reveals, for example, that you would need 5000 families living in low-income sections to buy as much pineapple juice as 1000 high-income customers buy each week.

Other surveys show that to equal the weekly purchases of 1000 high-income families you would need 2500 low-income customers for packaged coffee . . . 1750 for baking powder . . . 1900 for tooth-paste . . . 2500 for corned beef hash.

Taken as a whole, the outstanding contribution of The Times market studies to your marketing problems has been to bring into sharp focus proof of this important merchandising fundamental:

Practically all advertised products—even low-cost, high-volume staples—sell faster in those sections of the city where incomes are high.

This makes the thousands and thousands of better-than-average-income families in New York the most economically serviced and most profitably sold "mass market" in the entire city.

The New York Times is your logical basic advertising medium for reaching this vast, preferred market. The Times is read by more high-income families in New York than any other newspaper . . . and by a good part of the best of the average-income group.

Interested executives are invited to write for copies of market studies covering the New York City sales of Corned Beef Hash, Canned Soup, Mayonnaise and Salad Dressing, Cold Cereal, Ketchup, Scouring Powder, Citrus Fruit, Pineapple Juice, Coffee, Hot Cereal, Bread, Baked Beans, Tomato Juice, Tooth-paste, Shortening and Lard, Baking Powder and Crackers.

Mrs. M'Kinlock Regular Fan at Saratoga Races

BY JUDITH CASS.

LOOKING for a Chicagoan at the race track at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., usually is like looking for a needle in a haystack, but this season there is one representative of this city who is to be found every afternoon in a choice box at the picturesque old track.

Mrs. George A. McKinlock has a small house at the spa this summer and during this month she is at the track every afternoon. Her box is in the lower tier, next to Mrs. Payne Whitney's and very near John Hay Whitney's and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's boxes, so needless to say, it has one of the best locations.

Afternoon is not the only time of day when Mrs. McKinlock may be found at the track, for she goes over often in the morning to have a 7 o'clock breakfast and to see the horses clocked. The daylight hours are not enough for real horse lovers like Mrs. McKinlock, so often in the evening she goes to the yearling auctions. Earlier this summer Mrs. McKinlock went every day to the baths at the spa, but during the racing season there is little time for such things as baths and massage.

Saratoga Springs is a fascinating place during the one month in the year when the season is on. The old United States and Grand Union hotels are open just for that month. They are mammoth places that have been changed little since they were built eighty years ago. It is an interesting experience to dine or to live in one of them.

Unlike many ancient hotels, they are not run-down and it requires only slight imagination to picture the huge, high-ceilinged rooms and enormous old fashioned gardens, around which the hotels are built, as they were more than half a century ago when southern and eastern society used to spend the summers at Saratoga.

Ban on Gambling Hits Night Life.

There is a new and beautiful hotel just out of town, the Gideon Putnam, where the Warren Wrights and the John D. Hertzes stay during the racing season. The hotels are not the only buildings that are opened just for one month each year, for several smart night clubs open their doors for only 30 days. The ban on gambling that went into effect just after Aug. 1 this year put a damper on the evening festivities, but the 75 year old track is as gay and colorful as ever. The crowds are enormous every day, their enthusiasm is contagious, and since Saratoga still has oral bookmaking instead of pari-mutuels as our tracks have, the excitement and noise are tremendous.

Mrs. McKinlock is not the only Chicagoan who frequents the race course, of course, for the Wrights the Hertzes, the Walter Schuttlers, and the junior James Simpsons are other Chicagoans who have boxes in the Saratoga clubhouse this year. The Wrights, Mrs. Hertz, and Mr. Schuttler are racing horses this season, as usual. The Simpsons have leased a house at the spa for the racing season and the Schuttlers are occupying their own home, a house owned by the late Joseph Leiter for two years before his death.

Eugene Rockwell Pike of Lake View avenue, who is not expected back in Chicago until after Labor day, recently has been visiting the Sidney J. Smiths of New York at Saratoga. He now has returned to Beverly Farms, Mass., for another

If the delicate scent of the lilac blossom is one of your favorites, why not enjoy it through the whole year? Use a white lilac perfume that has captured this lush, gentle fragrance with true accuracy.

Have you ever stood in a lovely garden where the lilac bushes were in full bloom and inhaled their delicate fragrance—a lush fragrance that permeated the air and seemed to wrap your whole being in its perfume as the gentle breeze wafted it toward you? With every sniff of lilac scented air you probably wished that you could bottle it and keep it for future use.

A new white lilac perfume brought all this on. Now, we've always been of the opinion that the only way to really enjoy lilacs is right "on the bush." But after using this perfume, we are forced to admit that perhaps, after all, we've been just a little narrow minded about the whole thing.

This perfume is one of the specialties of a woman who excels in the art of reproducing delicate scents. And with this one she has plied her art with perfect accuracy. The fragrance has been available in toilet water, sachets and bath preparations for quite some time and now she has brought it out in a perfume that is really something to cherish.

There is a delicacy about this scent that is indescribable, and it is such a true version that with just a dash of it—and only a dash—one's imagination begins to soar in top form. You have only to close your eyes and you can picture yourself holding huge bunches of the white blossoms, burying your face in their feathery fronds, inhaling every bit of their lovely perfume; or strolling leisurely through gardens whose paths are bordered by bushes loaded with blooms. No wonder, if all that we hear is true, that a white lilac "tree," as it once was called, was deemed to be a rare and precious wedding gift to a Persian princess.

So, if lilac perfume happens to be one of your favorites, you'll be a fan for this one. If you just have a "yen" to try one, we think you will be completely won over.

Prevention Is Half of Your Beauty Battle

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Nowadays there is a good deal of talk about preventive medicine, but we think women—and young girls, too—should make their beauty rites preventive as well.

Now, while you are slim, young and fair skinned, is the time to attack your beauty problems, to conquer them before they arise. Correct that faulty posture. Take care of that glowing skin. Keep that softness in your locks. Prevention can be practiced in every branch of beauty care.

It is a whole lot easier to cold cream and relax and rest sufficiently than it is to erase wrinkles. Holding the head up properly is much less work than getting rid of a "dowager's hump." Brushing the hair and keeping its luster is much less expensive than treatments in beauty parlors to restore the natural oils.

That lump of fat around your waistline is stubborn. It takes a lot of exercises to free your waist from its embrace. Correct carriage in the beginning never would have brought that weighty question up. The middle-aged spread is due to years of careless standing rather than years on the calendar. The upper arms never would become so flabby if they had been stimulated by showers and plenty of exercise. Crepy necks don't really need to happen so early in your life. Rubber gloves are a simple precaution against rough, dry, old-looking hands.

Half the terrifying signs and symptoms of encroaching age are due to lack of care, faulty posture, and poor habits of health.

Railway Women.

Golf, riding, and swimming are in store for the Choral club of the Railway Business Woman's association Saturday, when members will hold their annual outing at the Lincolnshire Country club. Special buses will leave the Auditorium hotel at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. D'Amoro	Ferike Boros

BY CECIL SMITH.

There is nothing very new about the story of "Stronger than Desire," but the excellent acting of Virginia Bruce, Ann Dvorak, and Walter Pidgeon lift a standardized picture well above the level of mediocrity.

Mr. Pidgeon is a prominent and wealthy attorney, with many successful defenses of difficult cases to his credit. From first to last he is deeply in love with his wife, Miss Bruce. Complications enter from both sides, however, with Rita Johnson a bored society girl trying to snag Mr. Pidgeon, and Lee Bowman a blackmailer out after a big slice of Miss Bruce's money. Ann Dvorak is the innocent, if high strung, wife of the blackmailer. There is a murder in which all four principal players are involved in one way or another. I think you will find the solution perfectly satisfactory, but not until you have suffered a good deal of suspense.

Miss Bruce ravishes the eye, and acts with genuine animation and intelligence. Mr. Pidgeon handles his manly rôle vigorously, without undue fuss and feathers. Miss Dvorak is a fairly convincing underdog. As Miss Bruce's confidante, Ilka Chase contributes a brittle drawing room comedy technique of the first order. There is not much to Mr. Bowman's portrayal.

If you can explain the title, you are smarter than your reporter.

Great Britain's King at Morgan's Lodge for Grouse Shooting

GANNOCHY LODGE, Edzell, Scotland, Aug. 14 (AP).—King George VI. of Great Britain and a small house party arrived for tea today with J. P. Morgan, whose guests they will be for several days of grouse shooting.

Map of hunting trip.

The queen came to the Morgan lodge from nearby stately Glamis castle, where she has been visiting her father. The young princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, were left at the castle.

The American banker has 15,000 acres under lease for shooting. He shot a few grouse for tonight's dinner. His preserve, like that of many other sportsmen, has been sharply depleted by a disease prevalent among the birds this year.

Lady Elphinstone, the queen's eldest sister, is hostess at Gannochy during the royal visit. Her husband, their son, and the queen's younger brother, the Hon. David Bowes-Lyon, also are guests.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

The Art of Terpsichore

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 14.—For more years than he cares to remember, your correspondent has been driven from dance floors by swarthy Latins who stood up on the bandstands and rattled a set of rhumba gourds. The moment this happened, your correspondent would mutter an embarrassed apology to the girl he happened to be dancing with and slink from the floor back to the table. Invariably when the band started a rhumba or a tango, I'd be at that end of the floor most remote from our table.

Sometimes, to cover his embarrassment, your correspondent would attempt a broken down foxtrot to the rhumba music and thus slyly return to the table without letting every one in on the knowledge that the music had defeated him. It rarely worked. A broken down foxtrot is not to be mistaken for anything else.

As the years went on, this continuous retreat developed inhibitions, to say nothing of an inferiority complex. Wherever I went, always there was a Latin with rhumba gourds and when he shook them, I played Little Eva to his Simon Legree. New York, Chicago, London, Budapest, Hollywood—your reporter lost decisions in every city where citizens assemble in public restaurants to dance. When you consider that I've had to release such elegant femmes as Norma Shearer, Loretta Young, Gracie Allen, and Joan Blondell from my arms just because I couldn't handle a rhumba assignment, you will understand the fierce hatred I developed for the Latins who operated the gourds.

Then one night, at the Trocadero, after years of brooding on the subject, I met six persons who could not do the rhumba and who had been hounded from dance floors for more years than they wished to remember. "Let us learn how to do the thing," said Dick Powell. We called Felix Young to the table and we told him of the mental tortures to which we had been subjected.

"There are two professional dancers in town," said Young, "who can teach the dance to you, and as I have seen both of you dance, I can think of no higher compliment to their teaching ability than to guarantee that you will learn the rhumba." We passed over the gratuitous insult and Felix introduced us to the professionals, Jack Soles and Jean Hunter.

So help me, in three lessons, Jack and Jean had us doing the rhumba and the tango. For the first time in my life, at the Trocadero, when the man in the band arose with the gourds in his hand and stared at me threateningly, I looked him right in the face and stayed on the floor. It was the proudest moment of a life that has had few proud moments.

There are several schools of thought on the subject of rhumba dancing. People from the east who have studied under Arthur Murray have certain conceptions of the dance. People who have studied under South American or Cuban teachers have a distinctive manner of heaving their hips about the premises.

The Hollywood flicker stars who have studied under Jack Soles and Jean Hunter seem to do it with more éclat and stuff. The other night, at Victor Hugo's, they even had Max Baer doing a respectable rhumba, and Nancy Kelly and Edmund O'Brien, who had dropped in to scoff, remained to cheer. Before they have finished Jack and Jean will have the whole town dancing correctly.

Facial expressions, of course, enter importantly into what we might call the dance, and these largely are a matter of individual initiative and inventiveness. For the rhumba I suggest the "Only Angels Have Wings" expression for the men and the "Wuthering Heights" expression for their partners. As you dance, you cast an "oomph" glance over the right shoulder and follow this up with an "oomph" glance over your left shoulder, as if you were flirting with Hedy Lamarr in the rumble seat of a car.

The choice of grips is optional, but the interlocking grip has its advantages, particularly if your fair partner is plump. Direction also is optional, but you can obtain the best results by facing into the wind. In making your moves in the rhumba or tango it is fairly important that you and your partner make the same moves together. This assures a neater effect. Always keep in mind that she is a partner rather than an opponent.

Having mastered the dancing technique and the proper attitude toward your partner, it then becomes advisable to learn a bit of small talk while dancing. Do not discuss the weather. Experts have tried to convert this subject into gay repartee and sparkling banter, but it is no dice. The Danzig question, "Grapes of Wrath," Donat's performance in "Good-Bye, Mr. Chips," and a third term are legitimate topics, but don't linger on any one of them too long. Hop from one to another tempo. If you can start dancing when the band starts playing and stop when the band stops it will add to the general effect. In other words, don't be a rugged individualist.

Lange Conducts an All-Russian Park Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Under a sky and amid airs as benign as any that the summer has produced, Hans Lange and the Chicago Symphony orchestra began in Grant park last night the three concert series which is to bring to an end their 1939 lake front activities.

The program consisted entirely of Russian music—the Fifth symphony and the Andante Cantabile of Tschaikowsky, Glinka's "Russian and Ludmilla" overture, and the "Scheherazade" suite of Rimsky-Korsakoff. Thus the evening brought forth nothing sensational and nothing even mildly puzzling.

Here was familiar music superbly performed, and the audience demanded nothing more. There were large scale demonstrations after the symphony and the suite.

In the symphony interest was built mountain high by the songfulness of the second movement and the cleanness and vigor of the last. The suite was rich in blindingly bright colorings and in oceanlike sonorities. A soft gray transparency of tone made of the Andante Cantabile an extraordinarily expressive little piece of music.

DON'T RUIN YOUR PERMANENT WAVE!
Many women unknowingly abuse their permanents by using shampoos or soaps whose harsh, too-powerful cleansing chemical action robs the natural oils from the hair . . . leaving it dry, straggly, unmanageable, WILD!
Why spend money and exhausting hours getting a beautiful permanent . . . and then shorten its life and spoil its attractiveness with soaps or shampoos that are much too powerful for your delicate wave? You see, permanent-waved hair needs much more of your care and attention . . . because the heat used in giving a permanent removes a certain amount of your hair's natural oils. That's why beauty operators recommend oil treatments and oil shampoos . . . not only to keep your hair soft, lustrous and springy, but also to assist nature in normalizing your hair's oil supply.

FOR LONGER-LIVED PERMANENTS . . . FOR SOFT, ALLURING, MANAGEABLE HAIR . . . USE THE
Contain LANOLIN • OLIVE OIL • CASTOR OIL
Cas-O-Lan Shampoo and Cas-O-Lan Hair Creme, the sensational twin products that contain nature's wonder oils . . . whose penetrative and protective properties are known to all hair specialists and beauticians. You, too, know these oils are beneficial for your hair . . . every beauty operator tells you so.
There's No Secrecy About the Cas-O-Lan Twins
No new experimental chemicals . . . no caustic alkalies . . . no alcohol . . . no soaps . . . nothing to kill or ruin your permanent-waved hair. We invite you to ask your beauty operator if there is anything better for your hair's beauty and health . . . for longer life for your permanent than LANOLIN, OLIVE OIL, AND CASTOR OIL.
The Cas-O-Lan Twins are equally effective for oily, normal, dry, bleached, and dyed hair.
Ask Your Beauty Operator for a Cas-O-Lan Twin Rejuvenation—Only in Individual Bottles
THE CAS-O-LAN TWINS ARE PERFECT FOR PRESERVING YOUR PERMANENT
because they work on natural time-proven principles
CAS-O-LAN SHAMPOO is a perfected method of emulsifying Lanolin, Olive Oil and Castor Oil that produces a rich, creamy lather with just the right amount of cleansing action to whisk away all foreign accumulations and loose dandruff . . . without killing your hair's natural oils. Don't confuse Cas-O-Lan Shampoo with any other oil shampoo . . . it's new! It's different! CAS-O-LAN SHAMPOO LEAVES NO DINGY FILM . . . NO DUST-CATCHING, GUMMY DEPOSIT . . NO BROKEN ENDS . . . NO WILD HAIR.
CAS-O-LAN HAIR CREME is not a gummy wave set . . . not a sticky brilliantine . . . but a greaseless creamy hair conditioner that invigorates your hair and scalp . . . penetrates each hair shaft . . . bringing out and highlighting your hair's natural sheen . . . and imparting lasting elasticity and springiness to your waves. Just a few drops after and between shampoos keep your hair and waves in perfect condition and appearance.

SYNOPSIS.

Lee Reynolds, promoter of children's acts, in the days before motion pictures, is attracted to the tenement flat of the Lichts by the singing of their little daughter, Josefa. Next day he calls with his wife and persuades the Lichts to let him take Josefa into his home and train her for the stage. Two older children, Lena and Eddie, live with the Reynolds. During a stage show Eddie's voice breaks and Josefa goes to his rescue, saves the act, and becomes famous overnight. Eddie goes away to school. Josefa is billed as Sheila Doone. Lena hides her envy and hatred of Sheila by pretended friendship. Lena and her mother, Mrs. Chancellor Bowen, move to Hollywood. Backed by Producer Emmanuel P. Leica, Lena becomes a motion picture actress in the infant industry.

INSTALMENT VIII.

A NEW MOVIE CONTRACT.

On a morning some two weeks later, Lena Bowen lay in bed. It was not her own bed. The head board culminated in a pair of cupids supporting a coronet. The bed stood in a room which would not look like a real room until it was photographed. And even then it would look like a room that never was on sea or land. Lena wore a yellow lace night dress, because yellow photographed white and white doesn't. Her hair was marceled and she was thick with makeup.

"Now Lena, old scout," explained Mr. Sloop, the director, who had once been a soda water jerker. "This here soldier boy is chased by the mob and he climbs the water spout to your balcony, comes in at that window and begs you to save him. When the mob begins to beat on the door you suddenly relent though he is the enemy of your class and a revolutionist and you tell him to jump into bed with you and hide. See? Now, then, is everything set?"

Strong lights went on. A young gentleman in soiled shirt sleeves extracted music from a small melodeon. A French window crashed open and Mr. Harry Larch, Mr. Leica's new face, burst into the room. He really was handsome and dramatic. He was lean, broad shouldered, graceful and deadly serious.

Cameras were cranked. But something was not to Mr. Sloop's liking, and Larch's entire entrance was retaken from the beginning. Then when he knelt on one knee to Lena in a kind of masterful supplication, Mr. Sloop thought the composition would be better if he knelt on the other knee. During the rearrangements of the young gentleman's genuflections, Lena, mysteriously moved by a certain something which some have and others haven't and which Madam Elinor Glynn had yet to call "It," called attention to herself.

"Mr. Sloop," she said, "don't you think it would be a little more conventional if before the strange young man gets into bed with me we were introduced?"

Everybody had a good laugh on that.

"Miss Bowen," Mr. Sloop hastened to make the introduction, "meet Mr. Larch."

"Charmed," said Lena and Mr. Larch said that he was charmed, and the anguish with which he had contemplated going to bed with a perfectly strange lady was not assuaged. It was not in vain that he had read his Emily Post. There was a liquid glint in Harry Larch's eye and a twinkle of mischief. Lena's eyelids fluttered.

This time Mr. Sloop's artistic efforts were crowned with success.

"Cam-er-a!" shouted Mr. Sloop and the camera men stopped cranking and began to move their machines into a new setup. Harry Larch chose this opportunity to locate Lena's hand under the bedclothes and squeeze her fingers.

"When I say I'm pleased to meet you," he said, "I mean pleased and I don't mean maybe. There's something about you."

"I've been told that you are rather a foolish person," said Lena, "but I'm beginning to think that I've been misinformed."

Lena's heart was in a flutter. She was falling in love for the first time.

"Lunch," bellowed Mr. Sloop. "Back in an hour."

"Aren't you terrible," exclaimed Lena, thinking only how natural and delightful he was.

At this moment Emmanuel P. Leica came on the set, his hand thrust into his coat and resting on his bosom just above his paunch. He scowled when he saw the young people in bed together.

"Well," he said. "Well. It is time we all eat."

Mr. Larch, somewhat subdued, though he seldom was, climbed out of the bed.

"Well," said Mr. Leica, now mollified, "I got a surprise for you, Lena."

"A surprise?" exclaimed Lena, "and for me?"

"And for who else do I keep back my best surprises? I have just signed on a new face," Mr. Leica went on, "the little lady is an old friend of yours and I want you shall keep an eye on her and show her over the ropes."

"An old friend of mine?" Lena registered surprise.

"You were children together, only you were a few years older. And she says that not even a mother could have been more kinder to her as you was."

"My God!" exclaimed Lena, "not Tumbleweed?"

Mr. Leica kissed his finger tips to an imaginary point in space.

"Tumbleweed is right," he said. "Tumbleweed is now Miss Sheila Doone. And I give you my word that face—that little face!"

"Is she on the lot?"

"She has to be back at the Orpheum for the matinée. Her contract is only dated as of next Monday."

"Oh!" exclaimed Lena, "how I'll love to see her again. And Lee and Dot! Of course the Reynolds are with her?"

"But we have telegraphed for her own mother to come out. It is best that every motion picture actress should have a mother."

Lena went to her lunch a little troubled in mind, a little apprehensive. She didn't quite know why.

Just when Sheila Doone changed from a baby into a long legged wise young miss is not known. On one day she was taking everything for granted, on another she was asking questions either of other persons or of herself.

She understood all at once that she was earning a good deal of money for a child, and she wondered what became of it. The next time she saw her mother she asked her. And Mama Licht told her that out of her earnings she paid $25 a week to her own father, a 10 per cent commission to Lee Reynolds, and her expenses, which with charity for all and malice toward none, were whatever Lee Reynolds chose to make them. And there was not much left over to go into a savings account for Sheila herself.

Sheila's engagement in pictures came about in this way.

Emmanuel P. Leica, who, like all his race, continually entertained when it was financially possible, had invited Mr. Charles Spencer Chaplin to dine with him at the Alexandria hotel and go to the Orpheum afterward. Mr. Chaplin, who enjoyed Mr. Leica and his vast pretentiousness thoroughly, had accepted.

Mr. Leica thereupon engaged the most conspicuous table in the hotel. It was then the center of motion picture fashion, and with Mr. Chaplin's name up his sleeve as an added temptation, invited two very beautiful young women to make the party a foursome. He invited Miss May Collins, a newcomer from the east, and the more celebrated Miss Claire Windsor.

Mr. Leica showed off to perfection. Mr. Chaplin was most engaging and unexpected and witty. The young ladies were easy to look at. And all the other diners in the big room looked at them and at Mr. Chaplin and felt important by the mere fact of being in the same room with such fabulous persons.

Mr. Leica asked how Mr. Chaplin's new picture was coming along. Mr. Chaplin was very frank about the new picture. He had the story. He hoped it was a good story. He had his cast, all but one very important character. He was in the market for a child actor.

Mr. Leica, wishing to be of help, suggested seven who were very much in the public eye. Chaplin protested.

This was a facer. All the child actors at that moment in the public eye really were brats, conceited, precocious and common.

Advice on the Topic of Books for Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

This column rarely gets as far into the season as this without having talked about books for summer reading—that delightful use of long vacation days.

At the moment a rather different use of books is in my mind, though the mother who makes this use of them will keep it a deadly secret! I am thinking of using books in a special way with the idea of helping the young boy or girl who has trouble in school with this particular skill.

Around the age of 7, as a rule, or perhaps 8, a great many children seem to find reading a hurdle they cannot leap. This results usually in the stirring up of a great deal of anxiety, added to session after session of attempted home teaching. Frequently nervous tension follows, which hinders instead of helping, and which has the unfortunate effect of making a child feel inferior.

I am not going into the many reasons for children's reading difficulty today. I am merely going to make one suggestion that can be put into operation for the remainder of the summer. That is, to recommend your giving your child some books to read that are interesting and well written, but several years below his reading age. In this way he will be able to read the easier book without a struggle, and actually be carried along by the content of the story, which is an encouraging experience and so acquire that important thing, a sense of power. If your children have no interest in books at all, you can stimulate this by reading aloud to them. Also, obtain several books at a time for them to read and let them lie around within sight, but without much comment.

For parents to select from I have a great many titles for ages from 6 up to the teens. Here are a few of them:

Historical. "Nathan Hale, a Story of Loyalties," by Jane Darrow. [Appleton-Century company, New York, N. Y., $2.00.]

"Mountains Are Free," by Julia Davis Adams. [E. P. Dutton, New York, N. Y., $2.50.]

This is the story of Switzerland's fight for independence, or as the foreword says, between the feudal system and the first faint stirrings of democracy.

For the full descriptive list of books for children from 5 to 13, enclose a large, stamped, addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

And now we have another new booklet to introduce. It's called "Cool Meals for Warm Days," it contains seven mimeographed sheets full of recipes and menus and it sells for a nickel if you call for it, or 7 cents by mail.

There are eighteen menus in the booklet, with recipes to go with them. Some of the meals are simple, light ones for the family, and others are party luncheons for warm weather.

I.

Tongue in Jellied Consomme
Potato Chip Baskets Filled with Creamed Peas
Avocado and Tomato Salad Bowl
Roquefort French Dressing
Chocolate-Apricot Refrigerator Cake
Iced Tea or Coffee

[Recipes for tongue in consomme, potato chip baskets, and refrigerator cake are included in the book.]

II.

Ham, Tomato and Macaroni Salad
Corn Sticks
Berry Tapioca with Almond Custard Sauce
Milk or Iced Tea

[Recipes for salad, corn sticks, tapioca, and sauce are in the book.]

But I mustn't give away any more of the contents of this booklet. When you send for it you also may want to order last week's new booklet, "Refrigerator Ice Creams," and another warm weather special, "Freeze the Salad." Each of these two booklets sells for 3 cents if picked up at one of the two Public Service offices, Tribune Tower lobby and 1 South Dearborn street, and for 5 cents by mail. For 17 cents, preferably in stamps [since coins are easily lost] the three booklets will be mailed to you.

Mail requests should be addressed to Mary Meade, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Thirty-three recipes for a nickel. That's what you get when you send for "Refrigerator Ice Creams," a new summer booklet just out. It will cost you only 3 cents if you pick it up at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, Tribune Tower lobby and 1 South Dearborn street. There are recipes for ices, sherbets, ice creams, mousses, and parfaits, easy to make and delicious.

August 15, 1939.

Don't take to heart too much what is said about you or to you today.

Those celebrating today have been having and still have some radical decisions ahead to face. August is a strong month, bringing expansion in occupation and finances. Choose wisely and don't let a feeling of power inflate you to the extent of indulging in too many schemes. The final elimination of old responsibilities and irksome burdens needs to be made in September.

Long Betrothal Crucial Test of Affection

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Young people who are very much in love and plan to marry often have to postpone their weding for financial reasons. A long engagement is a problem. Under the strain, the joys of lovemaking easily turn into nerves and quarrels or emotional extremes. An intelligent young couple will face facts squarely. In this period of waiting, they will concentrate on building up a fine companionship.

Much as they enjoy being together they won't see each other every night of the week to the exclusion of everybody else. If they do, they'll run out of conversation. The wise girl will spend one night a week in some pursuit of her own, and the man will do likewise. Then they both will make an effort to cultivate their friends together and make new ones. By the time they are married, they will have a wide and congenial social circle.

If they are farsighted, they will find some mutual sport that both enjoy. If the girl can't play tennis, the man can teach her. After they are married, the sports interest they have built up together will give them a lot of pleasure.

They will read books together. Perhaps they will play chess. If they are musical, they'll attend concerts together. If both love dancing they will make a point of keeping up with the new steps. Maybe they can discover some new hobbies which they can share.

The friends, interest, and activities they acquire together will make the bond between them stronger and add to their married happiness.

visit with Mrs. Joseph Leiter, whom he visited earlier in the summer.

Mrs. McKinlock will be back in her Lake Bluff home shortly after Sept. 15 to spend a month or six weeks there before going to Palm Beach for the winter. The Frank E. Wilhelms are occupying Mrs. McKinlock's lake shore house this summer.

Miss Wakem Completes Plans for Wedding.

A broken collar bone may prevent a young woman from deciding on the type of wedding dress she is to wear, but it in no way interferes with forming other plans. Miss Celeste Wakem, who just has spent a week in the hospital recovering from a fracture she suffered in a fall from her horse, has completed most of the details for her marriage to Theodore A. Mohlman.

The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock on Sept. 14 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Charles Haines. The Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson will officiate.

Miss Helen Wegg, as maid of honor, will be Miss Wakem's only attendant. Wallace Wakem, her brother, will be best man for Mr. Mohlman, the son of Mrs. Bailey Mohlman of New York City and of George Mohlman of Springfield, Mass. Mr. Mohlman and his bride will make their home in Hinsdale.

The date for the marriage of Miss Valeria Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden B. Harris, to James Huntington Symington of Baltimore, has been set for Sept. 30. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock at St. James' church, the Rev. Duncan H. Browne, assisted by Father Sill of the Kent school, officiating. A small reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Symington and his bride will live in Virginia.

Betty Jane Burton to Be Bride in London.

George W. Burton of Wheaton and his daughters, Miss Betty Jane and Miss Margaret, have sailed for England, where Miss Betty Jane is to be married within the next few weeks to Robert C. Strong. Mr. Strong, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. A. Strong of Beloit, Wis., is the American vice consul at Prague. He and his fiancée are graduates of Beloit college.

The wedding will take place in St. Margaret's, Westminster, London, probably the last day of the month or on Sept. 1. After a trip to Paris and the French Riviera Mr. Strong and his bride will be at home in Prague. Miss Margaret Burton, who was graduated with her sister last June, will be the bride's only attendant.

Cars Needed for Orphans' Auto Day Outing Tomorrow

The Orphans' Automobile Day association has a good deed suggestion for volunteer motorists. Tomorrow is the day of its 35th annual outing for orphans and old people from orphanages and homes in the city and county. The one unsettled problem for the day is the transportation of the 5,000 guests to the picnic ground in Lincoln park. Offers of services and cars will be gratefully accepted until 7 p. m. today by the chairman of transportation, Matthew J. Lamb, who may be reached by telephone at Yards 0085-0086.

The water lilies in the two large lagoons in Garfield park, said to be one of the most complete collections in the country, are now in full bloom and attracting thousands of visitors. August Koch, horticulturist, said fifty varieties of blossoms may be seen from either Madison street or Washington boulevard. Many of the tropical flowers measure from 10 to 12 inches across.

Parks Open Annual Sand Modeling Contests Today

The annual sandcraft modeling exhibits will open today at park district beaches. The shows run through Thursday. More than 200 young sculptors will work on models of everything from fish to Greek gods. Contestants, who have been studying sand modeling at the various small parks, will compete in two groups, juniors and seniors.

HOLDS RADIO STATION HAS RIGHT TO APPEAL BOARD'S DECISIONS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14 (AP).—A radio station affected economically by a decision of the communications commission on the application of another station may appeal to the courts.

The federal Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia so ruled today on an appeal by the Yankee Network, Inc., operating station WAAB at Boston, Mass., although it dismissed the appeal. The communications commission, it decided, had justified its action in granting a construction permit to another station, WMEX, in this case.

A station's right of appeal to the courts had been denied by the commission in its arguments. If this were true, the court held, "none but a financial monopoly could safely exist in the radio broadcasting field."

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Delaney of 1905 South 6th avenue, Maywood, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Joan, to Edward J. Leitelt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Leitelt of 7530 South Cregier avenue. Miss Delaney, a graduate of Mundelein college, is convalescing from an appendectomy at Stone Lake, Wis. No date has been set for the wedding.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Tuesday, Aug. 15.

A good day here for looking both forward and backward, with the backward view a bit more important. General conditions favor taking stock of the past; set aside the inspirational; deal with elders; be practical in all things.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead from today till following birthday advises experience over any sudden changes — earnest personal effort brings more than new fields, especially Sept. 1 to Feb. 20. Danger: March 17-28 and July 28-Aug. 16, 1940.

Tomorrow.

Can be made the best day of entire week; be in there trying.

To get your 1939 Personal horoscope send 10 cents to Wynn, Tribune Astrologer, 286 Fifth avenue, New York City. Write plainly your name, date of birth, and address.

The Housewife

Wedgwood blue wooden balls are the decorative touches on a child's crib of white enamel. It's made generously large, and is carried out in the modern style. You can also get a youngster's bed in this same pattern, and a chest of drawers to match. The handles of the drawers are of the same Wedgwood blue and the balls appear again as supports to the chest. Katinka Brightens the Kitchen

BY NANCY CABOT.

Bring gay Katinka into your kitchen to help lighten the daily chores by means of these embroidered towels, or make a set as a gift for some one you are especially anxious to please. The hot iron transfer pattern contains all seven designs, one for each day of the week, complete instructions, color chart, and guide.

For instructions in embroidering the Katinka towels, No. X-535, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Jewish Big Sisters.

The Jewish Big Sisters will sponsor a beach party, tour of the Museum of Science and Industry and a picnic for combined groups of Little Sisters all day today in Jackson park. Both luncheon and supper will be served. Miss Dorothy Hoffman is in charge.

Peplum Again Is Featured

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

The peplum arrives for a return engagement in this pretty two-piece frock for autumn. The blouse is snugly fitted and buttoned down the front. A shirtwaist collar may be left plain or be trimmed with lace or ruffling. A square and untrimmed neckline may be substituted, and a slide fastener may take the place of the buttons. The gored skirt is sufficiently full for both walking comfort and beauty. Silks and woolens make up equally well in this costume.

Style No. 2952 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with ¾ yard ruffling.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

After a recent duplicate game one player was besieged with questions concerning a certain board. "How did you make seven on that hand when the king of trumps was offside?" was the clamor. "Was your left hand opponent asleep at the switch?"

"Exactly to the contrary," was the reply. "It was because he was wide awake, and made the only play that might defeat me, that I took all thirteen tricks."

This was the hand:

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

4 no trump	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

Not all the tables bid as above. In some cases the North-South teams stopped at four or five spades, and one optimistic pair actually climbed to a grand slam. The small slam, however, was bid at four tables. In three of the four cases the play produced no complications. West opened the heart king, the spade finesse was immediately taken, West won with the king, and could make no return that would disturb declarer. The diamond suit was easily established, and declarer's losing club and heart found a safe haven.

At the table under discussion West had made an unusual effort to defeat the contract. He, too, had opened the heart king, but when the trump finesse was immediately tried, he had nonchalantly, unhesitatingly played low, purposely jeopardizing his king in an effort to induce a second spade finesse. If the declarer in this case had been as gullible as are most declarers, West's ruse would have had magnificent success. Obviously, if declarer had been willing to assume from the "success" of the first finesse that the king was on his right, and had used dummy's remaining trump for a second finesse, East would have gobbled up the trick and cashed a heart for the defeat of the contract. It was merely West's hard luck that he was faced with a declarer who did not believe that all is gold that glitters.

Instead of feeling elated over the fact that the spade ten had held, South gave thought to the possibility that West was attempting a flimflam. Declarer reasoned that not all the North-South teams in the room would bid the slam and, therefore, he properly decided that the mere fulfilment of his contract would return a good match-point score — that an extra trick was a secondary consideration. Thus, having taken the precaution to end in his own hand with the spade ten, he cheerfully abandoned the opportunity for another finesse and used dummy's remaining trump to ruff a heart. He then returned to the club king and laid down the spade ace. Great was his surprise and satisfaction to drop the king from West. Naturally, he had not expected such luck; he had merely intended to take out trumps before establishing diamonds, so that the opponents could not use a small trump on a high diamond. With the king dropping, of course, it was all over. One more round of trumps removed East's six spot and two high diamonds, and a ruff of a low one established dummy's suit with the club ace as reëntry.

Although the East-West pair at this table had to take an absolute bottom on the board, I heartily approve West's desperation play, the holdup with the spade king. From the bidding and the exposed dummy, West could be sure that if he took the king he never would take another trick. Hence, since he could be equally sure that conceding the slam to the opponents woud not bring him many match-points, it was worth while to risk an extra trick in order to have some chance to defeat the contract.

Sally Promises Jungle Thrills at Movie Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Did any of you boys and girls ever see a chimpanzee ride an elephant?

I haven't, but I'm going to on Aug. 24, and so will 100 lucky youngsters who'll be invited to attend my movie party.

We'll see that and a whole lot more. In fact, all the animals in the jungle —crocodiles, lions, tigers, and zebras —when we go to the Oriental theater to see "Tarzan Finds a Son."

Johnny Weissmuller is busier than ever this trip, because he now has a little son to look after while he's swinging through the tree tops, swimming underwater, and riding his elephant.

It's a very exciting and interesting movie and if you want to come along as my guest you'd better get to your letter writing.

Just tell me anything that you think will help to convince me that you really should have an invitation, and if you're really enthusiastic about coming along on the 24th, maybe your name will be printed in the list of winners which will be published in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

When writing you mustn't forget to tell me your full name, address, and age, because if you do you can't possibly be a winner.

All the letters will be judged and the winners selected on Thursday, so be sure to mail your letter in plenty of time to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON PARK DOUBLE PAYS RECORD $10,772.40

ANNA (ILL.) MAN COLLECTS BET SENT BY WIRE

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Claude Elkins, a pool room proprietor in Anna, Ill., yesterday won the largest daily double payoff in the history of American racing—$10,772.40 for a $2 ticket coupling Joy Bet with Merry Caroline in the first and second events at Washington Park. Elkins missed the thrill of actually seeing his horses win, for he wired in the bet to a track representative under the name of H. E. Davis.

The biggest previous double went over at Tropical Park on March 18, 1935, Wanoah and Arakay paying $7,205.40.

Joy Bet Is 65 to 1 Shot.

The first of Elkins' choices, Joy Bet, was a 65 to 1 shot which returned the freak prices of $131.40 to win, $244 to place, and $31.80 to show. Merry Caroline was at odds of 9 to 1, returning $20, $9, and $5.

When reached by telephone yesterday Elkins said he intended to put the money in the bank, but that part of it would be used in the education of his only son, Billy, 14 years old, who is a junior in the Anna-Jonesboro Community High school. Elkins is 40 years old and a respected citizen. He is a member of the Lions club and has been active in sponsoring boxing bouts at the southern Illinois fair grounds. With his wife, Grace, and son he moved from Cambria, Ill., to Anna, which is in the southwestern section of the state, ten years ago. He is a former semi-pro baseball player.

Saddest person in Anna yesterday was a barber named McIntyre with whom Elkins had offered to split the bet before it was wired to the track. The name of H. E. Davis was used by several Anna racing fans yesterday in wiring bets to save telegraph tolls. The winning daily double bet, however, belongs entirely to Elkins.

Picked on Workouts.

Elkins said that he picked Joy Bet because of good workouts. This horse, which is owned by Mrs. Milton Reiser, had started only three times previously and had never been better than seventh. The workouts which influenced Elkins were a half mile in :49 breezing and five-eighths in 1:03 handily.

He said that he had selected Merry Caroline because she had made better time than rivals in the field yesterday.

Nineteen other persons at the track picked Joy Bet and Merry Caroline in the patrons handicapping contest and now are feeling sorry for themselves because they didn't back their judgment with a daily double bet. The last of the contestants, who were trying to pick seven consecutive winners went out when his choice in the fifth race, Carla, ran second.

Chances Appear Slim.

Elkins' chances seemed pretty slim in the early stages of the first race when Joy Bet, away slowly, was unable to improve his position among the eleven other two years olds running in this five and a half furlong dash. As they came into the stretch, Jockey Bob Montgomery took Joy Bet fairly wide and the horse began a charge from fifth place. Getting to the front in the last sixteenth he drew out easily to beat Ronnie Bane by two lengths with Earlsboro third.

During the interval between the first and second races, the announcer called the possible daily double payoffs. When he mentioned $10,772.40 on No. 10 the crowd eyed the 9 year old chestnut mare, Merry Caroline, ridden by Jockey Jimmy Ashcroft who was wearing the red and green colors of Paul Kelley.

Immediately after the break, Merry Caroline rushed up to run with Honey Roll, but the crowd didn't really get excited until the thoroughbreds wheeled into the stretch with the $10,000 horse in front. Valdina came with a strong challenge at the eighth pole, but Merry Caroline continued gamely to win by a length.

GIANTS DISCOVER NEW STRENGTH IN FIRST SCRIMMAGE

Play of Six Newcomers Pleases Pro Coaches.

Musicians!

MEMBERS of college bands residing in the Chicago district are invited to join the College All-Star band which will play between halves of the game between the College All-Americans and the New York Giants in Soldiers' field Aug. 30. All musicians desiring to participate should write to Glen Cliffe Bainum, band director, Fisk hall, Northwestern university.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Superior, Wis., Aug. 14.—When Ed Danowski passed fifty-five yards to Ward Cuff for a touchdown in the first scrimmage of the year today, the New York Giants declared their season officially opened. Danowski's pass and Cuff's run produced the only scoring thrust of the workout, in which four teams competed behind the locked gates of Superior State Teachers college's stadium.

The scrimmage had a heartening effect on Giant hopes for victory in the Chicago All-Star game on Aug. 30 when half a dozen new men gave performances under fire that indicated they can be trusted with important assignments against the collegians. Walter Neilsen, husky full back from Arizona; Ed Miller, midget half back from New Mexico Aggies, and Alton Owen, a former Mercer half back who starred with the Cincinnati Bengals last fall, played leading rôles on the offense. Three linemen, Tom Roberts of De Paul, Jerry Ginney, Santa Clara; and Walter Oldershaw of Santa Barbara State, all guards, held their own against the Giant regulars.

Coach Owen Is Happy.

Coach Steve Owen said he was well pleased with the squad's showing and its progress in four days of training. He said there probably would be three more scrimmages before the team breaks camp here two weeks from today for the trip to Chicago. Much of Owen's enthusiasm was due obviously to the squad's escape from injury in its first serious contact work. Fritz Crisler, head coach at the University of Michigan, was one of the seven spectators admitted to the stadium when the scrimmage began, and he left apparently as much impressed with the world's champions as Owen.

"They looked exceptionally good for the first scrimmage," Crisler said, "and their spirit is surprising."

Now the Work Starts; Stars to Scrimmage

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The All-Star football squad will hold its first scrimmage this afternoon. This was the order of Head Coach Elmer Layden and his assistants yesterday which signaled the end of the early organization drills in Dyche stadium.

The squad of 70 players will be divided into two teams. Scrimmage will not start with the kickoff, however, but each team will alternate on the offense, taking the ball on its own ten yard line, keeping possession under the regular rules.

"We are well pleased with the progress of the boys," Layden said after the double workout yesterday. "All are working hard and there is no question but that this squad is the best balanced in the history of the annual game with the professional champions. I say this because of the way players are fitting into their offensive and defensive assignments.

Layden Promises Chance for All.

"We hope to give each boy a chance to show what he can do at his regular position before the week is over. Some probably will be changed to other positions. Several already have volunteered to change. But in the back field, for instance, our starting players already fit into defensive assignments. Bob MacLeod is a defensive right half. Howie Weiss naturally is a line backer. Marshall Goldberg plays defensive left half and Davey O'Brien is a safety. This eliminates any immediate change on the night of the game with the New York Giants provided, of course, other men do not prove themselves superior in ability."

Since Goldberg will not be ready to scrimmage until several days after the cast is removed from his broken toe, Bill Hofer of Notre Dame, at present is the first team quarter back and O'Brien is the left half. Hofer also can play defensive left half, which will leave the Texas Christian star at safety.

Backs Drill on Shift.

George Faust, Minnesota quarter back, who missed two days of practice because of a knee injury suffered in the Cardinals' camp in Duluth, Minn., was in suit yesterday. Mike Kabealo, Ohio State quarter back, was injured yesterday morning when he dropped back to pass and slipped and fell. He cut a three inch gash on his arm which required two stitches.

The afternoon drill was delayed a half hour because of the weather and

FRENCH AND CUBS BLANK CARDS, 4-0; FIFTH STRAIGHT

St. Louis Tamed on Diet of Four Hits.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 14.—Larry French, the left handed gentleman who recently complained to his boss that he was underpaid, today pushed his Cub associates closer to second place and at the same time nominated himself as a candidate for an immediate wage boost.

The veteran southpaw, making his second start since he barked for release from what he thought was Manager Gabby Hartnett's doghouse, bathed the Cardinals in whitewash, the Chicagoans meanwhile stepping along to their fifth straight victory, 4 to 0.

Only Two Reach Second.

French converted the team that yesterday was hot enough to burn up the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader, into a wet package of feebleness. They frisked Larry for only four hits and their progress on the base lines was restricted to two men reaching second, one of these because of an error in the Cub defense.

The Cub attack wasn't of riotous proportions but it was timely and had distance. Their first run can be discounted because it probably wouldn't have scored if Ducky Medwick hadn't endeavored to be fancy instead of careful in his fielding. The next two, however, were strictly on their merits, Stan Hack coming up with a two bagger in the fourth and shoving home two mates who were on the bases waiting for developments. Hack's double helped to rout Tom [Lefty] Sunkel, and thereafter the Cubs were just about helpless against Bill McGee, the exception being Bill Nicholson who celebrated the arrival of right handed pitching by propelling a homer to right in the fifth.

French Shakes Off Injury.

French was bruised in more ways than one in the first inning but saved himself by refusing to surrender a hit. With one out Stu Martin grounded to G. Russell and French covered the bag on the play. The throw was wild and, in addition, French was kicked on the right foot by the runner. After removing his shoe and taking a look Larry decided he wasn't hurt, so resumed pitching and retired the side.

The Cubs also had a little harmless fun in their opening half. After two were disposed of, Galan walked and Leiber singled to left but Sunkel stopped Nicholson on a grounder to Mize. The next Cub to reach base was French, who walked to start the

Cub Officials See Sox Play Under Lights

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Several members of the Cubs' official family were among the 35,000 spectators at Chicago's major league inaugural last night in Comiskey park. Among them were Charles Drake, assistant to P. K. Wrigley; Boots Weber, Miss Margaret Donahue, and Bill Veeck. Not to mention young Buddy Hartnett, son of the Cubs' manager.

Mr. Drake, as official spokesman for the National league club, said that Wrigley field would not be lighted until the Cubs were certain their fans wanted night baseball. He declared that under no circumstances would the Cubs join the night baseball movement next year.

Baseball under the stars was a hit from the moment young Charles Comiskey II. pressed two switches at 8:25 o'clock that brought out the green of the field in bold relief. It was as though one had suddenly walked into bright sunshine. The twin switches are located in the offices formerly occupied by J. Louis Comiskey, owner-president of the club, who died recently without realizing his ambition to see his team in action at night.

The financial soundness of the Comiskey project was proved by the tremendous turnout to see a fourth place team battle the tail end Browns. Earlier games against St. Louis on the south side this year drew from 1,000 to 3,000.

Jimmy Dykes, the White Sox manager, was just as glib in the nocturnal setting as when perspiring under the hot sun. "The umpires still look the same to me under the lights," he said.

Ted Lyons hobbled into a box seat back of the White Sox dugout, aided by a cane. His right ankle, wrenched in Cleveland Sunday, pained the veteran pitcher so much that he was ordered to Mercy hospital this morning. The ankle will be placed in a cast for a week.

The major complaint of players is that a ground ball makes a shadow as it skips across the turf, thus increasing the hazard of fielding.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, hung his chin on folded arms against a box seat railing on the first base side watching another chapter in baseball's progress. Don Barnes, president, and Bill de Witt, business manager of the Browns, were all smiles as they surveyed the crowd. The Browns don't often play to such assemblages.

Even though it was a hot, steamy night, the park was almost completely free from insects.

The White Sox will relax today, the custom on the day after a night game under the fixed major league schedules. The custom will not prevail regularly under the Sox's emergency night schedule, however.

RIGNEY YIELDS ONLY 3 HITS, FANS 10 BROWNS

Chicago Takes Over Third Place.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The new $140,000 illuminating plant in Comiskey park last night lighted the White Sox' way right back into third place, a spot they vacated Saturday after a long and nervous tenancy. In the inaugural of night major league baseball in Chicago more than 35,000 watched John D. Rigney of River Forest turn in a handsome three hit performance to beat the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2.

Rigney faced only fifteen batsmen, the absolute minimum in the first five innings. He would have had a shutout if Luke Appling, who usually goes to bed at 9 o'clock each night, hadn't been seized with an almost unprecedented fit of fumbles in the sixth. Luke mussed up no fewer than four double play balls to present the Browns with their two runs on a hit production of one single, the first hit off Rigney, some ten minutes after the inning should have been over.

Rigney Fans Ten.

Rigney fanned ten Brownies, six of them in the five innings before the St. Louisans got a runner on base. Julius Solters struck out three times. The only time he failed to fan he ended the erratic sixth inning when he flied to Gee Walker while trying to hit the ball to Appling. It was the tenth victory for the young native and the ninth success the Sox have scored against the Browns in eleven games this season.

The big crowd was an enthusiastic one which seemed to endorse night ball, in a hearty way. Thirty-five thousand on Monday night to see the tailend Browns represented about thirty times as many as the Browns would draw on a nice, sunshiny Monday afternoon. Maybe sixty times as many. Everything went off without a hitch and few if any adjustments will be necessary before the next night game, against the Cleveland Indians next Friday. O, they may change that bulb that kept beaming in Luke's eye, both on defense and offense, but it was said that would be an easy matter.

Sox batsmen, other than Appling, had no trouble with the lamps.

McNair Starts It.

The Sox started the scoring business in the second inning. Radcliff singled to left with one out and, after McNair had flied to Laabs, stole second. Tresh then sent Rip home with a single to left. Rigney struck out.

The Sox added the second run of the contest after two were out in the fourth inning. McNair doubled to right center and again Tresh functioned for a run. He sent McNair home with a single to center. Rigney doubled, Tresh stopping at third, but the inning ended when Trotter tossed out Hayes.

The score became 3 to 0 for the Sox in the fifth. Kuhel singled to right center, stole second, and stopped at third on Kreevich's single to center. Kuhel scored and Kreevich stopped at second as Walker beat out a scratch off Trotter's bare hand. Kreevich stole second and Glenn feinted a throw to third which lured Walker off first. Glenn then trapped Walker with a throw to McQuinn. During the rundown on Walker, Kreevich broke for the plate and the rundown was abandoned as Berardino threw to Glenn to harpoon Kreevich. Walker reached

NO PLACE LIKE HOME?

There's one night in the year John Howard Payne's much loved poem won't hold true. It's the night of Aug. 30, when the College All-Americans meet the New York Giants, professional champions, in Soldiers' field. You'll want to be there to see the nation's best football players clash in a thrill-packed game. You can be present—if you'll act quickly.

It's just a matter of calling at the Tribune's Public Service offices, either in the lobby of Tribune Tower or 1 South Dearborn street, for your tickets, or making the purchase by mail. Money orders or checks should be made payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and addressed to All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

RULE LEO BEYDA FROM TRACK AT WASHINGTON PK.

Owner Considered Guilty of Breach of Ethics.

Leo Beyda, well known Chicago horseman, was ruled off the Washington Park track yesterday. In issuing the order the board of stewards, composed of Christopher J. FitzGerald, Norris Royden, and William Hamilton, stated that they considered Beyda guilty of a breach of racing ethics and a reflection on the integrity of Jockey Warren Yarberry. They referred the matter to the Illinois racing commission for further consideration.

The trouble started in last Friday's seventh race, in which Yarberry rode a Beyda horse, Sure Swift. According to the stewards' findings, Beyda came up to the rail while the horses were being led into the starting gate and called to Yarberry that he was betting on the horse and "wanted a ride."

Being Backed Into Gate.

When the field was sent away Sure Swift "was being backed into the gate" in the words of the track's statement. Accordingly he got away last and never was a factor. Afterward Beyda is said to have told Yarberry that he "didn't like the race."

Beyda also is said to have expressed reflections on the character of the race to E. B. Carpenter, an owner, who developed Yarberry as a rider.

When the stewards got wind of the matter all parties concerned were called in for a hearing on Saturday afternoon.

Yesterday the stewards issued the following ruling:

Ruling by Stewards.

"Owner L. Beyda for a breech of racing ethics, while the horses in the seventh race on Friday, Aug. 11 were in the hands of the starter, and for a subsequent reflection on the integrity of Jockey W. Yarberry, is denied all privileges of the Washington Park Jockey club, and that the entry of any horse owned wholly or in part by him, will not be accepted for the duration of the current meeting.

"The case will be referred to the Illinois Racing commission for its consideration."

Guldahl Wins in Dapper Dan Golf Playoff

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP)—Big Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., twice United States open champion, came back today with a par 70 to win the $2,500 first prize in the $10,000 Dapper Dan golf tournament in a three way 18 hole playoff with Denny Shute, Huntington, W. Va., and Gene Sarazen, East Brookfield, Conn.

Guldahl finished four strokes ahead of Shute, who took the $1,250 second prize, and five better than Sarazen's 75, which won the gentleman farmer $1,000. The trio also split one half of today's receipts from a crowd estimated at 7,000.

A sensational recovery by Guldahl from the sand near the 291 yard eighth green turned the playoff in the former Texan's direction and made up for the six foot putt he missed yesterday on the 18th green to cause the three way tie of 287 for the seventy-two holes.

Going to the eighth Guldahl's 28 was one stroke lower than his opponents, but his tee shot plunked into the sand. He dug in firmly and blasted into the cup for an eagle two, which left him with a two stroke advantage on Shute and three below Sarazen at the turn. Guldahl's nine hole total was 34.

CHICAGO BOATS WIN HEATS IN LAKE ERIE RACE

Vermilion, O., Aug. 14 (AP).—Lake Michigan star boats set the pace today during the second heat of the Great Lakes star boat championship series being raced in Lake Erie off this port.

Harry Nye of Chicago piloted Gale to first place in the afternoon event after coming in third during the morning sprint.

Twin Star, owned and piloted by John Periera of Wilmette, Ill., took a second and first during the day with Stepin Fetchit, piloted by Dick Otter, also of Wilmette, third and second during the morning and afternoon races respectively.

Third heats will be held tomorrow with the championship to be decided Wednesday.

REDS RALLY FOR 4 RUNS IN NINTH; BEAT PIRATES, 9-8

6 Hurlers Stampede, Yet Cincinnati Wins.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 14 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates stampeded six Cincinnati pitchers tonight, but the Reds came back with a smashing four run rally in the ninth inning to win the ball game, 9 to 8. Lew Riggs pinch singled the winning run with the bases full and two out.

TIGERS, INDIANS SPLIT

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP).—Schoolboy Rowe rescued the Detroit Tigers from their first losing streak in a month today by beating the Cleveland Indians, 10 to 3, in the second game of a double-header after the visitors snatched the opener, 8 to 4, in ten innings.

Loss of the first game stretched Detroit's streak of defeats to three straight.

1st Scrimmage Uncovers New Giant Strength

outlined at a chalk talk that replaced the morning workout.

Defense annually is the professionals' chief problem in the All-Star game. Coaches of the championship team are without scouts' reports on the All-Star attack and can only guess what plays the collegians will use.

Plans to Face Notre Dame System.

Coach Steve Owen is assuming that the All-Stars will employ the Notre Dame system almost exclusively since Elmer Layden, head coach of the All-Stars and two of his assistants, Harry Stuhldreher and Slip Madigan, learned their football under the late Knute Rockne.

He anticipates also that the personnel of the All-Star squad will make it necessary for Layden to use some short punt formation plays. Notre Dame, in recent years, has always had a few short punt formation plays in its repertoire, but its attack essentially has remained a modified single wing back from a balanced line with the backfield shift.

TORRANCE, ALL 312 LBS. OF HIM, SIGNS WITH BEARS

Weighing 312 pounds and standing 6 feet 3 inches, Torrance is the biggest man ever to play with the Bears and is one of the largest in National league history. He will play guard. Torrance left with the squad for Delafield, Wis., site of preliminary training, yesterday. He is 23 years old.

The Bears also announced that Ray Bulvid, who played half back for two years, will not be with the team this year.

the length of the morning drill. The boys worked on additional plays, without pads, and the backs continued learning the intricacies of the shift. The linemen, until the last half hour, worked separately under the tutelage of Joe Boland and Lyan Waldorf.

Place kickers and drop kickers had their first work at these specialties in the afternoon. The punters commenced their extra duties in the morning workout.

Bell May Preside at Kickoff.

In this group are Billy Patterson of Baylor, Sollie Sherman of Chicago, Sid Luckman of Columbia, John Pingel of Michigan State, Parker Hall of Mississippi, Bill Paulman of Stanford, Frank Balasz of Iowa, Vic Bottari of California, and O'Brien. The latter will draw the kicking assignment for the starting eleven.

RIGHT GUARD—Twedell, Minnesota; Rock, Iowa State; Tyrrell, St. Ambrose; Gross, Bradley; Humphrey, Purdue.

RIGHT HALF—MacLeod, Dartmouth; Smilanich, Arizona; Jefferson, Northwestern; Johnston, Washington; Panish, Bradley; Hall, Mississippi.

Ippolito has been shifted to quarter back for blocking strength, while two centers also have been changed. Humphrey went to guard while Cornell's Van Ranst has shifted to tackle, a position he played for two years.

Turnesa Plays in Exhibition Match Today

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

William Peter Turnesa, a busy wheel and axle man who will be busier with a driver and a putter next month, when he defends his national amateur golf championship at our town's North Shore club, is going to take an afternoon off today.

The dapper bambino of one of golfdom's greatest clans will play in an exhibition match during the first annual tournament of the Central Motor Freight association at the Calumet Country club. He will tee off at 1 p.m. in a best ball match with Harvey Fruehauf of Detroit against Walter Mullady, president of the C. M. F. A., and Chick Evans of Edgewater, former national amateur and open champion.

Willie anticipates a pleasant afternoon, but yesterday in his room at the Medinah Athletic club, averred it's going to be all too brief, for at midnight tonight he heads back for New York. The champ said he would much rather stay here from now until Sept. 11, when he will face the country's sharpest simon pure swingers in the national.

The 24 year old Turnesa indicated that he can't wait to step up on the first tee at North Shore, but business duties which have kept him on the go for 35,000 miles since the first of the year won't allow him to reach the battleground until Sept. 5.

Since the 1938 national open, Turnesa has played in only two events—the Anderson Memorial fourball matches and eastern amateur, in the final of which he lost, 4 and 3, to Bill Holt Sunday. He has found the constant traveling required by his job has tired him considerably.

Janet Smith, Hutchison Win in Mixed Golf

A "stop the Hutchisons" movement is in prospect among members of the Illinois sections of the Professional Golfers' association. Last Monday the Jock Hutchisons, senior and junior, ran off with the major prizes in the annual pro-seniors' event at Edgewood Valley. Yesterday Young Jock and his Rockford partner, Janet Smith, collaborated to take the sixth annual pro-ladies' tournament, conducted by the Chicago Women's District Golf association and the Illinois P. G. A. at the Indian Hill club.

Jock Jr. and Miss Smith shot a gross of 77, which with half of Miss Smith's regular handicap of eight, gave them a net of 73, one stroke better than the 80—6—74 submitted by Charley Penna and Mrs. John H. Kay of Medinah.

In all, eleven net prizes were awarded among the forty-three twosomes who played. Bob Stupple and Mrs. H. E. Greene of Skokie matched the winners' low gross total with 40—37—77.

Jock Hutchison Jr. and Janet Smith, Rockford	77	4	73
Dick Metz and Frances Lasker, Millroad Farm	85	12	73
Bob Stupple and Mrs. Howard E. Greene, Skokie	77	3	74
Charles Penna and Mrs. J. H. Kay, Medinah	80	6	74
Johnny Revolta and Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Evanston	80	4	76
Al Huske and Mrs. Perry Fisk, De Kalb	80	4	76
Dave Tosh and Shirley Ann Johnson, Sunset Ridge	79	1	78
Maurie White and Mrs. Dan Comstock, La Grange	84	5	79
Sam Bernardi, Old Elm, and Margaret Keirnan, Exmoor	85	6	79
Steve Grady and Mrs. John Blair, Evanston	85	6	79
Bill Brown and Gladys Sines, Olympia Fields	85	6	79
Barry Kinnell and Mrs. H. A. Fletchner, Edgewood Valley	85	6	79

second on the out and advanced to third while Appling was being thrown out by Clift. Radcliff was hit by a pitched ball but Christman threw out McNair.

Lights Dazzle Luke.

A walk to Glenn at the start of the sixth ended Rigney's span of perfect pitching. Christman bounced to Appling, and though Luke handled the ball too slowly for a double play he did manage to hold and throw to Hayes to force Glenn. Sullivan batted for Trotter and shot what appeared to be a cinch double play ball to Appling, but Luke kicked it around until Christman was safe at second and Sullivan at first. Harris ran for Sullivan.

Berardino singled to center, the first hit off Rigney, Christman scoring. Grace banged the third double play ball of the inning to Hayes. But again Appling was dazzled by the new lights and dropped the ball. The bases were loaded. McQuinn shot the fourth double play ball of the inning to Appling. Luke also kicked this one around for a while, but recovered in time to stagger to second, forcing Grace while Harris scored. Solters tried to get the ball to Luke, but hit it a bit too hard. It was a fly to Walker.

Sox Pull Away.

Rigney singled with one out in the sixth, but the inning ended with a double play. With one out in the seventh the Browns made a bid for a tie when Laabs doubled to left. Then Rigney just made himself quit thinking about Appling. Glen flied to Kreevich and Christman struck out.

The Sox, at the expense of Lawson, pulled out of danger in the seventh. Kuhel opened the inning with an infield single and stopped at third on Kreevich's double to right. Walker was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Appling forced Walker, Kuhel scoring. Kreevich was out at the plate for the second time in the game when he tried to score on Radcliff's grounder to Berardino. McNair singled to center, scoring Appling with the final run of the game.

DODGERS SELL LARY, PURCHASE 2 OUTFIELDERS

New York, Aug. 14 [Special].—The Brooklyn Dodgers today made announcement of several player changes. Lyn Lary, who has been at Ebbets field as a substitute infielder since early in the season, was sold to the Cardinals and will report to the St. Louis team at once.

General Manager Larry MacPhail also announced that the Dodgers have completed negotiations with the Nashville club of the Southern association for Charles Gilbert and Calvin Chapman, left hand hitting outfielders. The Dodgers will pay $40,000 for the two players.

LEE VS. WARNEKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 14.—Bill Lee who with fourteen to his credit is tops as the winning member of the Cub staff will attempt to add another in the final of the series with the pennant threatening Cards tomorrow. Lon Warneke pitched three innings last Saturday but is going to start against his former Chicago pals.

Dizzy Dean Sued for $6,989.90 by His Former Agent

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 14.—Dizzy Dean returned to the public prints today, this time as defendant in a suit charging failure to fulfill a contract. The Cubs' pitcher will be forced to answer in Circuit court to a claim filed by William O. Dewitt, now an official of the St. Louis Browns, that Dean while a member of the St. Louis Cardinals neglected to pay a total of $6,989.90 to the plaintiff for services as a business manager.

Dewitt, then connected with the Cardinals, acted as Dean's agent in contracting for paid testimonials, personal appearances, and other off the field activities during the years of 1933 to 1935 inclusive. Four separate demands for $208.20, $1,500, $2,324.20, and $2,957.50 are listed in the suit, the total representing according to Dewitt, an unpaid 10 per cent.

PARKER-M'NEILL HAVE CLOSE CALL IN DOUBLES MEET

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 14 (AP).—In a mighty battle of services which even overshadowed the near defeat of top-seeded Frankie Parker and Don McNeill on another court, Ladislaw Hecht of Czecho-Slovakia and Charles Hare of England gained the second round of the men's national doubles tennis meet today.

Their victims in a two hour and forty-five minute struggle were John Hope Doeg of Seabright, N. J., a former doubles champion, and Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., 8-10, 9-7, 4-6, 10-8, 6-3.

MEISTER BRÄU WINS VOTE of Lake View Lions Club—35 to 6

At a regular meeting of the Lake View Lions Club at the Webster Hotel, 2150 N. Lincoln Park West, members and guests were asked to taste Meister Bräu bottled beer and compare it with other brands. Representing a variety of business in Chicago's thriving Lake View District, 5 out of every 6 of these men said, "I prefer Meister Bräu to any other bottled beer."

The photo shows William Niemann, Niemann Dairy Co., 1756 W. Barry Ave., Charles Lohse, tailor, 541 Diversey Parkway, Ted Zimmerman, representing the Equitable Life Assurance Society, 120 S. Independent Investigator Finds All-Grain Flavor Chief Reason for Amazing Popularity of Meister Bräu

When Chicago newspapers asked retailers what bottled beer leads in sales, they reported Meister Bräu from 2 to 1 to 10 to 1. The Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation was asked to check on this amazing leadership and to learn the reason for this tremendous popularity by holding taste-and-compare tests among groups of men and women. These tests show that the old-time, all-grain flavor of Meister Bräu gives it this astonishing preference, and that Chicagoans from all walks of life appreciate the refusal of Richard Seibold, Meister Bräu Brewmaster, to add sugars or syrups to the brew and change its all-grain flavor.

ONCE FIRED, NOW HAS SELF AND 4 ON CITY PAY ROLL

Public Service a Family Matter to La Velles.

A quarter of a century ago, James H. LaVelle, an employé in the city bureau of streets, was discharged by the civil service commission after serious charges were brought against him by William Burkhardt, then deputy commissioner of public works. Yesterday it was revealed that LaVelle has been back in the city's service since 1934 holding down a better job than he had before.

And, records show, he has two sons, a daughter, and a son-in-law who are also on the public pay roll. A recent survey of city pay rolls disclosed scores of other cases of persons with political connections installing several of their immediate relatives in tax supported jobs.

Gets $4,000 as Foreman.

LaVelle is listed on the current pay roll of the bureau of streets as general asphalt foreman at a salary of $4,000 per year. He was appointed to this post in 1934, being a noncivil service or temporary employé.

There is no hint in the present file that he worked for the city before. But the records of his previous employment and his discharge still exist, buried in the "dead" files in the civil service commission vaults.

They show that LaVelle originally started to work for the city in 1900 as a utility subpaving inspector. The civil service charges were filed against him Dec. 7, 1915. At the time he was a foreman on asphalt cutouts, drawing approximately $3,000 per year.

Dismissed on Three Charges.

Ten days later, the civil service commission found him guilty on three counts and ordered his discharge. The charges sustained by the commission were:

"Absent from work without leave; permitted material owned by the city to be used for work performed by private individuals and corporations; performed his duties carelessly, negligently, inefficiently, and incompetently, failing properly to supervise work for which he was responsible."

Other charges filed by Burkhardt on which there was no ruling by the commission were:

"Discriminated against certain contractors; interested in certain firms doing work for the city; allowed certain contractors to lay pavement at a cost less than if requirements had been compiled with, thereby defrauding the city and permitting contractors to make an illegal profit."

Blames Politics for Ouster.

LaVelle blames his discharge upon politics. He said:

"The administration that was elected in 1915 didn't like me and wanted me out of the way. I just had to take it. There never was any suspicion about my work in the fifteen years I was with the city before the trouble started."

Files on the case, however, show that LaVelle failed to present any defense before the commission. He was represented in the beginning by counsel, but later withdrew entirely from the proceedings.

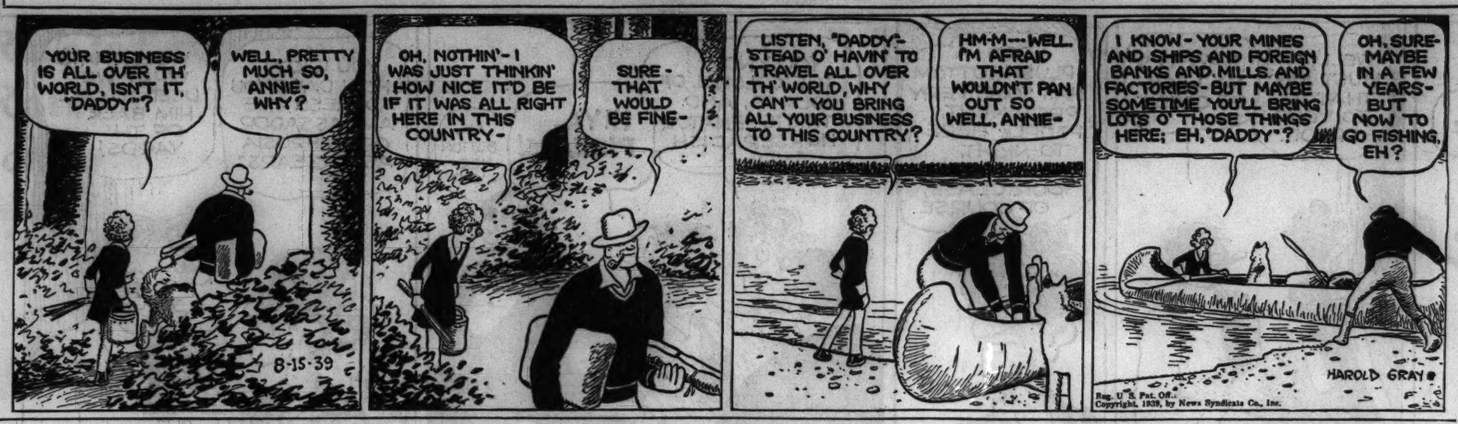
How he was able to return to the employ of the city in view of his record is cloaked in mystery. It is reported that he owes his job and those held by other members of his family to a friend high in the ranks of the Democratic party. LaVelle's home is at 3500 Fulton street, in the 28th ward of which Patrick A. Nash, chairman of the county central committee, is ward committeeman.

Couple Draw $5,000 a Year.

LaVelle's two sons on the city pay roll are Russell and Warren LaVelle, both listed as asphalt helpers. They receive $7.20 per day, but their work is irregular because of the weather and the condition of city finances.

His daughter, Mrs. Ruth LaVelle Eckland, is carried on the pay roll as a utility employé in the street repair office at the rate of $6 per day. Her husband, Orville Eckland, a civil service employé, is foreman on asphalt cutouts at $10 a day. Mr. and Mrs. Eckland work six days a week, drawing between them nearly $5,000 per year.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: "Why Speak of It Now?"



MILK PRODUCERS' STRIKE STARTS IN NEW YORK TODAY

Doubt Likelihood of City Shortage.

New York, Aug 14 [Special].—Officials of the state division of milk control and the city department of health assured New York City consumers today that the upstate milk strike, scheduled to be called tomorrow morning by the Dairy Farmers' union, was not likely to cause any shortage here.

Dr. John L. Rice, commissioner of health, said milk production had been spurting upstate since the end of the July drouth which led the union to call the strike in order to obtain higher prices. Laurance Clough, a spokesman for the state division of milk control, said today in Utica, N. Y., that he did not expect enough farmers to join the strike to cause a serious shortage.

Union Predicts Real Battle.

Officials of the union, which claims a membership of 15,000 dairymen in thirty counties of the New York milkshed, predicted, however, that the strike would be the most determined battle over milk prices in the state's history.

The Congress of Industrial Organizations pledged state-wide support to the strike at a conference with union representatives today at the regional C. I. O. office here.

Seek Price Hike in Michigan.

Lansing Mich., Aug. 14 [Special].—The state milk marketing board was asked today by the Michigan Milk Producers' association to increase from $1.90 to $2.38 a hundredweight the minimum price paid farmers for fluid milk distributed in the Detroit area.

B. F. Beach, secretary-manager of the producers' group, told the board business conditions are improving and that milk prices should be raised to conform to cost of production. He estimated costs for fall and winter months at $2.03 a hundredweight which, plus haulage and other expense items, brought the required minimum to $2.38.

The base price would be paid only for milk distributed in bottled form, and condensary prices would be a gauge for fixing prices of surplus milk and other dairy products.

SQUALUS READY FOR NEW LIFT FROM SEA MUD

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 14 (AP).—Navy men took every advantage today of the few good diving hours offered by an unruly ocean to press preparations for lifting the sunken submarine Squalus on Wednesday or Thursday from a hitherto uncharted mudbank to shallower water — the second operation in the salvage plan.

The vessel was raised eighty feet from its muddy berth on the ocean floor last Saturday and towed to within 400 yards of the goal set for the first lift before it grounded.

At the salvage scene divers worked today on resinking the Squalus' bow pontoons. The next steps were the sinking of the three stern drums, then an inspection of the work and again the order to blow and tow. The first diver down today, Lieut. J. K. Morrison, found the Squalus' bow fifteen feet lower than her stern and resting in eight feet of mud. He said she was in good condition for salvage work.

MOTHER AND TWO GIRLS DIE IN TRAP AT RAIL TRESTLE

Mrs. Theodore Raver Fife, 50 years old, died in a Lafayette, Ind., hospital from injuries received when she lay between rails in the hope that a freight would pass over her. Dora Raver, 22, leaped and was killed, and Bertha Raver, 14, lost her life when she was hit by the locomotive.

The mother, a former resident of Lafayette, and Theodore Fife of Delphi were married only a week ago.

Start Building of $93,000 North Avenue Beach House

Work was started yesterday on the $93,358 beach house to be constructed on the new North avenue beach. The building, which will resemble the superstructure of an ocean liner and will be 440 feet long, will be erected east of the present North avenue grade separation. The structure is to be completed within 100 days, but will not be used until next season, park officials said.

New York Levies $658,016 Tax on John Andrus Estate

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 14 [Special].—New York state will benefit to the extent of $658,016 in taxes on the $6,137,289 net estate of the late John E. Andrus of Yonkers, "millionaire strap-hanger," financier, and philosopher, who died on Dec. 26, 1934. The tax assessment order was signed today by Frank H. Coyne of Westchester, acting surrogate.

BLACKETT HOME; CONSIDERS G. O. P. FINANCIAL AIDS

Hill Blackett, Republican national committeeman, said yesterday that he probably will appoint the recently authorized Illinois Republican finance committee about Sept. 1.

He had just returned from a two weeks' vacation with his family in Montana. During his absence the state central committee placed in his hands the power to raise funds for the 1940 campaign and its preliminaries, a responsibility he agreed to accept in connection with his election to his present post.

Blackett said he is resuming his conferences with downstate leaders at once, having a conference scheduled in Rock Island today and another in Rockford tomorrow. It is possible that when he returns from this trip he will confer with C. B. Goodspeed, treasurer of the G. O. P. national committee. Party leaders say they hope for a clear agreement between the two about the collection of funds in this state. Goodspeed is now in Massachusetts but may return for a short stay in Chicago this week.

Tight Rope Walker Dies After Fall at Carnival

Harvey Mills, 44 years old, a tight rope walker, died yesterday in the Evangelical hospital of injuries suffered Sunday night when he fell 40 feet to the ground while performing in a carnival at 51st and Elizabeth streets. Hundreds of persons witnessed the accident. The carnival was sponsored by St. John of God Catholic church, 52d and Throop streets. Mills' home was in Chillicothe, O.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Betty Swanson.

Mrs. Betty Swanson, mother of State Representative David I. Swanson of the 11th district, died yesterday in the Swedish Baptist Home for the Aged, 11404 Bell avenue, where she was a temporary resident. She was 82 years old. Mrs. Swanson came to this country in 1880. Her husband, John, an employé of the Chicago Rapid Transit Lines and a well known lay preacher, died in 1920. Besides the legislator, Mrs. Swanson leaves two sons, Joel W. and Henry O. Swanson, two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Holmquist and Mrs. Almeda Carlson, and eight grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Englewood Swedish Baptist church, 59th street and Emerald avenue. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Charles Lantz.

Funeral services for Charles Lantz, for forty years a flour broker, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the chapel at 134 South York street, Elmhurst, with burial in Graceland cemetery. Mr. Lantz died Sunday at the age of 83 years in his home at 487 South Kenilworth avenue, Elmhurst. Born in Paris, France, Mr. Lantz for many years was private secretary to an English nobleman with whom he traveled extensively in Europe and the orient. He came to this country in 1891. Surviving are his widow, the former Elizabeth Healy, of Mineral Point, Wis., and a son, George Lantz.

P. A. S. Franklin.

New York, Aug. 14 (AP).—P. A. S. Franklin, 68 years old, who retired as chairman of the board of the United States Lines last January, died today at his home, Hayfields, Locust Valley, Long Island. He was a leading figure in American shipping circles for more than a generation. Franklin turned over active management of the shipping company to his son, John M. Franklin, president since 1936, and remained a member of the board in an advisory capacity.

Richard J. Wren.

Richard J. Wren, for ten years president of local 399 of the International Union of Operating Engineers, died last night in the Little Company of Mary hospital. He was 52 years old and lived at 9011 South Bell avenue. Surviving are his widow, Theresa; two sons, Richard J. Jr. and Thomas; two daughters, Mary and Catherine; a sister, Mrs. Frederick Belton, and three brothers, Thomas, a deputy sheriff; John, and Maurice Wren.

Harmon W. Reed.

Harmon W. Reed, retired warehouseman and 1936 aspirant for governor on the Prohibition ticket, died yesterday in his apartment at 1363 East 64th street. He was 80 years years old. Mr. Reed's wife, Clara, died four years ago. They had no children. Funeral arrangements last night were awaiting the arrival of relatives from Marshalltown, Ia., and Ladysmith, Wis.

Mrs. Laura Perry Chamberlin.

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Perry Chamberlin, 4425 Drexel boulevard, who died Saturday at the age of 95, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the Oak Woods cemetery chapel. She was the widow of Dr. George M. Chamberlin. Mrs. Chamberlin had lived most of her life in Chicago. She was a member of the D. A. R.

FIND 11 BODIES OF RIO CLIPPER CRASH VICTIMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 14.—Eleven bodies were recovered today from the wreckage of the Pan American Airways clipper plane which crashed in the harbor here yesterday. Three other persons were killed and two survived.

The death list included the crew of four and Prof. James Harvey Rogers, noted economist of Yale university and an original member of President Roosevelt's "brain trust."

The wreckage of the plane was towed to Rio de Janeiro airport where Brazilian officials and Pan American representatives began an examination in hope of learning the cause of the crash. Divers searched for the three missing bodies.

To Correct Constipation Don't Get It!

Why let yourself in for all the discomfort of constipation—and then have to take an emergency medicine—if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble?

If your difficulty, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy toasted cereal—a natural food, not a medicine—has just the "bulk" you need. If you eat it every day, it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, month after month, by the pleasantest means you ever knew!

Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Dr. Edgar A. Degenhardt.

Funeral services for Dr. Edgar A. Degenhardt, a physician and surgeon in Oak Park for eighteen years, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in St. Giles church in the suburb. Dr. Degenhardt, who was 43 years old, died early yesterday in his home at 1228 Columbian avenue, Oak Park. He was a member of a number of medical organizations, including the American Association of Railway Surgeons and the Central States Society of Industrial Medicine and Surgery. Surviving are his widow, Mildred; two sons, John and Junior; a daughter, Patricia, and four brothers, Bernard, Albert, and Louis of Alton, Ill., and Joseph Degenhardt of Paris, France.

T. E. Powers.

New York, Aug. 14 [Special].—T. E. Powers, 69 years old, for forty years a cartoonist for the Hearst newspapers, died early today in his home in Long Beach, N. Y., after an illness of two years. The two elves, Joy and Gloom, with which he enlivened his drawings, became a sort of trademark for his work. Mr. Powers was born in Milwaukee. His parents moved to Kansas City, Mo., where he attended school. He obtained a job in a lithographer's plant at $2 a week. Later he went to Chicago, and it was there he joined the Hearst organization. He retired two years ago.

Dr. Walter M. Walker.

Funeral services for Dr. Walter M. Walker, interim pastor of the First Baptist church of Elgin, will be held at 2 p. m. today at 266 East Chicago street, Elgin. Burial will be in Philadelphia. Dr. Walker was stricken with a heart attack near the end of church services Sunday night. He was 77 years old. He retired two years ago from the pastorate of the Third Baptist church in Germantown, Pa. At the request of old friends he returned to the Elgin church, where he had been pastor from 1894 to 1898.

Nathaniel Mitchell.

Nathaniel Mitchell, assistant organist of Trinity Episcopal church, 125 East 26th street, was found dead of a heart attack yesterday in the choir practice room of the church. He was 50 years old, and lived at 5046 Wrightwood avenue. The Rev. John Pickells, rector, said Mr. Mitchell had gone to the choir room Sunday afternoon to arrange music. The widow and a daughter survive. Services will be held in the church at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

Thomas H. Sherman.

Attleboro, Mass., Aug. 14 (AP).—Thomas H. Sherman, 96 years old, believed to be one of the last survivors of the theater audience which saw the assassination of President Lincoln, died today. He was a native of Bucksport, Me., and from 1870 to 1890 was a secretary for James G. Blaine, former governor of Maine and once a candidate for President. Sherman once served as United States consul at Liverpool, England.

Erwin W. Rinder.

The funeral of Erwin W. Rinder, manager of the Insurance Exchange building since 1924, will be held at 3:30 p. m. Friday in the chapel at 1460 Sherman avenue, Evanston. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery. Mr. Rinder, who was 60 years old, died last Friday in Tucson, Ariz. His widow, Mrs. Belle Vining Rinder, survives.

Omar Ramsden.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Omar Ramsden, eminent goldsmith, died here today. He was 65 years old. A bowl he made in 1937 to mark the fact that Great Britain had three kings in a year has been described as one of the world's outstanding works in gold.

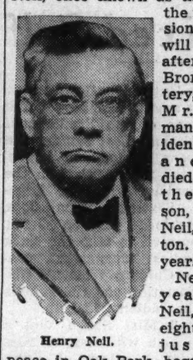
HENRY NEIL RITES TODAY; MOTHERS' PENSION LEADER



Henry Neil.

Private funeral services for Henry Neil, once known as the "father of the mothers' pension legislation," will be held this afternoon in the Bronswood cemetery, Hinsdale. Mr. Neil, for many years a resident of Oak Park and Hinsdale, died Sunday in the home of a son, Henry A. Neil, at Barrington. He was 76 years old.

Nearly forty years ago Mr. Neil, who served eight years as a justice of the peace in Oak Park, began campaigning for mothers' pensions. In 1911, Illinois became the first state to enact such legislation — state aid for widowed mothers to care for children at home. During the world war Mr. Neil went to England in the interest of his crusade. Since 1921 Mr. Neil had spent most of his time in world travel.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Whitney T. Lovell, and Mrs. Allen K. Schmidt, and four sons, Mark C., Henry A., Marshall E., and Bruce P. Neil.

HERO WORSHIPER CORPS ASSISTS BEACH GUARDS

There are approximately 300 boys from 12 to 14 years old who admire the park beach guards so much that they have found themselves working for their heroes—without pay.

On some of the beaches they are put through regular guard drills and training exercises. They run errands. They clean boats. They cart equipment from storehouses to the water front.

As a reward the youngsters occasionally are permitted to row the lifeguard boats and ride with guards stationed off shore.

The young workers have an informal organization, the junior life guard corps. It has been developing since 1934. Each beach has its individual corps, responsible to the guard captain at that beach.

On July 23, THE TRIBUNE published a story under a Syracuse, N. Y., dateline concerning the sale and merger of certain Hearst newspapers. This story listed the Milwaukee Sentinel as one of the papers disposed of. This part of the story was erroneous. The Sentinel continues to be published under Hearst management.

PWOC TO TAKE ITS ARMOUR CASE TO MADAME PERKINS

Proposals of the Packinghouse Workers' Organizing committee for a joint wage conference between its representatives and officials of Armour & Co. will be presented to Secretary of Labor Perkins in Washington tomorrow, Van A. Bittner, chairman of the PWOC, said yesterday. A delegation of PWOC officials and union representatives from seventeen Armour plants will meet with Secretary Perkins, he said.

The PWOC is seeking a contract to cover all Armour plants. The company maintains that it is acting in accordance with rules of the National Labor Relations board by negotiating contracts with units in the individual plants. Bittner charged that the Armour company has violated the labor relations act by refusing to meet with the PWOC which, he said, has been chosen by Armour employés as their bargaining agency.

W. S. GILES DIES; AN OFFICER OF THE HUB STORE

W. S. Giles, secretary-treasurer and a director of Henry C. Lytton & Sons' The Hub store, died last night of a heart ailment in the Henrotin hospital. He was 56 years old and lived at 900 North Michigan avenue. Mr. Giles was a brother-in-law of Mr. Lytton's wife. He had been with The Hub for six years. Previously Mr. Giles was a publisher in New York. He was a member of the Illinois Athletic club. His widow, Mae, survives.

CHRYSLER NET EARNINGS FOUR TIMES YEAR AGO

Half Year's Profit Is $25,345,771.

Earnings of Chrysler corporation and subsidiaries, automobile manufacturers, in the first half of this year were more than four times those of the corresponding period last year, according to a statement issued yesterday by the corporation. Net income climbed to $25,345,771 in the six months ended June 30. Per share earnings were $5.83. This compared with net income of $5,709,599, or $1.31 a share, in the corresponding period last year.

K. T. Keller.

Indicated net profit for the June quarter totaled $13,707,481, or $3.15 a share, against $11,638,290, or $2.67 a share, in the preceding period and $3,599,630, or 63 cents a share, in the three months ended June 30, 1938.

Declared $1.50 Dividend.

The Chrysler directors yesterday declared a dividend of $1.50 on the common stock, payable Sept. 13 to stockholders of record Aug. 24. A like amount was paid June 12, and $1 was paid March 14. During 1938 a total of $2 was disbursed on the common.

Chrysler sales totaled $342,788,293 in the first half of the current year. This compared with sales of $188,125,465 in the corresponding period last year.

"The immediate prospect seems to be that business will continue at current levels or possibly show some improvement," K. T. Keller, Chrysler president, told stockholders. "As our forward program is well in hand we anticipate a successful participation in the prevailing level of business activity."

Field Stocks "Healthy."

Keller added that, because field stocks of new and used cars "bear a healthy relation" to retail sales, the corporation's dealers were in an "excellent position" to handle the introduction of new models.

North American Aviation, Inc., reported net income of $2,781,682, equal to 81 cents a share, in the first half of the current year. This compared with net income of $590,175, or 17 cents a share, in the similar period last year. The company manufactures aircraft at Inglewood, Cal., and also has a plant near Baltimore, Md.

J. H. Kindelberger, president, estimated that unfilled orders total about $32,000,000, including a $15,800,000 order received last week from the army air corps. On June 30, unfilled orders amounted to $19,005,329, compared with $10,914,529 at the close of 1938 and $14,952,853 on June 30, 1938.

Loudon Packing Has Loss.

Operations of the Loudon Packing company, packers of tomato and other products, showed net loss of $55,112 in the fiscal year ended June 30, compared with net loss of $75,479 in the year ended June 30, 1938. The company's headquarters are at Terre Haute, Ind.

"Competitive marketing conditions in the canning industry in general have been extremely unsatisfactory principally as a result of overproduction of most canned vegetables and fruit juices," Stewart Rose, president, told Loudon stockholders in a letter accompanying the report. "It has been impossible for the company to obtain prices high enough to enable it to operate on a profitable basis even though sales in dollars for the year just ended showed an increase of 14 per cent over the prior year."

In its first semi-annual report, Kaufmann Department Stores, Inc., showed net income of $437,525, compared with net income of $331,914 in the corresponding period last year.

Rails to Ease Rates, Rules on Demurrage

The railroads yesterday announced a new move to make their freight service more attractive to shippers, hoping thereby to get back business lost to trucks and other competitors.

The car service division of the Association of American Railroads gave notice that effective Oct. 1 demurrage and storage rules will be liberalized. Demurrage means charges for the rentention of freigh cars for loading or unloading beyond certain time limits.

The latest action follows the recent announcement by the railroads that they are working to simplify their tarif schedules in the interest of shippers. This work will take about a year, and is expected to result in lower packing costs.

Shipper Groups Give Advice.

Changes in the demurrage and storage rules were made at the suggestion of the regional shippers advisory boards, the National Industrial Trafic league, and individual shippers and receivers of freight.

Among the important changes in the rules are the following:

A receiver of less-than-carload freight will be allowed five days in which to claim the freight after it has arrived at destination before the freight becomes subject to storage charges. The old rule provided four days.

A receiver of less-than-carload freight located from ten to thirty miles from the receiving freight station will be given ten days in which to claim the freight instead of the five days permitted now.

Old Rules Explained.

Under the old rule, when an empty car was delivered to the shipper for loading or a loaded car was delivered to the receiver for unloading, the railroads allowed two days of free time for this work. If the loading or unloading was not completed in two days, the railroads allowed four additional days in which a regular demurrage rate of $2.20 a day was charged. Starting with the seventh day, a $5.50 per day demurrage was in effect. Under the new rule the penalty rate will be reduced from $5.50 to $3.30 a day.

The new rules provide for additional time allowance without charge when weather conditions delay the loading of a car.

To induce shippers to load cars more nearly to capacity, the railroads will allow seventy-two hours of free time for loading and unloading freight cars that contain at least twice the minimum weight prescribed in the tarif.

NEW AUTO LIGHT SHOWN; HAILED AS SAFETY STEP

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14 [Special].—A new type headlamp which automobile executives believe will play a major rôle in cutting down the night accident rate on highways was shown here today by headlight manufacturers at the Nela Park laboratories of the General Electric company.

It is based on what is called a "sealed beam." It provides increased range and breadth of light with stronger intensity through its high or "country" beam, and reduction of glare with increased illumination of the right side of the road with its low or "trafic" beam.

The lamp is the result of three years of coöperation on the part of the engineers of automobile builders and lamp and bulb manufacturers. Details of its construction will not be made public until Aug. 24. Its introduction on the new model cars is held by safety experts to mark a forward step comparable in importance to the introduction of safety glass and four wheel brakes.

NORTH SHORE RY. PLANS SUIT TO AVOID LABOR ACT

Counsel for the receiver of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad company yesterday announced a plea will be made before Judge William H. Holly asking an injunction restraining the United States district attorney at Chicago from attempting to enforce any of the penalties prescribed by the railway labor act for failure to comply with that act's provisions.

The action results from the interstate commerce commission's ruling July 11 that the North Shore line is a commercial railroad rather than an interurban line, and thus is subject to the railway labor act's provisions. The line contends that the ICC ruling is contrary to the facts.

In the event that Judge Holly is unwilling to preside at the hearing, the road will ask that proceedings be brought before Judge James H. Wilkerson on Sept. 25. Judge Wilkerson has the receivership proceedings in charge.

REPUBLIC STEEL ASKS COURT BAN ON LAWLESSNESS

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP).—The Republic Steel corporation asked the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today to rule that strikers who commit acts of lawlessness have forfeited all right to return to their jobs.

The request was made in a brief supplementing arguments on Aug. 7 on Republic Steel's petition asking that the court set aside an order of the national labor relations board which directed the company to reinstate 5,000 Ohio workers involved in the "little steel" strikes of 1937.

The labor relations board contends that strikes resulted from unfair labor practices by the company. Attorneys for Republic Steel say trouble followed its refusal to sign a contract with the steel workers' organizing committee [C. I. O.].

Stocks Finish Strong After Wabbly Start

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 14.—The stock market shook off early irregularity today to post final gains ranging from fractions to about 2 points. Except for some large blocks that changed hands during the first hour the trading pace was slow. Volume totaled 550,000 shares.

Opening on a firm note, scattered selling for a time gave the list an irregular appearance. Fresh buying around midday converted losses into gains. After best prices had been recorded, however, interest dried up and prices were shaded. The demand was said to have been mostly for professional account.

Fear of War Allayed.

Although considerable obscurity surrounds the European situation, reports that Germany was heeding Italian words of caution regarding Danzig were regarded by market observers as aiding underlying sentiment in Wall street.

Better business news—highlighted by the forecast of a rise in the steel operating rate this week—also found favor, it was asserted.

Industrial shares pointed the way higher. Chrysler and Bethlehem Steel featured trading with gains of more than a point each. United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, General Motors, United States Rubber, and Goodrich contributed fractional advances.

Sears-Roebuck stood out in the merchandising section with a spurt of 1½ points. Montgomery Ward, among others, edged fractionally higher.

Copper Group Firmer.

Reflecting the order to shut down oil wells in Texas for 15 days, oil shares turned in a firm performance. Standard Oil of New Jersey gained ½ point and Texas Corporation rose 1 point.

Aviation issues were uniformly higher, with Douglas rising a point. Sperry Corporation and Glen Martin were other relatively strong spots.

Rails had some difficulty in pushing higher. The finish found Santa Fe, New York Central, Great Northern, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Pennsylvania in the plus column with fractions.

Hudson Motor Car Lowers Prices on Its 1940 Models

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP). — The Hudson Motor Car company announced price reductions today on its 1940 models. It said the Hudson six coupe would be listed at $25 lower than last year's similar model and the four door Hudson six sedan at a reduction of $43. A $38 cut on the supersix four door sedan also was announced.

CHICAGO EMPLOYERS TERM TAXES MAJOR RECOVERY OBSTACLE

The greatest obstacle to business recovery is the tax burden, the domestic commerce committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce declared yesterday in a survey of the taxes paid by fifteen large Chicago corporations. The study showed last year the fifteen companies paid taxes equal to $285 for each of their 204,672 employés.

"Local employers named the rapidly increasing tax load as their 'number one' problem and the 'number one' obstacle to greater employment of men and money," the report said. "The employers reported increases in taxes ranging from 50 to 100 per cent in the last decade."

Of the companies studied, four paid no dividends, seven paid more in taxes than in dividends and four paid more dividends than taxes. Taxes amounted to $2.11 a share of common stock and dividends totaled $1.57 a share.

DOUBTS MIDWEST COAL HEARINGS BEFORE AUG. 22

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Hearings on the minimum price schedule for bituminous coal in the midwestern regions are not expected to begin before Aug. 22, Percy Tetlow, head of the bituminous coal division of the department of interior, said tonight. The hearing originally was scheduled for last Monday, but was postponed because of slow progress on rates for the eastern sections.

Railway, waterway and highway interests of the Chicago area have indicated they will fight the government's newest attempt to fix coal prices.

Lewis Forces Assailed.

Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 14 [Special].—Labor groups dominated by John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., are threatening to wreck the work of many years in the Mississippi valley, Lachlan MacLeary, St. Louis, Mo., president of the Mississippi Valley association, said today. MacLeary attended a conference of a group opposing the new mine prices for coal in northern Illinois. The meeting was sponsored by the Quad city chamber of commerce.

MacLeary pledged support to the Quad-city fight for a readjustment of the proposed coal prices.

DUTCH BANKING FIRM WINS PLEA FOR SUSPENSION

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 14 (AP).—The Amsterdam tribunal granted a provisional suspension of payment today to Mendelssohn & Co. The banking firm closed Aug. 11, one day after the death of its senior partner, Fritz Mannheimer.

Creditors will be heard by the tribunal Nov. 30 before a final decision is made.

The bank's request for a moratorium stated its liabilities exceed its assets by 5,680,000 guilders, or about $3,000,000.

Expect Other States to Join Move.

CUT ILLINOIS CRUDE PRICE

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 14 (AP)—The Tulsa World said tonight the Sohio corporation had cut crude oil prices 20 cents a barrel, effective tomorrow, on the 13,500 barrels daily it purchases from the Salem pool in Illinois.

The reduction was the first in that area since the 20 cent cut in prices made by the Sinclair Prairie Oil Marketing company in the midcontinent area. Sohio corporation is a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of Ohio. Its new posting would be 85 cents per barrel.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 14 [Special.]—The oil wells of Texas today were ordered shut down for 15 days, effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow. The order was issued by the state railroad commission in an effort to stop the cutting of prices for crude oil.

Ernest O. Thompson calls oil states to meeting.

There are certain exceptions to the closing order. In cases where it can be shown that a complete shutdown would destroy a well it will be exempted. Wells in the Texas part of the Rodessa oil field will be exempted until Louisiana agrees to join in a similar program.

Reports Signs of Wide Support.

Meantime there were indications that Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, and Arkansas already are preparing to support the Texas shutdown by taking similar action, according to Lon A. Smith, chairman of the commission.

He said A. S. J. Shaw, chairman of the Oklahoma corporation commission, promised Oklahoma would "go along." He said Gov. John Miles of New Mexico pledged his state to stand back of any move the interstate compact commission might take, and that Gov. Payne Ratner of Kansas had called a meeting of the corporation commission to consider proposals to be made tomorrow at Oklahoma City.

Smith also said Arkansas officials had asked Texas to send a copy of the shutdown order so Arkansas could draft a similar one.

More than 80,000 oil wells are located in Texas. Daily production has been averaging about 1,300,000 barrels. For months the wells in the state have been kept closed on Saturdays and Sundays to cut production.

Move Follows Crude Cut.

The first recent big attack on oil prices came last week when the Sinclair Prairie Oil Marketing company cut the price of crude oil 20 cents a barrel. This company's action was quickly followed by the Humble Oil and Refining and some other companies.

Ernest O. Thompson, a member of the Texas railroad commission and chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, has called a meeting of the compact commission to be held tomorrow in Oklahoma City, Okla. Governors of seven states, or their representatives, have indicated they will be present. Thompson said that Texas is hopeful that other leading oil producing states will close

State's Control of Drilling Launched; Oil Problem Told

The oil industry in Illinois, which has climbed to fourth rank in production among the states, was placed under state supervision to some extent yesterday when a new law covering well drilling went into effect. Meanwhile representatives of seven other oil producing states were preparing to meet in Oklahoma City, Okla., today to study methods of curbing production and opposing price slashes for crude oil. [Story in adjoining column.]

Illinois' oil output is not subject to regulation such as exists in other states including Texas, the nation's largest producing state.

Under the new regulations in Illinois, enacted by the last legislature, the state mines and minerals department is empowered to supervise the drilling of all wells. Permits will now be required from the state for the sinking of a well for the recovery of oil, gas, water, or for any other purpose.

Requires Log for Each Well.

The driller is required to file a log of each well with the state geological survey at Urbana within thirty days after the completion of the well, and must also furnish cores or drill cuttings upon the survey's request.

All abandoned wells must be sealed and plugged under the supervision of a representative of the department of mines and minerals according to the new law. Persons who fail to apply for a drilling permit and who fail to seal and plug an abandoned well are subject to a penalty of $1,000 for each violation. Additional penalties of $500 for each ten days which the violation continues may be imposed.

The state department of mines and minerals has named fourteen mine inspectors for the supervision of the sealing and plugging of abandoned wells in the various counties throughout the state.

Current price problems within the oil industry, resulting in the shutdown of Texas wells, are attributed at least in part to the growing output in Illinois. The latest report of the state geological survey shows that production is at the most rapid rate in the state's history. Production in the first eight months of 1939 will more than double that for the entire year of 1938, if the current rate is maintained through August, according to the state survey.

The state geological office at Urbana said that Illinois' participation in meetings of the interstate oil compact commission consisted to date of "the rôle of a spectator." Dr. A. H. Bell of the geological department of the state division of registration and education, attended the compact commission's last meeting, but was not expected to go to Oklahoma City today. Dr. Bell was on vacation, it was said.

Michigan to Be Represented.

Representatives of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, Arkansas, Michigan, and Colorado, however, were expected to attend the Oklahoma City meeting. These states, along with Illinois, make up the commission's membership.

A committee of Illinois legislators, headed by Representative Oral P. Tuttle [R., Harrisburg], reported to the state legislature in May that oil fields within the state needed no regulatory legislation at present. There was no overproduction of oil within the state and no such prospect in the near future, the committee reported to the assembly. Its findings were based on a lengthy series of hearings, which included testimony of opposing factions.

VARIETY STORES SALES IN JULY EXCEED YEAR AGO

July sales of variety stores were about 3 per cent above the dollar volume of sales in July, 1938, the department of commerce reported yesterday. The decline from June to July was less than seasonal. The dollar volume of total sales for the first seven months of 1939 was about 4 per cent larger than in the comparable period last year.

Westinghouse Electric Bonus 8 Pct. This Month

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP).—Approximately 43,000 employés of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will share an 8 per cent adjusted compensation or "bonus" this month, the company announced today. The "bonus," paid each month, varies in accordance with net earnings of the preceding three months, which in this case were $3,546,186. The adjusted compensation to all employés last month was 10 per cent.

RAILS BAN CCC PRIVILEGE PLEA ON STORED CORN

Refuse Cheap Rates, Free Bin Sites.

There were two developments yesterday in the government's program for the handling of an expected 150,000,000 bushels of corn which are to be turned over to the Agricultural Adjustment administration by farmers in the next ninety days in payment of government loans. These developments were:

C. E. Johnston explains why rails refused CCC plea for free leases and cut in freight rates.

1. Refusal by the railroads to grant the Commodity Credit corporation free leases for sites for steel corn bins on railroad property and to allow reduced freight charges for transporting the bins. The CCC handled the corn loans for the AAA.

2. Regional directors of the AAA from 10 middle western states met yesterday in Chicago to discuss plans for handling the corn.

Rails Refuse CCC Request.

C. E. Johnston, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, announced that the association, to which the western and southwestern roads belong, at a meeting in Chicago on Friday refused the request of the CCC for special consideration in the handling of the bins. The association's decison was set forth in a resolution which was concurred in by the eastern and southeastern roads.

The railroads explained that their financial position made it impossible for them to make concessions to the CCC. They also said many of the New York Bonds.

New York, Aug. 14 (AP).—The bond market tilted upward today, closing with gains of fractions to two or more points. Rail, industrial, utility, and foreign dollar issues all joined in the advance.

Dealings were small—only $2,952,700, face value—the lightest for a full session since July 3.

Bonds which were fractions to two points higher at the close included Delaware and Hudson refunding 4s at 57½, Illinois Central 4¼s at 46¾, Southern Pacific 4½s of 1968 at 45, American and Foreign Power 5s at 60½, Commonwealth Edison 3½s at 122¼, Western Union 5s of 1960 at 72¼, and Studebaker 6s at 92¼.

United States government issues finished 6-32 of a point higher to 1-32 lower.

Chicago Stocks.

The price trend on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday was upward, and five issues reached new high levels for the year. Of eighty-eight issues traded, forty-seven closed higher, twenty declined, and twenty-one finished unchanged.

Noblitt Sparks reached a new 1939 peak of 30¼ and closed at the day's best, up ¼ point from the preceding close. Commonwealth Edison was the volume leader, closing ⅝ point higher on turnover of 1,400 shares. Middle West gained ¼ point on sales of 1,350 shares.

Included in the list of new highs were Allied Laboratories, up ¼; Central Illinois Securities, up ⅝, and Kentucky Utilities 6 per cent preferred, up ¼ point. Marshall Field moved up ¾ point.

BRITAIN, FRANCE DOUBT WAR NOW, CHILDS ASSERTS

England Through Giving In to Hitler, He Thinks.

Leading financiers and bankers in France and England declare "there will be no war" at this time, C. F. Childs, head of C. F. Childs & Co., said yesterday. Childs, whose firm is one of the largest dealers in United States government securities, has just returned from a European trip during which he talked to many business and financial leaders in England, France, and other countries.

C. F. Childs.

His own observations, Childs said, did not make him so optimistic as to the prospect of maintaining peace.

"It is my feeling that while every one says there will be no war, Childs said, "there is much wishful thinking in that. Even if there is no war, the alternative of rearming, which is costing Britain alone 10 million dollars a day, will promote national bankruptcy for many nations most concerned.

Says Britain Would Fight.

"Anyhow, there isn't a doubt in my mind but that England is all through truckling to Fuehrer Hitler, and regardless of cost and taxation, is going to fight whenever he wants it or invites it."

Discussing France, Childs said he found no signs of nervousness in that country. On the contrary, he said, a rather confident attitude prevailed. He asserted he saw no troops in France. He was told that two large French freighters are used exclusively to carry nothing but American planes to France.

The only thing he noticed that was not normal in France was the absence of tourists, and particularly Americans. Seldom has Paris appeared to be so deserted, he said.

Reports French Taxes Heavy.

Childs said that the French people are the victims of burdensome taxation resulting from government expenditures. The government exacts a heavy tax on persons signing leases, he said, with the result that many of the middle and lower classes are finding it cheaper to live in hotels than to rent flats or houses.

Among the opinions on the war outlook, as given by leading Britons, Childs listed the following:

1. "Britain is convinced that it is strong enough to meet Germany now and that within six months it will be stronger and will have more airplanes.

2. "Hitler knows that if he goes to war the army will take over the government and he will be through. He also knows that the German people do not want war.

3. "We are almost itching for a scrap and we would rather have it now than prolong this state of affairs. We can't get a living while uncertainty demoralizes business."

No War, Says Bache.

New York, Aug. 14 (AP).—Jules Bache, the financier, returned today from a three month stay in Europe and told reporters that "Hitler is a highly intelligent man, although he is a little bit crazy as we all are."

Bache said Hitler is the last person in the world who would profit by a war, and added "he is the only one who could declare it." Hitler, he said, "has 80,000,000 Germans in his pocket and doesn't want to lose them to gain another 300,000," meaning those in Danzig.

Bache said he had been resting "and watching the world worry about a war which is not going to happen."

BUSINESS DONE BY CHECK DROPS 24 PCT. IN WEEK

Check transactions in the seventh federal reserve district in the week ended Aug. 9 declined 24.2 per cent from the preceding week's level, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Debits to individual deposit accounts of 159 banks in forty-one leading clearing house cities in the district totaled $961,659,000, against $1,268,106,000 in the preceding week. The latest week's total represented a gain of 12.3 per cent over the total of $856,617,000 in the corresponding week last year.

For Chicago banks alone the total was $550,716,000, compared with $740,851,000 the week before and $499,283,000 in the corresponding week last year.

BUSINESS BITS

Ben L. Frank, formerly of Chicago, has been named vice president of the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, Cal. Frank at one time was connected with the College Inn in Chicago. He went to Los Angeles in 1921.

John P. Turner, chief clerk in the passenger division office of the Wabash railroad at Chicago for the last twelve years, has been promoted to city passenger agent at Kansas City.

Leon E. Poore, district passenger agent for the Pennsylvania railroad in St. Paul, Minn., was awarded a gold service button for fifty years of employment with the road. C. E. McCullough, general passenger agent in Chicago, made the presentation at a luncheon attended by officials of the system.

Appointment of Paul H. Jordan of Lincoln, Neb., as assistant regional director of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation was announced by the department of agriculture. Jordan will have headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis.

down their fields, but that regardless of their action, Texas will keep its wells closed. He said that because Texas is by far the biggest producer, it should lead the way.

Suspects "Plot" on Prices.

"Closing the wells in this state for fifteen days should give us a chance to reappraise the whole situation," Thompson said. "We have a suspicion that some people are low on oil, and that they are attempting to break prices and rob Texas."

The price of crude was cut from about $1.10 to 90c a barrel in the Texas area last week.

Indications that some operators may oppose the shutdown appeared when one independent producer said he will seek an injunction on the ground that the order did not involve a question of waste. He said the commission had no authority to order the closing on the basis of price.

Won't Affect Employment.

About 100,000 persons are employed in the production phase of Texas' oil industry, but the shutdown will not affect this employment, members of the Texas railroad commission, which controls the flow of oil from the wells, asserted.

They said wells require about as much attention when shut down as when in operation.

Smith said that if the fifteen day shutdown is not effective in ending price cutting, the order probably will be extended.

GOODYEAR.

I would appreciate a report on Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.—F. C.

Answer: Goodyear Tire and Rubber company is the largest producer of rubber products in the world. About 75 per cent of total income comes from the sale of tires, tubes, and accessories. In common with other tire manufacturers, larger profit margins are derived from replacement than from original equipment business.

The company's policy on various rubber products has been somewhat different than that of competitive organizations. There are innumerable products in this field [B. F. Goodrich company manufactures 2,200 items], but Goodyear has concentrated on a relatively few lines where business volume is large. This permits economy in manufacture and distribution.

As with other rubber manufacturers, research is an important part of Goodyear's business. About $1,000,000 is spent yearly for research and development. Among products introduced in recent years are "Airfoam," a cushioning material for upholstery, and "Pliofilm," a transparent moisture proof material.

Only in 1932 among recent years did Goodyear fail to show a profit. Earnings have varied quite widely, however, on a year to year basis. In 1932, 1933, and 1934 nothing was earned on the common stock. The following table gives net income, earnings a common share, and dividends a common share in recent years:

1934	4,287,684	d 0.66	.....
1935	5,452,240	0.12	.....
1936	10,831,032	3.90	.....
1937	7,257,287	1.95	$2.50
1938	6,012,423	1.34	0.25

Net income for the first six months of this year totaled $3,610,595, equal to 95 cents a common share, against $1,669,828, or 2 cents a common share, in the same period last year. The company has declared common dividends totaling 75 cents a share so far this year.

At Dec. 31, 1938, there was outstanding $50,234,756 in funded debt of Goodyear and its subsidiaries. Preceding the common stock in the capitalization were 650,432 outstanding shares of $5 cumulative no par preferred stock. This stock is currently convertible into common at $40 a share. There were 2,059,169 shares of no par common stock outstanding at Dec. 31, 1938.

Goodyear has maintained a satisfactory financial position. At Dec. 31, 1938, current assets were $106,121,405, including $16,486,740 in cash. Current liabilities totaled $9,142,000. This left net working capital of $96,979,405.

Dividends have been paid regularly on the $5 preferred stock since issuance in 1936. On the old $7 preferred stock, retired in 1937, dividends were paid at a reduced rate from 1933 to 1936 inclusive. All arrears were cleared at retirement.

The $5 preferred deserves a good rating, and the conversion factor gives it some speculative appeal. The common is considered a fair speculative stock.

RAILS BAN CCC PRIVILEGE PLEA FOR STORED CORN

Refuse Cheap Rates and Free Bin Sites.

corn bins would compete with private storage facilities, which made it unfair to existing railroad customers for the roads to grant free leases.

Johnston also disclosed the terms under which sites for steel bins will be leased. The bins are to be located in a way to avoid duplication of existing country warehouse facilities which are being made available for the storage of the corn.

No Favoritism for CCC.

Standard contracts which have just been prepared by the carriers grant to the CCC substantially the same treatment as that afforded to the operators of privately owned or cooperatively owned grain storage facilities. These contracts provide for a rental of $10 a year for each location occupied by not more than two steel bins of not more than 2,000 bushels capacity each, plus $3 per year for each additional bin of not more than 2,000 bushels capacity.

The CCC had requested the railroads to give it the free use of railroad property for the location of these bins, for reduced rates for the transportation of the bins and for the elimination of demurrage charges in connection with the transportation of the bins to their destinations. [Demurrage charges are penalties added for extra time for loading or unloading cars.]

Johnston Explains Action.

"The railroads are always glad to coöperate with the government in every way possible," Johnston said, "but in the present instance, when the carriers incurred a net loss of $123,000,000 last year, we are hardly in a position to grant the request of the corporation for favored treatment. Of equal importance, too, is the fact that in some instances, at least, these governmental storage facilities may be directly competitive with similar facilities privately or coöperatively owned. Under such circumstances any preference or discrimination granted in favor of the government would adversely affect these interests.

"In justice both to the railroad industry and to the owners of already established grain storage facilities, who may meet with government competition, the carriers have decided that the situation demands the extension to the CCC of only existing standard leasehold agreements for commercial purposes."

Discuss Corn Storage.

The AAA representatives met at the Morrison hotel. Spokesmen for the group said the problem of setting up government owned corn bins to care for the grain that the farmers will turn over to the government was discussed. The discussions will be resumed at another meeting today.

The AAA last week awarded contracts for the construction of 25,500 steel bins, which will be set up through the corn belt to house the grain the government will take over.

The bins purchased by the government have a total capacity of 43,279,000 bushels of shelled corn and will cost a total of $3,611,520. The manufacturing companies that were given the contracts are expected to begin making shipments of the new bins within the next few days. It was indicated that the first bins will be located in central Iowa.

Storage Capacity Below Needs.

The storage capacity provided by the government owned steel bins will house only about one-third of the amount of corn which farmers are expected to turn over to the government, according to information from various sections of the corn belt.

The total amount of corn held under government seal as collateral for loans is 257 million bushels. Of this amount, grain men estimate, farmers will be forced to turn over at least 150 million bushels to the government because of the lack of storage space on the farms.

The AAA has been urging farmers to extend their loans for another year offering as an inducement a 7 cent a bushel allowance for storage charges. Most farmers, however, do not have the space to take care of the grain in addition to the crop which will be harvested this fall. The storage allowance is not sufficient in most cases to finance the erection of new cribs and bins.

Surrender Large Percentage.

Reports received yesterday from Decatur, Ill., the center of one of the richest producing sections in the state, indicated that farmers in the area will turn over to the government about 75 per cent of the corn under seal. The Baldwin Elevator company of Decatur estimated that the surrenders wil run at least that high. Reports from McLean county indicated that the percentage will be as high in that section.

About two-thirds of the 1938 corn pledged for government loans is held on Illinois and Iowa farms. Minnesota and Nebraska have about 35 million bushels under seal. Most of the Iowa corn also will be turned in payment of the loans, it is indicated.

The loans on the 1938 crop, made at the rate of 57 cents a bushel, matured Aug. 1. Farmers have until Oct. 1 to decide whether they will accept the government extension offer.

Early Reports on Freight Indicate Decline in Week

Early reports on railway freight car loadings in the week ended last Saturday indicated that a decline from the preceding week's total of 661,136 cars will be reported when final tabulations are received.

Railway freight car loadings reported yesterday for the week ended Aug. 12 were:

MEMBER BANKS LEND MORE FOR BUSINESS USE

Gain Is 30 Millions in Latest Week.

Commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans by member banks of the Federal Reserve system in the week ended Aug. 9 were larger than the preceding week the federal reserve board announced yesterday. These loans decreased in the week ended Aug. 2 after having shown increases in each of the five preceding weeks.

Total Exceeds Year Ago.

Member banks in 101 leading cities reported commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans in the latest week rose 30 million dollars to 3,917 million dollars. This was an increase of 28 million dollars as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Real estate loans increased 2 million dollars over the preceding week to a total of 1,170 million dollars, and were 11 million dollars above the figure for the corresponding week a year ago.

RAILROADS SHOW VARYING TRENDS IN 1939 REVENUE

North Western Loss Cut; Santa Fe Net Drops.

Several major railroads reported yesterday on earnings for June and the first half of 1939. The results were too varied to indicate a trend.

The Chicago and North Western reported a net loss for June of $874,117, compared with $1,151,197 a year earlier. For the six months ended June 30 net loss declined to $9,279,936 from $11,143,611.

Loss of the Milwaukee road during the first half of 1939 declined to $11,298,024 from $12,140,063 in the first six months of last year. In June, however, the road's loss amounted to $2,315,077, against $2,215,095 in June, 1938.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe had a June net income of $1,347,348, compared with $2,976,169 in June, 1938. For the six months net loss rose to $3,137,210 from $2,968,286 in the similar period last year.

FOREIGN SILVER QUOTED HIGHER FOR THIRD DAY

Premium Increased Over Treasury's Price.

Foreign silver was quoted at a higher level by New York bullion dealers yesterday for the third consecutive day. This advance sent the price to 35⅝ cents an ounce, up ⅜ cent over Saturday's level. It also increased to ⅝ cent the premium quoted over the United States treasury's price for the white metal.

Imported silver went to a premium over the treasury's price last week for the first time since 1937. The treasury department meanwhile has held its offering price at the 35 cent level. Quotations yesterday in London, the world market for the metal, rose to the equivalent of 36.20 cents an ounce. This was ⅛ cent over last week's closing price.

In foreign exchange transactions at New York, the Dutch guilder advanced 0.08 cent in terms of the dollar, closing at 53.65 cents. Other principal European currencies were unchanged.

An estimated $11,300,000 of foreign gold arrived over the week-end at New York. This included an official Dutch shipment of about $6,300,000 to the New York Federal Reserve bank. Meanwhile, the bank reported gold totaling $1,468,000 was engaged in England for shipment to this country.

Treasury Bills Bring Rate Equal to 0.032 Per Cent

The treasury department announced last night that the $100,000,000 of 91 day treasury bills dated Aug. 16 and offered Aug. 11, were sold at an average bid of 99.992. This was equivalent to borrowing at an interest rate of 0.032 per cent.

This is not an offering prospectus. The offer of these securities is made only by the offering prospectus which, however, does not constitute an offer by any underwriter to sell these securities in any state to any person to whom it is unlawful for such underwriter to make such offer in such state.

This issue, though registered, is not approved or disapproved by the Securities and Exchange Commission, which does not pass on the merits of any registered securities.

$30,000,000

Union Oil Company of California

3% Debentures, due August 1, 1959

The following is a brief outline of certain information contained in the offering prospectus and is subject to the more detailed statements in such prospectus and in the registration statement, which also include important information not outlined or indicated herein. The offering prospectus, which must be furnished to each purchaser, should be read prior to any purchase of the Debentures.

THE COMPANY: Union Oil Company of California, incorporated in 1890 under the laws of California, is engaged in substantially all branches of the oil business, including the acquisition and development of prospective and proven oil lands; the production, purchase, transportation and sale of crude oil and natural gasoline; the refining of crude oil; the production, treatment and sale of natural gas; and the manufacture, transportation, and wholesale and retail marketing of petroleum products. Its business is conducted chiefly on the Pacific Coast, particularly in California. To a small extent operations are carried on through subsidiaries. The Company intends to continue in business of the general character outlined above, except that it has recently decided to increase its exploration and production activities outside of California.

The Company owns or leases properties, mostly located in California, consisting chiefly of oil lands and oil wells, pipe lines and storage systems, tankships, tank cars and marine terminals, refineries and natural gasoline plants, and wholesale and retail marketing stations.

EARNINGS: The following tabulation relating to the income account of the Company and its subsidiaries consolidated, prepared by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., independent public accountants, is condensed from the income account which is a part of the financial statements included in the offering prospectus. Such financial statements, the notes appended thereto, and the certificate of such accountants with respect thereto, all appearing in the offering prospectus, should be read in conjunction with the following tabulation, to all of which such tabulation is subject:

	1936	1937	1938	Five Months ended May 31, 1939

Net income	$ 6,133,398	$12,061,332	$ 6,862,758	$ 2,148,934

CAPITALIZATION: The amounts of funded debt and capital stock of the Company, outstanding as of May 31, 1939, were as follows:

Twenty Year Six Per Cent Bonds, Series A, due May 1, 1942	$ 8,018,500
Fifteen-Year 3½% Debentures, due January 1, 1952	10,000,000
Capital Stock, par value $25 per share	4,666,270 shs.*

* 300,000 additional shares are reserved for issuance upon exercise, prior to January 1, 1940, of the conversion privileges of the 3½% Debentures.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: A portion ($20,066,553) of the net proceeds from the sale of the Debentures is to be applied to the redemption on January 1, 1940, at 105½% and accrued interest, of all outstanding 3½% Debentures and to the payment of principal of, and interest to maturity on, the Six Per Cent Bonds, due May 1, 1942 (which are not redeemable prior to maturity). In order to provide for such redemption or payment, cash or short term obligations of the United States Government will be deposited with the Trustees for the 3½% Debentures and the Six Per Cent Bonds, respectively.

No specific allocation of the balance of the net proceeds, amounting to approximately $10,077,469, exclusive of accrued interest (after deduction of expenses payable by the Company, estimated at $155,978), has been or is intended to be made. Such balance is initially to become a part of the Company's general funds, and as such may be used for such purposes as the management may from time to time determine. The Company intends to make capital expenditures of substantial amounts in accordance with a general program to extend and modernize its production, refining, marine transportation and marketing facilities; such expenditures may involve the acquisition or development of patent rights. The Company makes no representation that any particular expenditures will be made and may determine to apply such balance to other corporate purposes deemed in the interest of the Company, depending on developments which are not now predictable.

3% DEBENTURES: The Debentures are to be issued under a Trust Agreement between the Company and Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, as Trustee. The Debentures are to be dated August 1, 1939 and are to be due August 1, 1959; interest is to be payable on February 1 and August 1; principal and interest are to be payable in Los Angeles and New York. The Trust Agreement is not to authorize the issuance of any additional securities thereunder, but is not to restrict the creation, assumption or guarantee of unsecured indebtedness by the Company; the Debentures are not to be secured, but the Company is to covenant that it will not create any secured indebtedness (with certain exceptions) without providing that the Debentures shall be secured equally and ratably therewith, and that it will not permit any Controlled Company (as defined) to create any secured indebtedness (with certain exceptions), unless the instrument evidencing such indebtedness is owned by the Company or a Controlled Company; all as to be more fully provided in the Trust Agreement.

SINKING FUND AND REDEMPTION PROVISIONS: The Company is to covenant in the Trust Agreement that it will pay to the Trustee cash in an amount sufficient to redeem on August 1, 1942 and each August 1 thereafter, $1,100,000 principal amount of Debentures, provided, however, that the Company shall be credited with any Debentures not previously credited thereon which the Company shall have deposited with the Trustee for cancellation.

The Debentures are to be redeemable at the option of the Company, as a whole, or in part by lot,

CALIFORNIA UNION OIL'S 30 MILLION ISSUE ON MARKET

3½ Per Cent Debentures Will Be Redeemed.

Public offering will be made today of a $30,000,000 issue of Union Oil Company of California 3 per cent twenty year debentures, priced at 103. Dillon, Read & Co. heads the selling group.

Of the proceeds, $20,066,553 will be used for redemption on Jan. 1, 1940, at 105½, of the outstanding fifteen year 3½ per cent debentures, and for payment of interest to maturity on the 6 per cent bonds due May 1, 1942. The latter issue is not redeemable before maturity. The rest of the proceeds may be used for expansion.

May Build Tankship.

The company is considering the construction of a new $1,900,000 tankship, a $1,250,000 plant at Los Angeles, Cal., and a new $750,000 unit at the Oleum refinery, San Francisco bay.

A syndicate headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co. was the successful bidder for the $7,000,000 refinancing bond issue of the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis. P. J. Watson Jr., president of Terminal, said the issue sold above par, but he did not announce the purchase price. Interest was fixed at 3⅜ per cent. The issue, which will mature July 1, 1974, replaces bonds bearing 4½ per cent. The latter will mature Oct. 1, 1939.

The state of California awarded a new issue of $3,817,753 of general fund registered warants on a 4 per cent basis to Kaiser & Co. and Weeden & Co., both of San Francisco.

Rates Recently High.

The warants will be dated Aug. 18, 1939, and will be payable on or about May 28, 1940. The bid is in line with the high rates charged recently on short term California borrowing.

The Harris Trust and Savings bank of Chicago was awarded a new issue of $300,000 of Yellowstone county, Mont., school district No. 2 bonds. The bank bid 100.11, naming the interest rate as 2 per cent. The bonds are dated Sept. 1, 1939, and will be due from March 1, 1940, to 1954.

Bids are sought by Hammond, Ind., sanitary district on a new issue of $300,000 of bonds, dated Sept. 1, 1939, and due serially from Jan. 1, 1941, to 1970. The sale will be held Aug. 24.

SEC Ordered to Appear in R-K-O Reorganization

New York, Aug. 14 [Special].—Federal Judge William Bondy today signed an order in the Radio-Keith Orpheum reorganization proceedings ruling that "the Securities and Exchange commission be and hereby is requested to file its notice of appearance within five days of the date hereof," or by Aug. 19. The SEC complied immediately with the order. Since the reorganization plan has been approved by Judge Bondy and upheld in the Circuit court, it is indicated that he has requested the SEC to file its appearance in view of the proposed underwriting of new R-K-O shares by Atlas corporation.

78 MILLION CHECK CEREMONY TODAY ENDS TVA BATTLE

Tennessee Properties to Change Hands.

New York, Aug. 14 (AP).—Officials of Tennessee cities, public utilities, the Tennessee Valley authority and New York banks were here tonight prepared for the ceremony which will end the five year contest between publicly and privately owned electric power in Tennessee.

Wendell L. Willkie.

Meeting tomorrow morning with Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation, they will exchange leases and $78,425,095 in checks. The leases will make the TVA and associated municipalities and local bodies joint owners of the electric properties of the Tennessee Electric Power company. Tennessee Electric is a subsidiary of Commonwealth and Southern.

Price Low, Says Willkie.

While preparations for the ceremony were being completed Willkie, in an advertisment appearing tonight in a Nashville paper, said the Tennessee Electric property was sold "for about four-fifths of its real value" because "we could not stay in business and compete with virtually tax free and heavily subsidized plants."

Willkie expressed gratitude to friends and associates in Tennessee and said he hoped that "they will never be required to defend a business of their own against government subsidized competition."

"We have always believed and still believe," the statement said, "that the interests of the public are better served by privately operated utilities than by publicly operated plants."

Follows Bitter Struggle.

The transfer of the electric properties follows a bitter struggle between adherents of public and private ownership. Last Feb. 4 an agreement was reached after conferences between Willkie and J. A. Krug, chief power engineer of the TVA.

Previously, the federal authority had offered $55,000,000 for the Tennessee company and the higher final price was regarded as a substantial allowance for a liquidating dividend on the common stock. The stock was valued at $17,794,000 and 99 per cent held by Commonwealth and Southern. The agreement was the first in which the federal government recognized the equity behind common stock in a public utility system purchase.

Largest Check $44,728,800.

The largest check made out for payment tomorrow is the TVA's $44,728,300. Nashville is ready with a check for $14,311,200 and Chattanooga is prepared to pay $10,850,000. Other smaller checks are involved.

Justice Kenneth O'Brien of the New York State Supreme court cleared away a last minute obstacle to the transfers late in the afternoon when he denied an application by two holders of Tennessee Electric bonds. They asked payment of the full redemption price of $105 per $100 face amount for their securities. Attorneys said most of the bondholders had approved the sale plan providing for payment of $100.

OCTOBER EGGS INCUR SHARPEST BREAK OF YEAR

October egg futures incurred the sharpest break of the year yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Prices were swept down 0.95 cent a dozen at one time as longs unloaded heavily and the turnover swelled to 4,740,000 dozens, the largest of 1939. Stop-loss selling appeared on the decline and accentuated the market's weakness, which carried prices to new six year lows for August. The close was down 0.80 cent at 16.95 cents a dozen.

Fear of heavy production this fall, confirmed by liberal fresh egg marketings and reports that August production was 1 per cent larger than a year ago and 3 per cent above normal, inspired the selling, brokers reported.

New arrivals in Chicago yesterday totaled 11,689 cases, compared with 7,107 a year ago and 11,058 a week ago. The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation bought 25,500 dozens here and over 71,000 dozens of fresh eggs in New York to support the cash market.

November butter lost 0.05 cent a pound at 23.85 cents in a listless market. The Dairy Products Marketing association purchases in the two major markets totaled 330,000 pounds of cash butter.

HOME LOAN BANK JULY ADVANCES NEAR 1939 PEAK

July was the second largest month this year in advances by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, according to the monthly report sent to the federal board at Washington yesterday. The $592,200 disbursed last month, although only a little over one-third of the record June total, was more than twice the average monthly amount placed from January through May. Its gain over July of 1938 was 68 per cent.

A. R. Gardner, president of the bank, attributed the lending level's advance over last year to the pick-up in business conditions.

Total loans outstanding are now $26,764,067, a reduction of $4,700,000 from this time last year and about $1,200,000 less than at the end of July, 1937.

STEEL OUTPUT RISES TO 62.1%; RATE BEST SINCE NOV. 14, 1938

Activity in the steel industry this week will top last week's level by 2 points, or 3.3 per cent, with operations scheduled at 62.1 per cent of capacity, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported yesterday. The new rate is the highest since Nov. 14, 1938, when the rate was 62.6 per cent.

A month ago operations were at 56.4 per cent of capacity, a gain of 6.7 points from the preceding week. A year ago the rate was 40.4 per cent, up 1 point from the preceding week.

35,000 See First Night Game in Chicago Major League Baseball History—White Sox Defeat Browns, 5 to 2

Start of first game under lights in Chicago's major league baseball history, with the White Sox in the field in the first inning and the St. Louis Browns at bat. A crowd of 35,000 saw the after dark inaugural in newly lighted Comiskey park. Pitcher John Rigney of River Forest led his teammates to victory over the Browns by a score of 5 to 2. The size of the crowd was considered an endorsement of night games, especially in view of the ordinarily poor drawing power of Browns.
